Officer Cites East End Man After Mishap

Minister's Son, 9, Unhurt As Bicycle Collides With Car

An East End man was cited on a charge of reckless driving after a two-way traffic mishap Sunday at 10:30 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. 20 feet east of Sylvan St.

He is Charles Curtis, 1232 Harker Ave., whose 1957 sedan allegedly hit a parked 1961 sedan operated by Edna M. Oakes, 35, of 2115 Michigan Ave.

Patrolman W. F. Copestick said the woman driver reported she was seated in her car and heard a squeal of brakes just before her auto was hit in the rear. Curtis reported that the woman's auto backed into his car, police said.

Curtis was convicted by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on the reckless driving count and a second charge of failing to obey the lawful order of a police officer.

However, sentencing was continued until June 2. He was represented by Atty. Jackman Vodrey.

Patrolman Copestick testified that Curtis was arrested for failing to obey a patrolman's order after Lt. C. E. (Bill) Tice had ordered the defendant to pull his car into the curb and out of the traffic lane after the mishap.

However, Curtis drove to his home on Harker Ave., the officer testified, adding that he followed in a cruiser but was unable to halt the defendant until he had pulled his car into the yard at his home.

A minister's son escaped unhurt when his bicycle collided with a halted auto Sunday at 1 p. m. on Virginia Ave. at Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

He is Randall Williams, 9, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Williams, 1095 Pennsylvania Ave., whose bicycle collided with a 1959 four-door sedan operated by Emery Brewer, 37, of 445 1st Ave., police said. Rev. Williams is minister of the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church.

Brewer told police he was headed north on Virginia Ave. and halted at the junction of Pennsylvania Ave. when the boy on the bicycle, riding west on Pennsylvania Ave., turned south onto Virginia Ave. and ran into the right front door of his car. The boy told Patrolman Orin C. Smith he turned too short while rounding the corner.

Brewer took the boy to his

100 Drown As Ferry Overturns In Malawi

BLANTYRE, Malawi (AP) — A ferry boat overturned on the Shire River Sunday night, drowning about 100 people, police announced. There were 52 known survivors.

Police said there were about 150 passengers aboard the ferry. They had attended a political rally at Fort Johnston. The accident happened about 130 miles north of Zomza.

Truce Continues

Brazilian Heads Dominican Force

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Brazilian Gen. Hugo Panasco Alvim was named to command the Inter-American Peace Force in the Dominican Republic Sunday night as the truce in Santo Domingo continued.

U.S. Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer was named deputy commander of the force in which U.S. Marines and paratroopers will outnumber Latin Americans 10 to 1. Palmer commands the American forces who landed here after the Dominican revolt on April 24.

First units of a 1,250-man Brazilian force were due in Santo Domingo today, to join small units from Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

The United States said it would withdraw about 1,700 troops as soon as the Brazilians arrived and that further American men would be withdrawn in proportion to the number of Latin-American troops sent. These are eventually expected to total 2,000.

The Inter-American Peace Force—the first such group in the history of the Western Hemisphere — was created Sunday night by the Organization of American States.

The OAS said its pupose will be to cooperate in the "restoration of normal conditions in the Dominican Republic" and to assist in creating "an atmosphere of peace and conciliation that will permit the functioning of democratic institutions."

The act creating the force was signed by OAS Secretary-General Jose A. Mora, Col. Carlos de Meira Mattos for Brazil, Lt. Col. Alvaro Arias for Costa Rica, Maj. Policarpo Paz Garcia for Honduras, Col. Julio Gutierrez Rivera for Nicaragua and Gen. Palmer for the United States.

Mora said the objectives for which the force was created come within the "broad provisions of the (OAS) charter which are concerned with matters affecting the peace and security of the hemisphere."

The OAS also announced it had worked out an informal cease-fire between the two warring factions. A 24-hour truce it arranged to evacuate dead and wounded expired at noon Saturday, but fighting did not resume.

An OAS spokesman said the rebel leader, Col Francisco Caamano Deno, and the junta chief, Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, had agreed not to open fire unless attacked.

The cease-fire seemed to be working, and Sunday was one of the quietest days in Santo Domingo since the outbreak of the revolt that toppled the government of Donald Reid Cabral.

The military situation reached a stalemate last week after junta troops broke rebel resistance in the city's northern suburbs. This left the rebels in control of a downtown area 12 city blocks long and 8 blocks wide cordoned off by U.S. troops. The United States has ordered its troops not to allow either side across its lines.

"The military civil war is over," said one diplomat here, "but the civil war will continue in politics."

Imbert said in a radio speech that the rebels were facing "rapid exhaustion."

'Hops' Scotches Bullfrog Foes In Do-Or-Die Leap

ANGEL'S CAMP, Calif. (AP) — Spiced with international intrigue, the centennial of the Calaveras County Jumping Frog Contest ended Sunday night with more than 50,000 frog watchers watching.

For the over-all winner, a big bullfrog named "Hops" from Lafayette, Calif., it was literally a case of do or die.

"We don't eat them if they win," said Hop's co-owner Leonard Hall, a frog-raising lover of frog legs who is $300 richer because of the champion's 14-foot-9-inch leap.

Mark Twain, who immortalized the jumping frog competition in the sleepy little Sierra foothills town 100 years ago, would have gotten a giggle out of the international complications Sunday.

Only one of the three entries in the foreign frog contest got off the ground.

"The Swedish entries turned out to be toads," said a contest spokesman, "and the Filipino frogs didn't show up."

That left the foreign contest with only a black-and-white amphibian named "Impala" from South Africa, owned by Piem Fourie and T. Botha, who come from Germiston. Naturally, he won, with a leap of 11 feet 5 inches.

Angel's Camp, which normally has about 1,800 inhabitants, was an amiable madhouse over the weekend. Residents welcomed visitors by hanging out their wash.

The normal peace and quiet of the fairgrounds were shattered by 10 high school bands, Scottish bagpipers, beauty contests, vaudeville shows, fireworks and all the hoopla of a few circuses.

Frog owners kept to themselves. They regard their training methods as "top secret." At the fateful moment, a frog is placed in the center of a measured circle preparatory to the jump. Owners station themselves on the rim.

The frog has only 15 seconds to make his jump. Owners, who

CORE Sets Rights Test In Bogalusa

Mayor Promises Segregation's End, 2 Whites Arrested

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — The Congress of Racial Equality says it plans a quick test of segregation laws which the mayor has promised to wipe out.

Michael Jones, CORE's program director here, said a small group of Negroes would go into the city park this afternoon. The park was the scene of racial violence last week in this papermill town which the Ku Klux Klan claims it dominates.

Mayor Jesse H. Cutrer Jr. said the park will not be open.

"Because of tensions built up by CORE and the incident in the park," Cutrer said, "the parks are closed and will remain closed indefinitely."

The mayor said his pledge to lower racial barriers applied to "normal circumstances." He said circumstances are not normal now.

In an interview after announcing his decision to end segregation laws, Cutrer said, "I have to do what I think is right for the community and not worry about it."

"You can't let those on the fringe lead," said Cutrer, 50, in the interview. "You have to work for the people in the middle.

"All I can see, otherwise, is chaos and violence and killing. I can't buy that."

Two white Bogalusa residents were arrested early Sunday and charged with trying to burn the Negro church where civil rights leader James Farmer spoke Sunday night.

After Farmer's speech, Ed Hollander, a Congress of Racial Equality field secretary, said a carload of whites fired at four Negroes leaving the rally in an auto. Police said they found nothing to substantiate the report.

Segregation laws "are not constitutional and cannot be enforced," the mayor told Bogalusa residents in a radio address Sunday night. "In accordance with federal law, your Commis-

Laird Claims U.S. Accepts 'Soviet' Cuba

Congressman Raps Johnson Policy On Latin America Role

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said today permanent existence of a Communist Cuba now appears to be part and parcel of President Johnson's foreign policy.

"No other conclusion seems possible," Laird said, "in light of the President's recent statement that we 'cannot permit the establishment of another Communist government in the Western Hemisphere.'

"If this is, in fact, administration foreign policy, it certainly will not enjoy bipartisan support."

Laird, chairman of the House Republican Conference and a member of the House Appropriations subcommittee which handles defense funds, said unlike some Democrats, Republicans have consistently supported the President in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

Laird expressed hope that U.S. aims and objectives, especially in Latin America and Southeast Asia, won't involve the eventual establishment of coalition governments with Communist elements and backed by U.S. guarantees.

"Our actions now appear to be firm, but our policies are still unclear," he said.

Consultation with the Organization of American States before acting in Latin America was one aspect of what many believed to be firm American policy, Laird said, "yet only notification and no consultation took place before American Marines landed in the Dominican Republic."

It is doubly unfortunate, Laird said, that Johnson applies the same definition of "consultation" to U.S. allies as he apparently does to the Republican congressional leadership.

"The 'consultation' that occurred with members of Congress regarding the President's decision to send Marines into the Dominican Republic occurred approximately one hour after the Marines had landed," he said.

A LaCroft motorcyclist accused of driving while intoxicated was fined and jailed today when he pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Edward J. Emler of 7th Ave. was one of 12 motorists scheduled for hearings this morning on traffic citations.

The 30-year-old father of four children received a fine of $200 and costs, was sentenced to five days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for 60 days.

Represented by Atty. George Aronson, Emler originally had pleaded innocent and a continuance had been granted until June 1. He and his counsel returned to court later and switched his plea to guilty.

Emler was cited late Thursday night at Market St. and Diamond Alley by Patrolman William A. Devon. He had posted a $1,000 property bond for today's hearing.

JUDGE CHERTOFF ordered a bench warrant issued for the arrest of Jack Raneri of Hanoverton R. D. 1, who failed to appear on a charge of making an illegal turn from Washington onto E. 5th St. Friday morning.

Mrs. Bonnie Carole Burdick of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1 was fined $5 and costs after being arrested on the same charge at approximately the same time.

The third motorist cited by Officer Devon, June Louise Morrow of R. D. 3, forfeited a $17.50 bond on the same charge.

Anthony Giovannone of Steubenville was fined $20 and costs after pleading guilty to speeding in excess of 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone May 14 on Route 30. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Kathy Cooper, 328 Vine St., was fined $5 and costs for failing to obey a stop sign at Avondale and North Sts. Saturday afternoon.

First Lady Opens Parley On Beautification Of U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opening the two-day White House conference on natural beauty, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson said today it is important to remind the American people "that the beauty of their land depends on their own initiative and their will."

The President's wife said ugliness is "an eroding force on the people of our land," but one which "every man, woman, and child can attack and contribute to defeating."

The First Lady spoke at a meeting summoned to promote President Johnson's program for making America more beautiful.

It has been reported that before the conference ends it probably will ask Johnson to set up a national council to centralize efforts to carry out the program. One of its first tasks might be a check of federal grants to see if the government is getting its money's worth in beautification projects.

Most of the work for this two-day conference was done beforehand in almost a year of task-force operations. Many recommendations were prepared in advance and many were

Many Killed As Workers Fight Junta

Cabinet Aide Says Conflict Resembles 'Virtual Civil War'

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Bolivian troops battled miners resisting military occupation of the tin mines Sunday night and many miners were reported killed. A Cabinet member said it was "virtual civil war."

Fighting was reported in the southern area of Quechisla, 390 miles south of La Paz. A radio station controlled by the miners in Catavi appealed for a 48-hour truce.

Miners in the Quechisla area were reported to have blown up railroad bridges, interrupting rail traffic with Argentina.

Presidential assistant Fernando Diez de Medina said troops had taken over the mining center at Kami, near the city of Oruro, 140 miles south of La Paz. He said "armed action" will be carried out at all mines of the state-owned Bolivian Mining Corp.

The ruling military junta ordered the army to occupy the mines after striking miners refused to return to work. A government decree declared the mining centers military zones and put all persons under military jurisdiction.

The miners' union proposed a suspension of the strike Sunday night if the government would cancel its mine occupation order and recognize the union's rights, the miners' radio network said in a broadcast. The miners control 10 radio stations.

There was no immediate response from the government.

Before the move on the mines was announced, President Rene Barrientos told newsmen the government would ask the Roman Catholic Church to mediate the conflict with the tin miners. The archbishop of La Paz, Msgr. Abel Antezana, had volunteered to serve as a mediator.

Adviser Dies In Ambushes By Viet Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — An American adviser and 35 South Vietnamese troops were killed in a Viet Cong ambush 150 miles south of Saigon Sunday night, a U.S. spokesman announced. Another American adviser and 25 Vietnamese are missing.

Four other Americans were killed and one was wounded in two ambushes Saturday near Ben Cat and near Song Be. Five South Vietnamese infantrymen were killed at Song Be, 19 were missing and 10 were wounded.

The weekend casualties brought the toll of U.S. combat dead in Viet Nam to 382 since December 1961.

South Vietnamese casualties in the Ben Cat ambush were not reported but were believed heavy.

Military officials said the Americans killed on Saturday were:

Sgt. 1.C. Bernard J. Kelley, son of Lucy C. Kelley, Roslyn, N.Y.

First Lady Opens Parley On Beautification Of U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opening the two-day White House conference on natural beauty, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson said today it is important to remind the American people "that the beauty of their land depends on their own initiative and their will."

The President's wife said ugliness is "an eroding force on the people of our land," but one which "every man, woman, and child can attack and contribute to defeating."

The First Lady spoke at a meeting summoned to promote President Johnson's program for making America more beautiful.

It has been reported that before the conference ends it probably will ask Johnson to set up a national council to centralize efforts to carry out the program. One of its first tasks might be a check of federal grants to see if the government is getting its money's worth in beautification projects.

Most of the work for this two-day conference was done beforehand in almost a year of task-force operations. Many recommendations were prepared in advance and many were

Cabinet Aide Says Conflict Resembles 'Virtual Civil War'

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Bolivian troops battled miners resisting military occupation of the tin mines Sunday night and many miners were reported killed. A Cabinet member said it was "virtual civil war."

Fighting was reported in the southern area of Quechisla, 390 miles south of La Paz. A radio station controlled by the miners in Catavi appealed for a 48-hour truce.

Miners in the Quechisla area were reported to have blown up railroad bridges, interrupting rail traffic with Argentina.

Presidential assistant Fernando Diez de Medina said troops had taken over the mining center at Kami, near the city of Oruro, 140 miles south of La Paz. He said "armed action" will be carried out at all mines of the state-owned Bolivian Mining Corp.

The ruling military junta ordered the army to occupy the mines after striking miners refused to return to work. A government decree declared the mining centers military zones and put all persons under military jurisdiction.

The miners' union proposed a suspension of the strike Sunday night if the government would cancel its mine occupation order and recognize the union's rights, the miners' radio network said in a broadcast. The miners control 10 radio stations.

There was no immediate response from the government.

Before the move on the mines was announced, President Rene Barrientos told newsmen the government would ask the Roman Catholic Church to mediate the conflict with the tin miners. The archbishop of La Paz, Msgr. Abel Antezana, had volunteered to serve as a mediator.

Adviser Dies In Ambushes By Viet Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — An American adviser and 35 South Vietnamese troops were killed in a Viet Cong ambush 150 miles south of Saigon Sunday night, a U.S. spokesman announced. Another American adviser and 25 Vietnamese are missing.

Four other Americans were killed and one was wounded in two ambushes Saturday near Ben Cat and near Song Be. Five South Vietnamese infantrymen were killed at Song Be, 19 were missing and 10 were wounded.

The weekend casualties brought the toll of U.S. combat dead in Viet Nam to 382 since December 1961.

South Vietnamese casualties in the Ben Cat ambush were not reported but were believed heavy.

Military officials said the Americans killed on Saturday were:

Sgt. 1.C. Bernard J. Kelley, son of Lucy C. Kelley, Roslyn, N.Y.

ed sinking another North Vietnamese PT boat today and damaging six military barracks as round-the-clock air strikes against North Viet Nam continued without letup. Four trucks were damaged in another raid.

A U.S. military spokesman said the boat was left in flames after Navy Skyhawks and Skyraiders bombarded the vessel in the Rao Nay River, 55 miles north of the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam.

U.S. Air Force F105s bombed the barracks near the Vinh area on missions along 10 different highways. The planes also attacked four secondary bridges with rockets and Bullpup missiles, the spokesman said, and dropped a span of a bridge near Ha Tinh, about 170 miles south of Hanoi.

The spokesman said the pilots reported heavy ground fire at times but no enemy aircraft sighted. He said all planes returned safely.

At Chu Lai, 52 miles south of Da Nang, a U.S. Marine apparently killed another Marine when he discharged his rifle accidentally, a Marine spokesman said.

In the ambush Sunday night, the Viet Cong caught about 200 government troops 150 miles southwest of Saigon. A battalion had gone from the district town of Thoi Binh to Khai Quan, 8 miles away, to relieve an outpost that had been under harassing fire for several days.

The battalion was on its way back when the Communist guerrillas opened up with small arms fire from the jungle. Helicopters dropped flares over the area, but the Viet Cong broke off contact and melted into the brush.

Military sources reported 36 Viet Cong killed during a two-day operation 18 miles south of Da Nang. The sources said U.S. helicopters accounted for more than a third of the Viet Cong dead.

Nearly 150 U.S. Air Force and Navy and Vietnamese air force planes hit targets in North Viet Nam Sunday. U.S. spokesmen reported 25 buildings destroyed, 48 damaged, and partial to total destruction to three bridges, one weapons site, four railroad boxcars, one radar site, two trucks and one barracks and supply area.

One U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief developed engine trouble during the raids and crashed into the sea, but the pilot parachuted and was rescued.

U.S. Air Force planes also dropped about 200,000 propaganda leaflets on the towns of Linh Cam and Vu Liet, about 20 miles northeast of Vinh.

North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh declared that U.S. air raids will not weaken his nation.

"The U.S. imperialists' barbarous and perfidious maneuvers only increase our people's hatred and only instigate them to fight resolutely till final victory," Ho said in a statement broadcast by Radio Hanoi.

Court Orders End To Litter

An East End man was given a week to clean up his premises before he is sentenced on a charge of failing to obey a Board of Health order after being found guilty today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Judge Chertoff said he personally will inspect the property of John Dee Jackson, 824 Pennsylvania Ave., before the defendant returns to court on June 1 for sentencing.

Jackson declined to testify after pleading innocent to the charge filed by Gene J. Smith, sanitary inspector for the Health Board. During a discussion, however, he insisted he had not received the order and that the complaint refers to property which he does not own.

Smith had testified that he had inspected the property many times and found trash at the front and rear of the home and on the hillside across Pennsylvania Ave.

He identified a resolution adopted by the Health Board on April 15 and an order which he served on April 20 on Mrs. Jackson at the home which set a deadline of April 24 to complete the cleanup.

Smith said he inspected the property about 8:30 this morning and that the only change is that the house is being torn down.

He was followed to the stand by Jack Bonner, another sanitary inspector, who testified on the conditions he had found when he inspected the home.

The Health Board's order quoted in the affidavit declared the property "a public nuisance" and "dangerous to health."

Man's Trial Delayed

LISBON — For lack of a full panel of 12 jurors, Common Pleas Court ran into a temporary delay today in a scheduled trial for Carl Lee Hawk Jr., 23 of Riverside Ave., Wellsville, indicted for the armed robbery of Betty's Grocery Store in Wellsville Feb. 19. Eleven prospective jurors were seated when the venire was exhausted. Sheriff Russell VanFossan was ordered to summon 12 more prospective members of the panel.

Ohio Lists 10 Road Deaths

Traffic	10
Drowning	2
Total	12

(By The Associated Press)

Ohioans had a relatively safe weekend on the state's highways as at least 10 persons lost their lives in traffic mishaps.

All of the fatalities came in separate accidents, and six of the victims were children under 10.

In addition to the traffic fatalities, at least two persons drowned and a third person was missing Sunday and presumed drowned.

The Coast Guard was searching in Lake Erie for the body of 45-year-old Dave Jemison, missing since a 15-foot motorboat capsized Saturday night off the East 55th Street Nike site in Cleveland. Two companions of the East Side Clevelander were rescued.

The fatalities:

Sunday

Michael Lilly, 21, of Bellaire, when his car crashed into an embankment on Ohio 7 near Bellaire.

Barry Thomas Newman, 9 months, South Solon, Madison County, died Sunday of injuries suffered Saturday night when family car went out of control and crashed in Fayette County, north of Washington Court House.

Timothy Hein, 5, Dayton, fatally injured when struck by a car near his home.

Bryan Williams, 6, of Willard, died of injuries suffered in a two-car collision 10 miles southwest of Norwalk.

Saturday

Charles Donaldson, 10, Steubenville, when the car his father was driving collided with another on U.S. 36 in Harrison County.

Louise Elaine Keeton, 8, of near Dayton, when a car struck the bicycle she was riding.

Said Gentile: "I think our experiences have shown that in the way we have handled our affairs in new construction and reconstruction projects overseas, we have let ourselves be open for a real chance to be 'had' by the opposition."

He said the Seabees will be used for close and constant observation of foreign workmen to prevent the planting of surreptitious listening devices on 15 major embassy building and renovation projects around the world.

Marine guards will be assigned to the building sites during non-working hours. The locations weren't given, but officials said most would be at posts behind the Iron Curtain.

In addition, Gentile said some Seabees will be sent to Frankfurt, Beirut, Panama and Tokyo where they will fan out to area embassies to prepare specially secure rooms.

An armed band of gunmen tried to assassinate President Barrientos near the Kami mines Saturday. He escaped unharmed, but one of his guards was killed. Four of the gunmen were captured.

Wellsville Picks Ann Beresford As 'Miss Poppy'

Anne Beresford, daughter of Chief Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Robert Beresford, 1790 Chester Ave., has been named "Miss Poppy" in a contest held by the auxiliary of Wellsville American Legion Post 70.

The contest was held to draw attention to a Poppy Day drive to be held by the auxiliary.

Members of her court are Sue Ellen Howell, Janice Boyce, Amie Beresford, Beck O'Hara and Christy Sumpter.

A total of $58.45 was collected. The judges were Mrs. Ethel Crawford, Mrs. Evelyn Dickinson, Melford Gitschier and Harry Crawford.

The contest was open to any girl between 4 and 10 whose father or mother is a member of the post.

A special feature of Sunday's finale was the Nevada-California classic. Nevada Gov. Grant Sawyer's "Nuclear Ned" wiped out California Gov. Edmund G. Brown's "Whispering Ed" with a leap of 10½ feet to 2 feet 11 inches.

"Nuclear Ned" was recruited from the Nevada nuclear test site and was transported to Angel's Camp in a lead container.

Route 30 Crash Hurts Woman Motorist, 32

Miss Joan Manna, 32, of Anderson Blvd., formerly of Pittsburgh, was X-rayed and treated for contusions at City Hospital Saturday night following a one-car crash on Pennsylvania Route 30, near the junction of Route 18.

State Police at the Carnegie Barracks reported that Miss Manna's auto turned on its side after skidding out of control on a wet spot on the road.

home, where his parents said he was uninjured, police said.

Two autos were damaged in a mishap Sunday at 10:26 a. m. on Walnut St. 40 feet north of E. 4th St., police said.

A 1961 import driven by Gary L. Degarmo, 29, of 313 Vine St. struck a parked 1964 four-door sedan owned by Hugh L. Wood of Pond St., officers reported.

Degarmo told police he was driving north on Walnut St. about 10 miles an hour when his 14-month-old son stood up on the seat of the auto and then started to fall. Degarmo said he attempted to catch the boy, causing his auto to hit the Wood car. There was damage to the right front fender and the windshield of Degarmo's car, officers said.

U.S.

Chairman Laurance Rockefeller convening the opening session, said, "Natural beauty must be an integral part of our national life. It cannot be a frill or afterthought or a luxury subject to the red pencil of accountants, public or private."

Rockefeller said in his prepared speech that natural beauty must be a vital part of how Americans build their country and be predicted it will literally be rebuilt in the next 40 years.

"We must rescue our cities and countryside from blight with the same purpose and vigor with which, in other areas, we moved to save the forests and the soil."

More than 1,000 persons were invited to the conference, but only 120 were official members of the 15 discussion panels. After five-minute talks by each panel member, another half hour was devoted to questions and discussions from the floor.

William M. Bennett, head of California's Public Utilities Commission, suggested that tax incentives be provided to produce a nationwide system of underground utilities.

If the government can spend an estimated $2 billion a year on depletion allowances to spur the search for oil and gas, he suggested the same thing might be done to help pay the cost of putting unsightly power lines underground.

There were similar tax-incentive suggestions to hasten the flow of abandoned automobiles to the new giant crushing and grinding machines.

Court Orders End To Litter

An East End man was given a week to clean up his premises before he is sentenced on a charge of failing to obey a Board of Health order after being found guilty today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Judge Chertoff said he personally will inspect the property of John Dee Jackson, 824 Pennsylvania Ave., before the defendant returns to court on June 1 for sentencing.

Jackson declined to testify after pleading innocent to the charge filed by Gene J. Smith, sanitary inspector for the Health Board. During a discussion, however, he insisted he had not received the order and that the complaint refers to property which he does not own.

Smith had testified that he had inspected the property many times and found trash at the front and rear of the home and on the hillside across Pennsylvania Ave.

He identified a resolution adopted by the Health Board on April 15 and an order which he served on April 20 on Mrs. Jackson at the home which set a deadline of April 24 to complete the cleanup.

Smith said he inspected the property about 8:30 this morning and that the only change is that the house is being torn down.

He was followed to the stand by Jack Bonner, another sanitary inspector, who testified on the conditions he had found when he inspected the home.

Man's Trial Delayed

LISBON — For lack of a full panel of 12 jurors, Common Pleas Court ran into a temporary delay today in a scheduled trial for Carl Lee Hawk Jr., 23 of Riverside Ave., Wellsville, indicted for the armed robbery of Betty's Grocery Store in Wellsville Feb. 19. Eleven prospective jurors were seated when the venire was exhausted. Sheriff Russell VanFossan was ordered to summon 12 more prospective members of the panel.

Ohio Lists 10 Road Deaths

Traffic	10
Drowning	2
Total	12

(By The Associated Press)

Ohioans had a relatively safe weekend on the state's highways as at least 10 persons lost their lives in traffic mishaps.

All of the fatalities came in separate accidents, and six of the victims were children under 10.

In addition to the traffic fatalities, at least two persons drowned and a third person was missing Sunday and presumed drowned.

The Coast Guard was searching in Lake Erie for the body of 45-year-old Dave Jemison, missing since a 15-foot motorboat capsized Saturday night off the East 55th Street Nike site in Cleveland. Two companions of the East Side Clevelander were rescued.

The fatalities:

Sunday

Michael Lilly, 21, of Bellaire, when his car crashed into an embankment on Ohio 7 near Bellaire.

Barry Thomas Newman, 9 months, South Solon, Madison County, died Sunday of injuries suffered Saturday night when family car went out of control and crashed in Fayette County, north of Washington Court House.

Timothy Hein, 5, Dayton, fatally injured when struck by a car near his home.

Saturday

Charles Donaldson, 10, Steubenville, when the car his father was driving collided with another on U.S. 36 in Harrison County.

Louise Elaine Keeton, 8, of near Dayton, when a car struck the bicycle she was riding.

Said Gentile: "I think our experiences have shown that in the way we have handled our affairs in new construction and reconstruction projects overseas, we have let ourselves be open for a real chance to be 'had' by the opposition."

He said the Seabees will be used for close and constant observation of foreign workmen to prevent the planting of surreptitious listening devices on 15 major embassy building and renovation projects around the world.

Marine guards will be assigned to the building sites during non-working hours. The locations weren't given, but officials said most would be at posts behind the Iron Curtain.

In addition, Gentile said some Seabees will be sent to Frankfurt, Beirut, Panama and Tokyo where they will fan out to area embassies to prepare specially secure rooms.

Wellsville Picks Ann Beresford As 'Miss Poppy'

Anne Beresford, daughter of Chief Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Robert Beresford, 1790 Chester Ave., has been named "Miss Poppy" in a contest held by the auxiliary of Wellsville American Legion Post 70.

The contest was held to draw attention to a Poppy Day drive to be held by the auxiliary.

Members of her court are Sue Ellen Howell, Janice Boyce, Amie Beresford, Beck O'Hara and Christy Sumpter.

A total of $58.45 was collected. The judges were Mrs. Ethel Crawford, Mrs. Evelyn Dickinson, Melford Gitschier and Harry Crawford.

The contest was open to any girl between 4 and 10 whose father or mother is a member of the post.

A special feature of Sunday's finale was the Nevada-California classic. Nevada Gov. Grant Sawyer's "Nuclear Ned" wiped out California Gov. Edmund G. Brown's "Whispering Ed" with a leap of 10½ feet to 2 feet 11 inches.

"Nuclear Ned" was recruited from the Nevada nuclear test site and was transported to Angel's Camp in a lead container.

Route 30 Crash Hurts Woman Motorist, 32

Miss Joan Manna, 32, of Anderson Blvd., formerly of Pittsburgh, was X-rayed and treated for contusions at City Hospital Saturday night following a one-car crash on Pennsylvania Route 30, near the junction of Route 18.

State Police at the Carnegie Barracks reported that Miss Manna's auto turned on its side after skidding out of control on a wet spot on the road.

home, where his parents said he was uninjured, police said.

Two autos were damaged in a mishap Sunday at 10:26 a. m. on Walnut St. 40 feet north of E. 4th St., police said.

A 1961 import driven by Gary L. Degarmo, 29, of 313 Vine St. struck a parked 1964 four-door sedan owned by Hugh L. Wood of Pond St., officers reported.

Degarmo told police he was driving north on Walnut St. about 10 miles an hour when his 14-month-old son stood up on the seat of the auto and then started to fall. Degarmo said he attempted to catch the boy, causing his auto to hit the Wood car. There was damage to the right front fender and the windshield of Degarmo's car, officers said.

U.S.

churned out Sunday at closed sessions of the 15 panels.

Chairman Laurance Rockefeller convening the opening session, said, "Natural beauty must be an integral part of our national life. It cannot be a frill or afterthought or a luxury subject to the red pencil of accountants, public or private."

Rockefeller said in his prepared speech that natural beauty must be a vital part of how Americans build their country and be predicted it will literally be rebuilt in the next 40 years.

"We must rescue our cities and countryside from blight with the same purpose and vigor with which, in other areas, we moved to save the forests and the soil."

More than 1,000 persons were invited to the conference, but only 120 were official members of the 15 discussion panels. After five-minute talks by each panel member, another half hour was devoted to questions and discussions from the floor.

William M. Bennett, head of California's Public Utilities Commission, suggested that tax incentives be provided to produce a nationwide system of underground utilities.

If the government can spend an estimated $2 billion a year on depletion allowances to spur the search for oil and gas, he suggested the same thing might be done to help pay the cost of putting unsightly power lines underground.

There were similar tax-incentive suggestions to hasten the flow of abandoned automobiles to the new giant crushing and grinding machines.

Parking Lot Action Is Needed

The wise man nails down the loose shingles on his roof and repairs the spouting in the pleasant, favorable weather of summer.

Whistling at his work under blue June skies, he is looking forward to the bleak days of November, when a couple of roofing nails and a touch of tinner's red might be too little and too late.

There's a parallel of sorts in the question of more off-street parking space for East Liverpool.

Everyone agrees that more lots are needed to accommodate the hundreds of autos that move into the central business area every morning, carrying the customers and clients for the stores and professional men and the employes and managerial personnel that make their living here.

THE DOWNTOWN AREA has emerged as the community's largest employer and its principal source of real estate and personal tax revenue.

Most important is the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Average Shopper want assurance that they will be able to park their auto in a space within easy walking distance of the heart of the downtown area, paying a reasonable fee.

Right now there's no apparent emergency. Parking places still are difficult to find, particularly at mid-day or in the afternoon, because it's all on a first-come first-served basis.

But nobody gets excited about such things in May's balmy, clear weather. It's such a contrast from harried December and bleak January that everyone's inclined to be a little philosophic about the whole question.

But about the first of November, when the holiday shopping rush begins with a vengeance, residents' tempers will be frayed over the lack of parking space.

THEY'RE NOT faceless figures on a statistical chart. They're the men and women who keep the community alive—the backbone of the PTA and the community fund drives. They're the potter from Pleasant Heights, the millworker from Klondyke, the professional man from North Side and the clerical worker from West End.

They're the people of East Liverpool, who depend upon the community's leaders to do something about the shortage of parking space.

The point of the parable about the man who nails down the loose shingle in summertime is this:

If East Liverpool residents are to have adequate parking spaces in next winter's rush, some positive action must be taken soon.

Waiting until the emergency is imminent again will be too late. It takes months for the legislative process to function in cases of this kind. East Liverpool is not unique. All local governments move slowly, hemmed in by legal requirements that make certain the job will be done properly.

So it takes time to decide what properties will be acquired and how they will be converted to parking use.

It takes time for preparation of the enabling legislation and its enactment by Council. It takes more time to negotiate with the property owners, arrange the financing, raze the buildings on the property, level the site, buy parking meters, put down a blacktop surface and install the meters.

BUT THERE'S STILL time if action is taken promptly. No one is urging undue haste and indeed there has been no tendency toward that pitfall. This question has been before Council intermittently for months.

Perhaps a tentative program suggested to Council is too ambitious, as it envisons an overall outlay of $200,000.

But a wise decision can be made on what part of the program can be tailored to the city's immediate needs and what segment can be deferred to a more opportune time.

Within reason, the extension of parking will mean no outlay from the city's own funds. The off-street lots already operating have paid for themselves, or are demonstrating their ability to be self-amortizing, through the coins dropped into the meters by patrons.

And not to be forgotten is the fact that in most cases investment in a parking lot leaves the city in possession of a valuable piece of real estate.

Everyone, including the city councilmen, agrees that East Liverpool needs more parking space. The whole question is: How soon? In our opinion, the sooner the better!

Both Ways They Lose

New York City has replaced Michael J. Murphy, conceded to be one of the best police commissioners in its history, with Vincent L. Braderick, an assistant U.S. attorney, and police departments and political administrations in all other large cities are taking note.

Mr. Braderick will have the same problems his predecessor had, and it is agreed that Mr. Murphy had had more than a fair share since February 1961 when he took the job.

It is unlikely that Braderick solutions will be any better. But it is likely they will be different—and this is what other police commissioners and big-city administrators will be wanting to see.

The issue that had developed around Commissioner Murphy did not concern his competence. It concerned his resentment of attempts to put New York police under the guns of a civilian review board.

The attempts were being made chiefly by civil rights groups who accused the police of brutality. They were connected with the Harlem riots, in which the charge was made that Negroes in the Harlem district had a standing grievance against white policemen because of alleged rough tactics.

Another "long hot summer" is due to start any time now. When it does start, Michael J. Murphy intends to read about it, not preside over it as police commissioner of the nation's largest city with the largest police problem.

He is believed to have reached a disheartening conclusion: That big-city police are in a heads-you-lose-tails-they-win dilemma in civil rights disorders.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

Heard any baseball jokes lately?

It seems this fellow and girl were sitting in the stands watching a game and she was an expert but he had never seen a ball game before, so she was explaining it to him (this should be fair warning to you if you want to quit reading this right now).

As the players romped onto the diamond she said, "They're taking the field now."

"Where are they taking it?" he asked.

"They just had their ins and got put out so they are taking the field."

"Oh, that's where they get the term 'outfield,' because when they're out they go to the outfield," he said.

"I never thought of it that way but that's right," she agreed. "The batter is going to swing at one so the runner can steal a base."

The fellow hazarded a guess with the comment, "And after he steals the base he will sell it to the fence. Right?"

"Not exactly," she said. "Now let's watch because we have a good battery going for us out there."

"The battery is what sparks the team, isn't it?" he inquired.

"But definitely," she conceded. "You see there is the pitcher and the batter . . ." But he interrupted with, "Ah yes, sounds like you're making pancakes — pitcher and batter."

"I think the manager is going to yank the pitcher," she said.

"That would make the pitcher a yankee. I've heard of the Yankees," he said. "And of course the manager would be a yanker."

"Whoops, the batter hit that foul in the stands," she exclaimed.

"Yes, I see that blonde fowl in the stands has the ball now. She's good looking. First time I ever heard a chicken called a fowl and I haven't even heard a girl referred to as a chicken in years."

She glazed at the scoreboard and murmured, "With all the fouls it is no wonder there are so many goose eggs out there."

"Yes, fowls and goose eggs do go together, don't they?" he observed proudly.

Some new scores went up on the board and she said, "Looks like the White Sox and Angels are doing all right."

"I have seen those white socks on television lots of time but I can't remember which detergent gets them so sparkling clean," he mumbled dazedly. "And I don't suppose the angels ever steal bases for a fence."

As a circuit clout soared over the fence, she said, "That homer was really something."

"Yes, the old boy has been dead for centuries but people are still quoting him," the boy friend acknowledged.

"Not Homer, homer." She was getting frantic. "Watch that third-base coach, he is giving signals to the batter."

"That doesn't seem fair," he replied. "Why doesn't he just shout?"

More scores went up on the board, prompting her to say, "One nice thing about this season is that the Yankees so far are about as dangerous as a toothless old lion."

"But don't forget the Tigers. They might bite," he warned in a flash of inspiration.

It was a long ball game.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

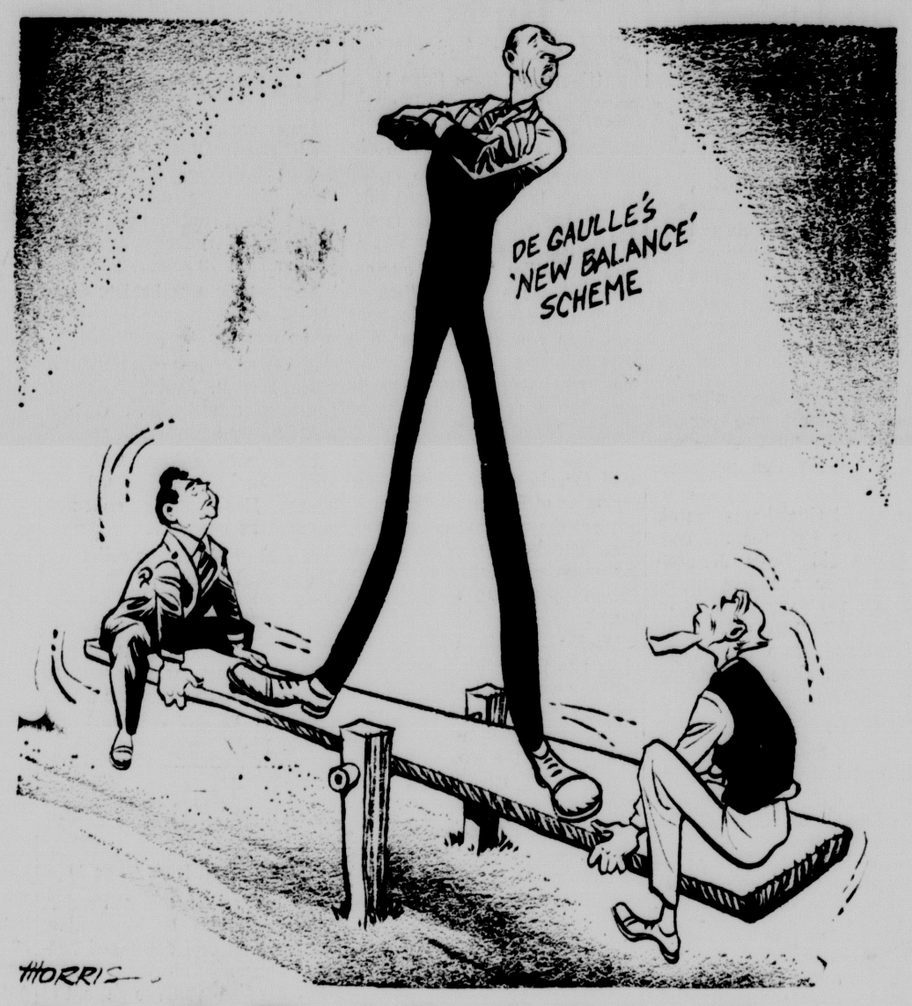

This 'n That

An ancient engineering feat, almost as impressive as the Great Wall of China, was the Grand Canal of China. This canal, parts of which are still in use today, originally covered a distance of more than a thousand miles, from Hangchow to near Peking. The construction of the Grand Canal was begun before the time of Christ and completed in about A. D. 1290.

Our week did not always consist of seven days. During different periods of history, the length of a week varied from as few as three days to as many as 10 days. The seven-day length was an ancient innovation used by Babylonians and Hebrews.

The oldest educational institution in the world is probably the Moroccan university of Karueein, in Fez, which was founded in A. D. 859. The European university generally conceded to be the oldest is that of Naples, Italy, which was founded in 1224.

Dreams Of Grandeur!

Right-To-Work Battle Takes Shape

By Richard Spong

Some 19 bills to remove or amend Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Act are pending in the special House Labor subcommittee headed by Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J. A preview of the President's labor reform package was given May 12 by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, who told the International Ladies Garment Workers Union convention in Miami Beach that it was part of his job to press for repeal of what is sometimes called the right-to-work law.

George Meany, president of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations, told the same convention that unions must be freed from statutes that curb their efforts to improve the lot of workers. Specifically on 14 (b), Meany said confidently: 'This section we expect to repeal this year."

Big labor had inveighed against 14 (b) since the labor law's enactment in 1947 but in recent years it realistically hadn't done very much about it. Now the AFL-CIO Executive Council believes it has the votes in the new Congress.

THE LABOR LEADERS count 221 hard votes for repeal in the House of Representatives, with 218 needed to send the bill to the Senate where they have always been confident of passage.

The Democratic party platform last year called for outright repeal of 14 (b). President Johnson in his State of the Union Message stated flatly: "As pledged in our 1960 and 1964 platforms, I will propose to Congress changes in the Taft-Hartley Act including Section 14 (b)." What remained was the matter of priority.

The AFL-CIO early in January called all its affiliated brass to Washington for a four-day lobbying job on the new Congress. But it soon became evident that the administration itself wasn't going to be hurried, that "first things," in the White House view, had to do more directly with the Great Society.

Now with the education bill signed into law, with medicare sliding down a clear track, with voting reforms assured (in large outline), with a water pollution bill approved, the administration is ready to give labor the opportunity to collect its bill for support of the Johnson-Humphrey ticket and the Democratic sweep in Congress last year.

For its part, labor feels easier about pressing for repeal now that its public image has been improved with avoidance of a long strike in steel.

UNION SHOP contracts between employers and unions require workers to join a union within a specified period, usually 30 to 60 days after being employed. Repeal of 14 (b) would, in effect, take away from the states the right to enact laws forbidding union shop contracts and would make such laws inoperable where they now exist. Nineteen states today have right-to-work laws.

Without exception, these are Southern, Midwestern, and Western states, and few of them are heavily industrial.

So for all practical purposes, the bitter fight looming up in Congress is over a symbolic rather than a bread-winning issue.

A Fund for the Republic study issued several years ago under the imprint of a committee of which Secretary Wirtz was a member said of experience under a Texas law: " 'Right-to-Work' proposals have become a convenient symbol for this purpose (public demonstration of political power) perhaps because, in effect, they do mean so little."

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — A new club was organized at the home of Miss Lena Johnson of Fairview St., with the name Bon Aimee.

The Wellsville Board of Education waited approval of its application for a federal loan of $45,000 for the stadium at Nicholson field.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Mr. and Mrs. Dan Beaver and daughter, Dolores, formerly of Pleasant Heights, moved to Jacksonville, Fla.

John M. Finley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Finley of Georgetown, was promoted to staff sergeant with the 7th Army in Germany.

Butch Wucherer, president of the East Liverpool Bowling Association, was returned to that office for the 1945-46 season.

R. W. Sample of St. Petersburg, Fla., a former East Liverpool shoe store operator, arrived to spend the summer with his son, Council Robert W. Sample of McKinnon Ave.

The Human Clock

After a week in a room with no clocks and no windows you would be getting out of bed at 1 p.m. and retiring around 5 a.m.

With no temporal clues to dictate your schedule, you would have fallen back on internal time. And internal time never runs on a 24-hour day. It never runs on less than 24 hours, either.

In experiments in Norway, Germany and in New London, Conn., scientists have repeatedly shown that, left to himself, man runs on about a 25-hour day, ranging up to 25¾ hours.

It isn't just a question of waking and sleeping — though the scientists use awakening as the marker for each day. Such measurable body functions as temperature, pulse rate, urination and hormone production rise and fall daily in a very regular rhythm. These change, too, in isolation.

Schaefer first became interested in the subject when he worked as a physiologist with German U-boat crews during World War II. Now he conducts his research under a grant from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at the Navy's big submarine base in New London.

It's easy to see why NASA would be interested in odd day lengths and human body rhythms. In less than a month, U.S. astronauts Maj. James A. McDivitt and Maj. Edward H. White are to spend four days in space. While they orbit the earth in their cramped capsule, they will experience day and night every 90 minutes.

From his recent experiments, Schaefer thinks that regularly timed daily activities are going to be important for astronauts. Such activities, he finds, keep all the internal body rhythms synchronized with each other.

IN GENERAL, on a 24-hour day, a normal person's functions become minimal during sleep, about 3 a.m., and rise to a maximum at about 3 p.m. You can see this easily in taking the temperature of a sick child. It's almost always close to normal in the morning, but tends to run up as the day progresses. That is true in health, too.

Where Are The Reds?

By James Marlow

U.S. Views On Dominican Crisis Seen Confused

WASHINGTON

What ever happened to the Communists who, President Johnson said, had taken over the revolution in the Dominican Republic?

That's one of the least clear points in all the confusion — and there has been plenty — about the revolution which started April 24 and this country's role in it. There were three stages:

1. When this country didn't even mention the Reds as a problem.

2. When this country said they had seized control of the revolution.

3. Now when U.S. officials say the Reds are not in control.

Throughout there has been one major figure, Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, who has been in command of the rebels from the beginning and through all three stages.

When Johnson sent in the Marines April 28 he said the purpose was to save American lives in the upheaval. U.S. officials, further explaining, said this country was taking no sides.

Caamano was the rebel commander at that time.

A few days later, May 2, Johnson announced the U.S. goal in the Dominican Republic was to prevent a Communist takeover.

HE EXPLAINED in a nationwide broadcast: "What began as a popular democratic revolution committed by democracy and social justice very shortly moved and was taken over and really seized and placed into the hands of a band of Communist conspirators."

But on that date Caamano was still called the commander.

Now Sunday, three weeks later, The Associated Press from Santo Domingo reported U.S. officials are said to be convinced that Communist leaders no longer dominate the rebel command.

The U.S. ambassador to the Organization of American States, Ellsworth Bunker, was reported as saying:

"The U.S. forces in the Dominican Republic are not there to support either side against the other."

And Caamano is still the boss of the rebels.

The AP also said that in the view of the men shaping American policy there the Communist threat remains serious and would quickly erupt into a new bid for power and a second Cuba if U.S. troops were withdrawn.

Various groups have been involved in the revolution. And no doubt Communists were. A revolution is made to order for them. Nor can there be any doubt that in the Dominican Republic, as elsewhere, they would turn it into a Communist state if they could.

BUT THIS question, despite the various official statements, hasn't been answered:

If Caamano was rebel commander all the way through — even when Johnson said the Reds had taken control of the revolution — was Caamano under their thumb? This writer has seen nothing to indicate he was. But, if he was, what has happened to the thumb?

Or was the information Johnson got about events in the Dominican Republic wrong or exaggerated?

But this isn't the only confusion.

Last week when the civilian-military junta attacked Caamano's rebels, there were printed reports in this country that the Marines helped the junta.

Johnson's press secretary, George Reedy, said: "The President's instructions to the troops when they were sent in were to observe neutrality."

But why would they remain neutral if they were sent into to prevent a Communist takeover and the Communists had control of the revolution? Could their very presence be called neutral when sending them in was an anti-Communist action?

But Secretary of State Dean Rusk says this country is pursuing a policy of "complete neutrality" in the Dominican Republic.

The Gun Controversy

Opponent Fire Away At Dodd Bill

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd D-Conn., the chairman of the subcommittee, once an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, is one of the last men in the world's most exclusive club, the United States Senate, to be susceptible of the accusation of being soft on communism. Yet one of the opponents of legislation which the senator is sponsoring has charged "The Dodd bill represents a further attempt by a subversive power to make us part of one world socialistic government."

The Dodd bill was introduced in August 1963 after more than two years of investigation by the subcommittee of the mail order traffic in guns. It had been drafted with the assistance of the National Rifle Association, which later was to lose its enthusiasm for the measure.

THE assassination of President Kennedy with a 6.5-mm Italian carbine that Lee Harvey Oswald bought by mail order under an assumed name brought the Dodd bill briefly into sharp focus. But gunmakers, sportsmen's associations, and several patriotic groups rose in protest, and the bill was allowed to die in the Senate year.

Dodd himself said the measure was overwhelmed by the combined opposition of "legitimate sportsmen, decent people who were misled and misinformed; the crackpots and the vigilantes who fed the opposition; and the hard core — those with a vested interest in gun running."

The Second Amendment to the U.S. Constitution provides: "A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the rights of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

The philosophic opponents of the Dodd bill base their argument on the fiction that private arms — in the days of nuclear capability — are necessary to the maintenance of a well-regulated militia.

More understandable is the opposition of hunters, trapshooters, gun owners, and shooter-sportsmen, who have been told or profess to see that the Dodd bill threatens gun registration.

Actually, the measure would require purchasers of mail-order guns to submit to the seller a sworn affidavit that they are over 18, have not been convicted or indicted on felony charges, and that it is not against local law to purchase a gun. The statement would then be forwarded by the mail-order house to local police officials.

A THIRD source of opposition is business. Gun buffs currently spend between $1.5 billion and $2 billion a year in this country. The NHA's income for 1963 was $3.9 million.

A resolution current in the New Hampshire Senate warns that measures like the Dodd bill "could have a crippling effect on the economy of the multimillion-dollar sales and service business associated with the recreational use of firearms in New Hampshire and would only result in further loss of American liberty, add to the work of law - enforcement and police forces and inconvenience and penalize law-abiding citizens."

The revived Dodd bill is now before the Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee chaired by its author. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has just joined, in effect, previous supporters of the bill — the Treasury Department, the Federal Bureau of Prisons and the New York Police Department.

In testimony before a House published May 17, Hoover asserted: "Surely the public has a right to expect that both the distributor and purchaser of deadly weapons meets certain regulations and qualifications."

Parking Lot Action Is Needed

The wise man nails down the loose shingles on his roof and repairs the spouting in the pleasant, favorable weather of summer.

Whistling at his work under blue June skies, he is looking forward to the bleak days of November, when a couple of roofing nails and a touch of tinner's red might be too little and too late.

There's a parallel of sorts in the question of more off-street parking space for East Liverpool.

Everyone agrees that more lots are needed to accommodate the hundreds of autos that move into the central business area every morning, carrying the customers and clients for the stores and professional men and the employes and managerial personnel that make their living here.

THE DOWNTOWN AREA has emerged as the community's largest employer and its principal source of real estate and personal tax revenue.

Most important is the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Average Shopper want assurance that they will be able to park their auto in a space within easy walking distance of the heart of the downtown area, paying a reasonable fee.

Right now there's no apparent emergency. Parking places still are difficult to find, particularly at mid-day or in the afternoon, because it's all on a first-come first-served basis.

But nobody gets excited about such things in May's balmy, clear weather. It's such a contrast from harried December and bleak January that everyone's inclined to be a little philosophic about the whole question.

But about the first of November, when the holiday shopping rush begins with a vengeance, residents' tempers will be frayed over the lack of parking space.

THEY'RE NOT faceless figures on a statistical chart. They're the men and women who keep the community alive—the backbone of the PTA and the community fund drives. They're the potter from Pleasant Heights, the millworker from Klondyke, the professional man from North Side and the clerical worker from West End.

They're the people of East Liverpool, who depend upon the community's leaders to do something about the shortage of parking space.

The point of the parable about the man who nails down the loose shingle in summertime is this:

If East Liverpool residents are to have adequate parking spaces in next winter's rush, some positive action must be taken soon.

Waiting until the emergency is imminent again will be too late. It takes months for the legislative process to function in cases of this kind. East Liverpool is not unique. All local governments move slowly, hemmed in by legal requirements that make certain the job will be done properly.

So it takes time to decide what properties will be acquired and how they will be converted to parking use.

It takes time for preparation of the enabling legislation and its enactment by Council. It takes more time to negotiate with the property owners, arrange the financing, raze the buildings on the property, level the site, buy parking meters, put down a blacktop surface and install the meters.

BUT THERE'S STILL time if action is taken promptly. No one is urging undue haste and indeed there has been no tendency toward that pitfall. This question has been before Council intermittently for months.

Perhaps a tentative program suggested to Council is too ambitious, as it envisons an overall outlay of $200,000.

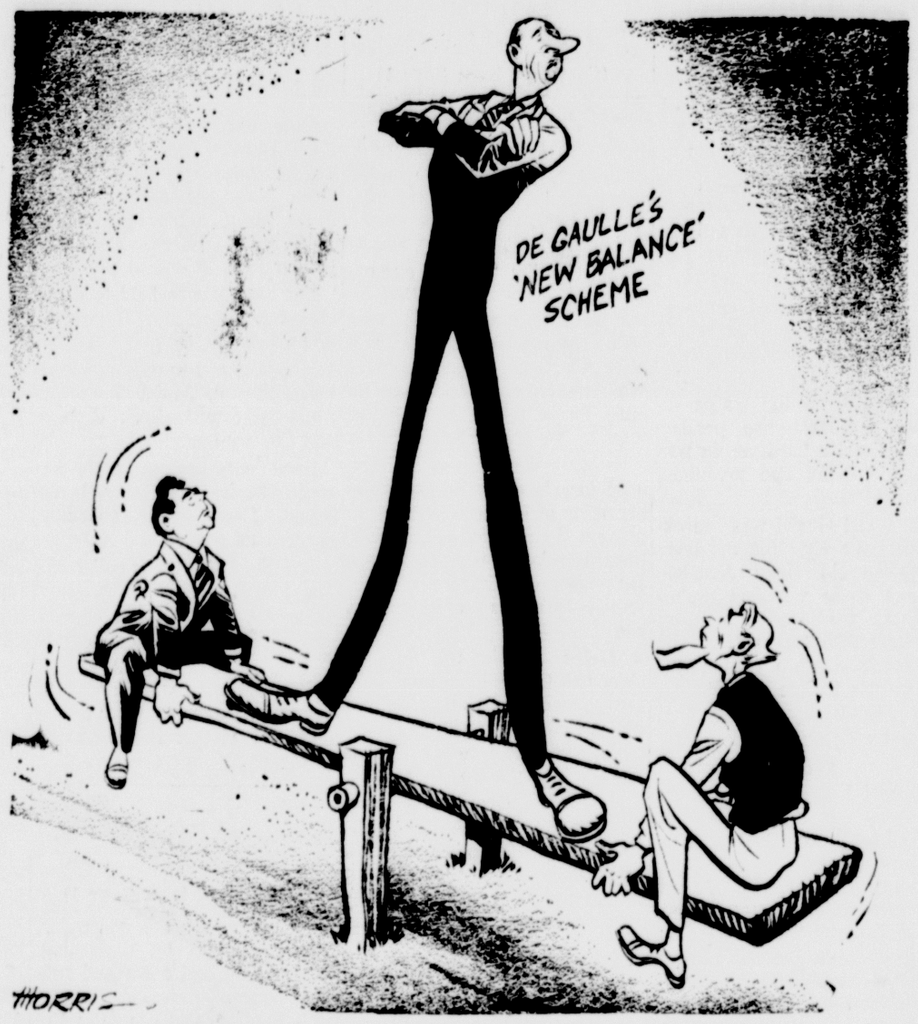

But a wise decision can be made on what part of the program can be tailored to the city's immediate needs and what segment can be deferred to a more opportune time.

Within reason, the extension of parking will mean no outlay from the city's own funds. The off-street lots already operating have paid for themselves, or are demonstrating their ability to be self-amortizing, through the coins dropped into the meters by patrons.

And not to be forgotten is the fact that in most cases investment in a parking lot leaves the city in possession of a valuable piece of real estate.

Everyone, including the city councilmen, agrees that East Liverpool needs more parking space. The whole question is: How soon? In our opinion, the sooner the better!

Dreams Of Grandeur!

Right-To-Work Battle Takes Shape

By Richard Spong

Some 19 bills to remove or amend Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Act are pending in the special House Labor subcommittee headed by Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J. A preview of the President's labor reform package was given May 12 by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, who told the International Ladies Garment Workers Union convention in Miami Beach that it was part of his job to press for repeal of what is sometimes called the right-to-work law.

George Meany, president of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations, told the same convention that unions must be freed from statutes that curb their efforts to improve the lot of workers. Specifically on 14 (b), Meany said confidently: 'This section we expect to repeal this year."

Big labor had inveighed against 14 (b) since the labor law's enactment in 1947 but in recent years it realistically hadn't done very much about it. Now the AFL-CIO Executive Council believes it has the votes in the new Congress.

THE LABOR LEADERS count 221 hard votes for repeal in the House of Representatives, with 218 needed to send the bill to the Senate where they have always been confident of passage.

The Democratic party platform last year called for outright repeal of 14 (b). President Johnson in his State of the Union Message stated flatly: "As pledged in our 1960 and 1964 platforms, I will propose to Congress changes in the Taft-Hartley Act including Section 14 (b)." What remained was the matter of priority.

The AFL-CIO early in January called all its affiliated brass to Washington for a four-day lobbying job on the new Congress. But it soon became evident that the administration itself wasn't going to be hurried, that "first things," in the White House view, had to do more directly with the Great Society.

Now with the education bill signed into law, with medicare sliding down a clear track, with voting reforms assured (in large outline), with a water pollution bill approved, the administration is ready to give labor the opportunity to collect its bill for support of the Johnson-Humphrey ticket and the Democratic sweep in Congress last year.

For its part, labor feels easier about pressing for repeal now that its public image has been improved with avoidance of a long strike in steel.

UNION SHOP contracts between employers and unions require workers to join a union within a specified period, usually 30 to 60 days after being employed. Repeal of 14 (b) would, in effect, take away from the states the right to enact laws forbidding union shop contracts and would make such laws inoperable where they now exist. Nineteen states today have right-to-work laws.

Without exception, these are Southern, Midwestern, and Western states, and few of them are heavily industrial.

So for all practical purposes, the bitter fight looming up in Congress is over a symbolic rather than a bread-winning issue.

A Fund for the Republic study issued several years ago under the imprint of a committee of which Secretary Wirtz was a member said of experience under a Texas law: "'Right-to-Work' proposals have become a convenient symbol for this purpose (public demonstration of political power) perhaps because, in effect, they do mean so little."

Both Ways They Lose

New York City has replaced Michael J. Murphy, conceded to be one of the best police commissioners in its history, with Vincent L. Braderick, an assistant U.S. attorney, and police departments and political administrations in all other large cities are taking note.

Mr. Braderick will have the same problems his predecessor had, and it is agreed that Mr. Murphy had had more than a fair share since February 1961 when he took the job.

It is unlikely that Braderick solutions will be any better. But it is likely they will be different—and this is what other police commissioners and big-city administrators will be wanting to see.

The issue that had developed around Commissioner Murphy did not concern his competence. It concerned his resentment of attempts to put New York police under the guns of a civilian review board.

The attempts were being made chiefly by civil rights groups who accused the police of brutality. They were connected with the Harlem riots, in which the charge was made that Negroes in the Harlem district had a standing grievance against white policemen because of alleged rough tactics.

Another "long hot summer" is due to start any time now. When it does start, Michael J. Murphy intends to read about it, not preside over it as police commissioner of the nation's largest city with the largest police problem.

He is believed to have reached a disheartening conclusion: That big-city police are in a heads-you-lose-tails-they-win dilemma in civil rights disorders.

THIRTY YEARS AGO — A new club was organized at the home of Miss Lena Johnson of Fairview St., with the name Bon Aimee.

The Wellsville Board of Education waited approval of its application for a federal loan of $45,000 for the stadium at Nicholson field.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Mr. and Mrs. Dan Beaver and daughter, Dolores, formerly of Pleasant Heights, moved to Jacksonville, Fla.

John M. Finley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Finley of Georgetown, was promoted to staff sergeant with the 7th Army in Germany.

Butch Wucherer, president of the East Liverpool Bowling Association, was returned to that office for the 1945-46 season.

R. W. Sample of St. Petersburg, Fla., a former East Liverpool shoe store operator, arrived to spend the summer with his son, Council Robert W. Sample of McKinnon Ave.

Letter From Max

Dear Truman Twill:

Heard any baseball jokes lately?

It seems this fellow and girl were sitting in the stands watching a game and she was an expert but he had never seen a ball game before, so she was explaining it to him (this should be fair warning to you if you want to quit reading this right now).

As the players romped onto the diamond she said, "They're taking the field now."

"Where are they taking it?" he asked.

"They just had their ins and got put out so they are taking the field."

"Oh, that's where they get the term 'outfield,' because when they're out they go to the outfield," he said.

"I never thought of it that way but that's right," she agreed. "The batter is going to swing at one so the runner can steal a base."

The fellow hazarded a guess with the comment, "And after he steals the base he will sell it to the fence. Right?"

"Not exactly," she said. "Now let's watch because we have a good battery going for us out there."

"The battery is what sparks the team, isn't it?" he inquired.

"But definitely," she conceded. "You see there is the pitcher and the batter . . ." But he interrupted with, "Ah yes, sounds like you're making pancakes — pitcher and batter."

"I think the manager is going to yank the pitcher," she said.

"That would make the pitcher a yankee. I've heard of the Yankees," he said. "And of course the manager would be a yanker."

"Whoops, the batter hit that foul in the stands," she exclaimed.

"Yes, I see that blonde fowl in the stands has the ball now. She's good looking. First time I ever heard a chicken called a fowl and I haven't even heard a girl referred to as a chicken in years."

She glazed at the scoreboard and murmured, "With all the fouls it is no wonder there are so many goose eggs out there."

"Yes, fowls and goose eggs do go together, don't they?" he observed proudly.

Some new scores went up on the board and she said, "Looks like the White Sox and Angels are doing all right."

"I have seen those white socks on television lots of time but I can't remember which detergent gets them so sparkling clean," he mumbled dazedly. "And I don't suppose the angels ever steal bases for a fence."

As a circuit clout soared over the fence, she said, "That homer was really something."

"Yes, the old boy has been dead for centuries but people are still quoting him," the boy friend acknowledged.

"Not Homer, homer." She was getting frantic. "Watch that third-base coach, he is giving signals to the batter."

"That doesn't seem fair," he replied. "Why doesn't he just shout?"

More scores went up on the board, prompting her to say, "One nice thing about this season is that the Yankees so far are about as dangerous as a toothless old lion."

"But don't forget the Tigers. They might bite," he warned in a flash of inspiration.

It was a long ball game.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

This 'n That

An ancient engineering feat, almost as impressive as the Great Wall of China, was the Grand Canal of China. This canal, parts of which are still in use today, originally covered a distance of more than a thousand miles, from Hangchow to near Peking. The construction of the Grand Canal was begun before the time of Christ and completed in about A. D. 1290.

Our week did not always consist of seven days. During different periods of history, the length of a week varied from as few as three days to as many as 10 days. The seven-day length was an ancient innovation used by Babylonians and Hebrews.

The oldest educational institution in the world is probably the Moroccan university of Karueein, in Fez, which was founded in A. D. 859. The European university generally conceded to be the oldest is that of Naples, Italy, which was founded in 1224.

The Human Clock

After a week in a room with no clocks and no windows you would be getting out of bed at 1 p.m. and retiring around 5 a.m.

With no temporal clues to dictate your schedule, you would have fallen back on internal time. And internal time never runs on a 24-hour day. It never runs on less than 24 hours, either.

In experiments in Norway, Germany and in New London, Conn., scientists have repeatedly shown that, left to himself, man runs on about a 25-hour day, ranging up to 25¾ hours.

It isn't just a question of waking and sleeping — though the scientists use awakening as the marker for each day. Such measurable body functions as temperature, pulse rate, urination and hormone production rise and fall daily in a very regular rhythm. These change, too, in isolation.

Schaefer first became interested in the subject when he worked as a physiologist with German U-boat crews during World War II. Now he conducts his research under a grant from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at the Navy's big submarine base in New London.

It's easy to see why NASA would be interested in odd day lengths and human body rhythms. In less than a month, U.S. astronauts Maj. James A. McDivitt and Maj. Edward H. White are to spend four days in space. While they orbit the earth in their cramped capsule, they will experience day and night every 90 minutes.

From his recent experiments, Schaefer thinks that regularly timed daily activities are going to be important for astronauts. Such activities, he finds, keep all the internal body rhythms synchronized with each other.

IN GENERAL, on a 24-hour day, a normal person's functions become minimal during sleep, about 3 a.m., and rise to a maximum at about 3 p.m. You can see this easily in taking the temperature of a sick child. It's almost always close to normal in the morning, but tends to run up as the day progresses. That is true in health, too.

The Social -:- -:- Notebook

Miss Margaret Baum, former teacher, was honored at the coverdish dinner meeting of the Wesleyan Class of the First Methodist Church Friday night in Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Olive McDowell, program chairman, presented a takeoff of the TV program "This Is Your Life." Miss Baum received a gift from the group.

Winners at guessing contests were Miss Martha Bloor, Mrs. Stella Millward, Mrs. Daisy Richmond and Miss Daisy Gilmore.

Mrs. Nettie Scheffer, secretary, presided for business. The group voted to send a magazine and flowers to Miss Grace McHenry, a patient at City Hospital.

Worship was conducted by Mrs. Scheffer, who had the group repeat favorite Scripture verses.

Places were arranged for 20 at tables decorated with spring flowers. The committee was Mrs. Eunice Hogenfield, Mrs. Muriel Myler and Miss Ruth Rumberger. Miss Luella Thompson and Miss Bloor were guests.

The church program at Lakeworth, Fla., was discussed during the meeting of the Sara Watson Class of the Calvary Methodist Church Friday night with Mrs. Rachel Lane of Center St., Beechwood.

Mrs. Mae Hall and Mrs. Nancy Rayburn, who spent the winter there, spoke on the Sunday School and church services. Mrs. Hall read a prayer from the church bulletin.

Miss Ruth Brooks conducted devotions.

Several contributions were allocated for church projects.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Sara Watson.

The next session will be June 18 with Mrs. Viola Johnson of Maplewood.

Mrs. Marlene Corbisello entertained the Spacettes Club Friday night at Meade's Restaurant in Wellsville.

Trophies for two tables of 500 went to Mrs. Donna Swogger, Mrs. Carrie Williams, Mrs. Gladys Hurd, Mrs. Glenda Wilk and Mrs. Phyllis Prideau.

Refreshments were served. Mrs. Thelma Reed was a guest. The next session will be held June 2 with Mrs. Prideau of Sprucevale Rd.

The Bible Class of the Pleasant Heights United Brethren in Christ Church will meet Friday with Mr. and Mrs. George Walker of Hookstown.

The Hope Group of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church will meet Thursday with Mrs. Jean Baxter of Pope Ave.

The travel prize went to Mrs. Elsie Golden when she entertained the Daisy Protectors Circle of Tri - State Sisterhood 199, Dames of Malta, Friday night at her home on Ambrose Ave.

Games were won by Mrs. Ola Weaver and Mrs. Vivian Roush, who conducted devotions.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ethel Hagerman, co-hostess.

A coverdish dinner will be held at the next session June 18 with Mrs. Roush of Glenmoor.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Robert Stoddard, 637 St. Clair Ave., were guests of honor at a surprise 25th wedding anniversary observance Saturday night at the Fraternal Order of Orioles Home on W. 6th St.

A family table was arranged with a three - tiered cake of silver and white, silver cups and lighted tapers. The buffet table was covered with a silver and white cloth. A large cake centered the table, encircled with silver cup favors. The honor guests received a gift and cards from the members.

3 More Contestants Sign In Queen Contest

Three more contestants for the "Miss Tri-State Teen Queen" event in the Beaver Local Boosters Club festival in June have been registered, Mrs. Pat Havice, chairman, announced today.

The new contestants include Sharon Lynn Hickman, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hickman of Bell School Rd., a freshman at Beaver Local; Glenda Rohr, 16, daughter of Sherman Rohr of Givens Rd., a sophomore at Beaver Local, and Jennifer Koerber, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Koerber of Dixonville, an East Junior High School student.

Eight are registered so far for the contest. Deadline for filing applications is Saturday, Mrs. Havice said.

Tunisia will build a holiday city in Jerba, legendary island of the lotus-eaters. The government says the undertaking will be the largest tourism project ever attempted in the Mediterranean area. It will include six hostelries with more than a thousand rooms and a "boatel" at water's edge.

CULTURED PEARLS

Again this year, this is increased world-wide demand for cultured pearls. Fortunately, early reports indicate a good pearl harvest in Japan which is our major source of supply. The Australian production of larger cultured pearls is still "spotty" so these are both scarce and expensive in this country. One prominent New York jewelry firm recently offered for sale a five-strand necklace of very large Burmese pearls. The price for these was $150,000 — which certainly indicates the high value placed on good quality cultured pearls today.

Besides the basic pearl strand, every woman should from time to time add to her pearl wardrobe. A matched set of pearl jewelry is sure to be one of the most basic accessories in any woman's jewel case. Two of the most exciting items in terms of design could be the pearl ring and suit pin or brooch.

In rings, the interesting textured baroque or mabe' pearls are especially lovely. The Mabe' pearls are formed by inserting a half-bead against the shell of the oyster. When this is coated with a pearly substance called nacre, the pearl is removed, the "shell" then cemented over a round bead of the proper size, and it is ready for mounting. One word of caution — these pearls, or rather the bead portion, may crack if struck on a hard object. Certain care should be used in wearing them, and usually the mounting design is planned to offer the greatest protection to the pearl.

Veterans Set Area Session

Plans for a 1st District session to be held in Midland July 11 were completed at a meeting of Midland Barracks 2119, Veterans of World War I, Sunday at the home of American Legion Post 481.

Isaac Jones was named general chairman of the affair, which will begin at 2 p. m. at the Lions Club pavilion. Wilbur Harmon was named to head the welcoming committee; Harold Taylor, lunch, and Robert Dunn, refreshments.

Over 100 are expected to attend, with guests to include State Commander Ray McKisick of Clarion; Ed Maxwell of Brackenridge, junior vice commander, and Chuck Connors of Washington, judge advocate, Mayor Eli Corak of Midland will welcome the veterans.

The 1st District includes 34 barracks in five western Pennsylvania counties.

In other action, Jones, Dunn, Taylor and Louis Provost were named as delegates to the state convention in Bethlehem July 25-29.

John Dailey and Sam Caplan, both of East Liverpool, and William Punch of Midland were accepted as new members.

Any veteran of World War I who would like to join or have information on joining may call Dunn, the quartermaster, at 385-9371 or attend the next meeting June 27 at 3 p. m. at Post 481.

The barracks is holding a rummage through this week at the Odd Fellows Building in the East End.

The U.S. Army says Count Ferdinand Zepplin, the German developer of lighter-than-air aircraft, made his first balloon ascent in 1863 while visiting the U.S. Army's Ft. Snelling in Minnesota.

2 Appalachia Aides Chosen

NEW CUMBERLAND — Gilbert E. Walters, chairman of the Hancock County Extension Committee, and Mrs. John Village, appointed by the West Virginia University Board of Governors and also representing Hancock County, are serving on the 11-county region's advisory committee for the Morgantown Area Appalachian Center.

They will meet with other civ-industrial leaders Tuesday from 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p.m in the faculty lounge of West Virginia University Medical Center.

"The Appalachian Center as Seen from the Standpoint of the Academic Department" will be discussed by Dr. Clark K. Sleeth, professor and dean of the West Virginia University School of Medicine.

Dr. E. J. Nesius, University vice president for the Appalachian Center and director of the Cooperative Extension Service, will review the organizational structure, goals, and state programs of the Center.

J. L. Morris, Morgantown area director, will bring the committee up to date on programs and discuss the role of the committee in area program development.

Mrs. Ruth McPherson, Hancock County extension agent representative, also will attend the meeting.

County extension agents will report on special projects.

were still trying to get agreement from the rebel and junta leaders for a government representing all political factions except Communists and right-wing extremists.

U.S. negotiator McGeorge Bundy was reported pressing for a government headed by Antonio Guzman, minister of agriculture under ex-President Juan Bosch. The United States was also reported insisting that top rebel and junta leaders be excluded from the government.

A rebel spokesman reiterated Sunday that Caamano was ready to resign as soon as a government was agreed on. But Imbert resisted any compromise with the rebels and insisted they must surrender.

Caamano reportedly told OAS negotiator Mora that the rebels hoped for a "constitutional solution." He also told Mora the rebels wanted the next Dominican election held under OAS supervision. Under the last constitution which the military threw out last year, the next regular presidential election is scheduled for late 1966.

U.S. officials were reported convinced that Communist leaders no longer dominate the rebels. They said Caamano's movement was once controlled by the Communists but isn't any longer.

Caamano has always denied that Communists controlled his faction.

A recent economic report on the Dominican Republic released in Washington depicted the country as a land of near starvation.

It laid much of the blame for the revolution on the inadequate food supply and said the country has land and manpower to feed its people well but lacks agricultural knowledge and capital investment.

The Age of Technology

We live in an age of moon shots and vaccines for poliomyelitis — an age of astounding scientific discovery! And wonderfully for us, the benefits of science overlap, so that the phenomenal light beam called the "laser," which was discovered in an electronics lab, now serves the brain surgeon in his delicate operations.

Today, in our own pharmacy, we have "miracle" medicines resulting not only from medical research, but research in all fields. It's a good feeling to know these are available to you if and when your doctor prescribes.

Go Ahead . . . Go Cadillac!

Before you buy any car at any price, consider a Cadillac first of all. New or previously owned, a Cadillac is the one way to be sure your investment will buy the most and last the longest.

Whatever you have budgeted for your next car, your Cadillac dealer has a Cadillac to fit your plans. Naturally, if your choice were unrestricted, you would prefer a new 1965 Cadillac like the Sedan de Ville in front. Next best would be a late-model, previously-owned Cadillac such as the black 1963 Sedan de Ville, above. A well-maintained, one-owner used Cadillac is actually the only real rival of a new Cadillac. Because of the popularity of the 1965 model, your authorized dealer is the one logical place to go for the best selection of fine used Cadillacs.

U.S. negotiator McGeorge Bundy was reported pressing for a government headed by Antonio Guzman, minister of agriculture under ex-President Juan Bosch. The United States was also reported insisting that top rebel and junta leaders be excluded from the government.

A rebel spokesman reiterated Sunday that Caamano was ready to resign as soon as a government was agreed on. But Imbert resisted any compromise with the rebels and insisted they must surrender.

Caamano reportedly told OAS negotiator Mora that the rebels hoped for a "constitutional solution." He also told Mora the rebels wanted the next Dominican election held under OAS supervision. Under the last constitution which the military threw out last year, the next regular presidential election is scheduled for late 1966.

U.S. officials were reported convinced that Communist leaders no longer dominate the rebels. They said Caamano's movement was once controlled by the Communists but isn't any longer.

Caamano has always denied that Communists controlled his faction.

A recent economic report on the Dominican Republic released in Washington depicted the country as a land of near starvation.

It laid much of the blame for the revolution on the inadequate food supply and said the country has land and manpower to feed its people well but lacks agricultural knowledge and capital investment.

The Age of Technology

We live in an age of moon shots and vaccines for poliomyelitis — an age of astounding scientific discovery! And wonderfully for us, the benefits of science overlap, so that the phenomenal light beam called the "laser," which was discovered in an electronics lab, now serves the brain surgeon in his delicate operations.

Today, in our own pharmacy, we have "miracle" medicines resulting not only from medical research, but research in all fields. It's a good feeling to know these are available to you if and when your doctor prescribes.

Go Ahead . . . Go Cadillac!

Before you buy any car at any price, consider a Cadillac first of all. New or previously owned, a Cadillac is the one way to be sure your investment will buy the most and last the longest.

Whatever you have budgeted for your next car, your Cadillac dealer has a Cadillac to fit your plans. Naturally, if your choice were unrestricted, you would prefer a new 1965 Cadillac like the Sedan de Ville in front. Next best would be a late-model, previously-owned Cadillac such as the black 1963 Sedan de Ville, above. A well-maintained, one-owner used Cadillac is actually the only real rival of a new Cadillac. Because of the popularity of the 1965 model, your authorized dealer is the one logical place to go for the best selection of fine used Cadillacs.

Lisbon Firemen List $6,262 In Fund Drive

LISBON — A total of $6,262 has been collected by village firemen for a new ambulance in a drive for $8,050 in the village and Center Township.

Elkrun Township will be canvassed Thursday through Saturday. A round, square and polka dance will be held Saturday night at 10 at the VFW McKinley Room.

Proceeds from the dance will go to the drive. Tickets may be purchased from any fireman or at the local drug stores, according to Jerry Sanders, village fireman who heads the dance committee.

Firemen hope the goal can be reached this week. Any person who has been missed can take donations to the station or call and firemen will pick up the money.

Dry macaroons and crush them so you have fine crumbs; fold the crumbs into sweetened whipped cream and use for a cake filling.

Hearing Set On Sunday Sale Of Liquor In Ohio's Taverns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Backers of a controversial bill to allow the sale of liquor on Sunday may get some idea this week of the measure's chances.

The House Liquor Committee called its first hearing for Wednesday night on the bill which cleared the Senate two weeks ago by the narrowest of margins.

Sen. David Matia, D-Cuyahoga, and other Cleveland Democrats introduced the measure they claim is needed to boost Ohio as a convention state.

Similar proposals have been introduced at previous sessions but none ever has come this far. Some observers say the legislation will fail in the House despite a local option provision designed to overcome objections of previous years.

Nine bills are on tonight's House calendar as the legislature begins its 19th week of work, including one that would regulate Ohio's milk producers, haulers, and processors.

The lower chamber also will vote on bills revising laws governing sheriffs' allowances for feeding prisoners and removing a $10,000 debt limit on cemetery companies and associations.

Among measures up for Senate action tonight are proposals to allow the use of data processing equipment for the selection of prospective jurors and to increase the penalty for the illegal taking of deer to $500 and 30 days in jail.

A full round of committee activity is on tap this week. It will include hearings on reapportionment and embattled measures to extend public school bus transportation to private and parochial school pupils.

The House Elections and Federal Relations Committee will begin hearings Wednesday on a half-dozen proposed substitutes for the reapportionment plan rejected by voters in the May 4 primary.

In other business, Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne, indicated a subcommittee report on pay raises for state employes will be given to the House Finance Committee Tuesday.

Reports are that the measure has been amended to confine most of the increases to state workers earning $400 a month or less.

The Senate State Government Committee is considering a House-approved bill to boost the pay of top state officials, including that of the governor from $25,000 to $35,000 a year. The committee is expected to vote on the measure at a Thursday morning session.

The Italian Ministry of Public Education reports that 6,906,446 students attended Italian schools in the academic year 1963-64. Of these 231,358 were in universities, the rest in elementary and secondary schools.

Area Man Meets Friend In Navy's Viet Nam Action

An East Liverpool district man met an old shipmate from Georgia during the third landing of U.S. combat troops in South Viet Nam last month.

Boatswain's Mate 1C Dale D. Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Adams of R. D. 1, held a reunion with Boatswain's Mate 2C Paul F. Lee of Ft. Valley, Ga., when they met by chance in Hue, 40 miles north of Danang.

The two served together aboard the dock landing ship Point Defiance before they took separate ways, with Adams going to Naval Beach Group 1 in Yokosuka, Japan, and Lee reporting to duty with the 7th Fleet's amphibious force at Subic Bay in the Philippines.

Their Hue meeting was a surprise. Lee had gone to Hue as coxswain of the barge assigned to Adm. Donald W. Wulzen, commander of the task force that brought the troops into South Viet Nam. Adams was at Hue as a member of NBG-1 detachment, the outfit that provided small boat lighterage and made limited beach constructions for the landing force.

Briton Designs Auto Owner Can Repair Himself

LONDON (AP) — A designer today made public details of what he called the world's first repair-it-yourself automobile.

It will be seven feet long, cost about $560, go 65 miles on a gallon of gas and seat five persons, a spokesman said.

"There is still a lot of design work to do," the spokesman said, "but we are already discussing the car with a manufacturer."

The designer is John West, who helped turn out the Pacific and Orient liner Canberra. His spokesman said a prototype has been developed and gave these details:

The engine will be sealed for life. When it wears out, it can be lifted from the car, thrown away and replaced by a new one.

This will take 10 to 15 minutes and can be done by the owner in his own garage.

The car will have a fiberglass body. Its color will be impregnated and it will never need polishing. Dents can be repaired with a do-it-yourself kit.

Diver's Body Located In Lake Near Warren

WARREN (AP)—The body of a Pennsylvania scuba diver was recovered Sunday by Mecca volunteer firemen from Mosquito Lake.

Over 100 volunteers from 12 fire departments had searched for the body of Raymond Crawford, 27, of Farrell, Pa., since Saturday.

Ike's Ex-Aide Killed

LEBANON, Ind. (AP) — Ernest R. Lee, a finance executive who served in World War II as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's senior military aide, was killed Sunday in a traffic accident. Lee, 54, president of the Economy Finance Corp., and executive vice president of Indianapolis Morris Plan, died when his car struck a bridge abutment near Lebanon.

Sargus Selected By Ohio Kaycees

State Sen. Edmund Sargus of St. Clairsville, who represents the 20th-22nd District, was elected treasurer of the Ohio Knights of Columbus at the 66th annual convention which ended Sunday at Cleveland. More than 1,200 attended.

Leo P. Stark of Columbus, an assistant to Atty. Gen. William B. Saxge, was named state deputy for a term starting July 1. The organization has 65,000 members in 273 councils. Stark joined the K. of C. in 1945 and has held every office in the state organization.

Other state officers are: Robert E. Vogelpohl, Cincinniati, secretary; John W. Kiser, Norwalk, warden, and Robert W. Lackner, Euclid, advocate.

Cycle Victim Claimed

CLEVELAND (AP)—Injuries received when his motorcycle went out of control and collided with an automobile were fatal to 26-year-old Graham Johnson Jr., who died Sunday in Lakewood Hospital.

Lima Man, 25, Faces Hearing For Murder

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Arraignment was scheduled today for Frank Helton, 25-year-old Lima man accused in the fatal beating of his girl friend.

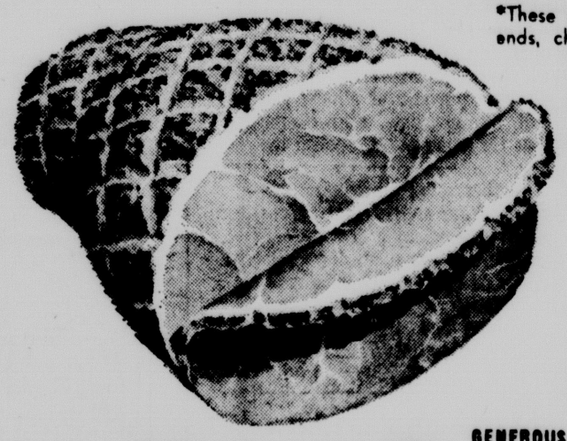

He was arrested on a suspicion of murder charge after the body of the victim, Ellen Lemler, 21, was found in her home early Sunday.

Officers quoted Helton as saying he beat his girl friend but said he gave them no motive.

$6,000 Loss Seen As Bolt Strikes Home

EAST PALESTINE — Loss was estimated at $6,000 after a lightning bolt hit the concrete block home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton S. Herstine, 1064 Howell Rd., during a heavy storm early Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Herstine were absent on a shopping trip when the bolt struck the four - room structure about 6 p. m.

Firemen said the bolt apparently struck a television antenna and then followed the wires into the house, smashing the TV receiver, charring wood paneling on the wall, moving another wall an inch and smashing a large picture window and a smaller window.

Following the antenna mast, the bolt dug a two-foot hole at the bottom of the pipe and smashed a small brick flower pedestal about 15 feet away. It burned up two electrical fuse boxes and a telephone switchbox.

The high voltage fused together 12 keys on a piano and caused a one-inch crack in the cement block wall. Fire Chief Frank V. Frederick said it also touched off a small blaze in the attic, where some heavy electrical cable was fused by the force. Firemen found four storm windows broken, but the windows inside were undamaged.

In a severe storm that hit Salem at the same time, lightning dislodged large chimney stones and set fire to the corner of the attic at the home of Ralph Black, 1583 N. Lincoln Ave.

Fire Lt. Norman Smith said damage to the structure was "considerable," mainly from water damage to plaster and outside walls directly beneath the attic. The fire was confined to the attic.

2 Youths Flee Ohio's Diagnostic Institution

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The search continued today for two 14-year-old boys from opposite ends of the state who escaped from the Juvenile Diagnostic Center.

Larry Burns of Amherst, Lorain County, and Jerry Townley of Loveland, near Cincinnati, had just returned from church when they sneaked into an office and climbed out through a window, a spokesman said.

Christians Concerned About Sex

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Attitudes about sex today have some Christians worried.

They want church standards on the matter reinforced.

The concern was in evidence at the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church here, with delegates from several regions pressing for reinforced emphasis on sexual morality.

They said there were indications of lax teachings by churchmen themselves about extra-marital sex relations.

The 3½-million-member denomination was asked to reaffirm "our church's historical moral standards" in opposition to what was called a drift to license.

"Any abuse of sexual intimacy outside the responsible bonds of holy matrimony destroys pure love, damaging marriage and causing guilty alienation from God,' declared a proposed resolution.

It was offered by the Presbytery of Omaha, Neb. Others similar to it came from regional units of Peoria, Ill., and Shenango, Pa.

They cited news reports of "churchmen advocating a moral relativism holding that 'lists of cans and cannots are meaningless,' that 'no sexual relationship should be absolutely condemned by the church'. . ."

According to their view, the resolution protested, "theology should adapt itself to the times instead of applying 'juridical' or 'thou shalt not' ethics. . . thereby excusing fornication by engaged couples as no sin."

However, the Commandments, including that against adultery, are "permanently binding" on all Christians, the resolution maintained, adding:

"Our Lord Jesus, while emphasizing that superior love, which encompasses and is the ultimate purpose of all the law and the prophets, still claims that He came not to abolish the law."

Further, the resolution asserts, Jesus taught that "those who teach relaxing of the Commandments are to be condemned; that lustful thinking is spiritually tantamount to unchastity; and that purity of heart is essential to the blessedness of seeing God."

Officers Seated By School Group In Wellsville Rite

Mrs. Flora McCauley was installed as president of the Daw Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night in the Wellsville High School cafeteria.

Other officers inducted by Wayne Hamilton were: Mrs. Mina Hitt, first vice president; Don Lowe, second vice president; Mrs. Jean Cupp, secretary, and Mrs. Eleanor Waite, treasurer.

Arthur Geisse, retiring president, conducted business. The group decided to buy a Gregg reading machine for the seventh and eighth grade reading classes. William Riley presented a talent program and the Rev. James McCollam of the Yellow Creek and Oak Ridge United Presbyterian Churches led devotions.

Corsages and boutonnieres were given the faculty members. Places were set for 40 at a coverdish dinner. It was the final meeting until fall.

5 In Youth For Christ To Enter Quiz Contest

Five members of the Columbiana County Youth for Christ, who were top winners in quizzes during the 1964-65 term, will participate in an Ohio competition June 15-17 in Columbus.

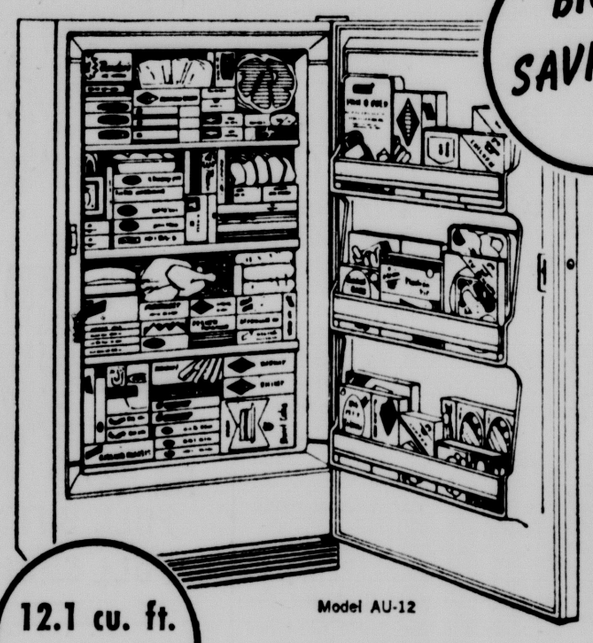

They include Sherry Johnson and Loren Hooker of East Liverpool High School; Sharon Trotter, Beaver Local, and John Young and Dick Spiker, Hopewell High School.

About 75 attended the annual Awards Night Saturday at the Calcutta fire hall. Awards went to Mike Mosura, YFC bowling champion; Robert Morris vocalist, and Hooker, preaching. The attendance award was won by Hopewell Junior and Senior High School.

Grass Fire Reported

LISBON — Volunteer firemen said no damage resulted from a grass fire Sunday at 6 p. m. on Route 172 northwest of the village. Firemen were called by a neighbor who said the grass had been smoldering throughout the afternoon.

$6,000 Loss Seen As Bolt Strikes Home

EAST PALESTINE — Loss was estimated at $6,000 after a lightning bolt hit the concrete block home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton S. Herstine, 1064 Howell Rd., during a heavy storm early Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Herstine were absent on a shopping trip when the bolt struck the four - room structure about 6 p. m.

Firemen said the bolt apparently struck a television antenna and then followed the wires into the house, smashing the TV receiver, charring wood paneling on the wall, moving another wall an inch and smashing a large picture window and a smaller window.

Following the antenna mast, the bolt dug a two-foot hole at the bottom of the pipe and smashed a small brick flower pedestal about 15 feet away. It burned up two electrical fuse boxes and a telephone switchbox.

The high voltage fused together 12 keys on a piano and caused a one-inch crack in the cement block wall. Fire Chief Frank V. Frederick said it also touched off a small blaze in the attic, where some heavy electrical cable was fused by the force. Firemen found four storm windows broken, but the windows inside were undamaged.

In a severe storm that hit Salem at the same time, lightning dislodged large chimney stones and set fire to the corner of the attic at the home of Ralph Black, 1583 N. Lincoln Ave.

Fire Lt. Norman Smith said damage to the structure was "considerable," mainly from water damage to plaster and outside walls directly beneath the attic. The fire was confined to the attic.

2 Youths Flee Ohio's Diagnostic Institution

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The search continued today for two 14-year-old boys from opposite ends of the state who escaped from the Juvenile Diagnostic Center.

Larry Burns of Amherst, Lorain County, and Jerry Townley of Loveland, near Cincinnati, had just returned from church when they sneaked into an office and climbed out through a window, a spokesman said.

Christians Concerned About Sex

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Attitudes about sex today have some Christians worried.

They want church standards on the matter reinforced.

The concern was in evidence at the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church here, with delegates from several regions pressing for reinforced emphasis on sexual morality.

They said there were indications of lax teachings by churchmen themselves about extra-marital sex relations.

The 3½-million-member denomination was asked to reaffirm "our church's historical moral standards" in opposition to what was called a drift to license.

"Any abuse of sexual intimacy outside the responsible bonds of holy matrimony destroys pure love, damaging marriage and causing guilty alienation from God,' declared a proposed resolution.

It was offered by the Presbytery of Omaha, Neb. Others similar to it came from regional units of Peoria, Ill., and Shenango, Pa.

They cited news reports of "churchmen advocating a moral relativism holding that 'lists of cans and cannots are meaningless,' that 'no sexual relationship should be absolutely condemned by the church'. . ."

According to their view, the resolution protested, "theology should adapt itself to the times instead of applying 'juridical' or 'thou shalt not' ethics. . . thereby excusing fornication by engaged couples as no sin."

However, the Commandments, including that against adultery, are "permanently binding" on all Christians, the resolution maintained, adding:

"Our Lord Jesus, while emphasizing that superior love, which encompasses and is the ultimate purpose of all the law and the prophets, still claims that He came not to abolish the law."

Further, the resolution asserts, Jesus taught that "those who teach relaxing of the Commandments are to be condemned; that lustful thinking is spiritually tantamount to unchastity; and that purity of heart is essential to the blessedness of seeing God."

Officers Seated By School Group In Wellsville Rite

Mrs. Flora McCauley was installed as president of the Daw Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night in the Wellsville High School cafeteria.

Other officers inducted by Wayne Hamilton were: Mrs. Mina Hitt, first vice president; Don Lowe, second vice president; Mrs. Jean Cupp, secretary, and Mrs. Eleanor Waite, treasurer.

Arthur Geisse, retiring president, conducted business. The group decided to buy a Gregg reading machine for the seventh and eighth grade reading classes. William Riley presented a talent program and the Rev. James McCollam of the Yellow Creek and Oak Ridge United Presbyterian Churches led devotions.

Corsages and boutonnieres were given the faculty members. Places were set for 40 at a coverdish dinner. It was the final meeting until fall.

5 In Youth For Christ To Enter Quiz Contest

Five members of the Columbiana County Youth for Christ, who were top winners in quizzes during the 1964-65 term, will participate in an Ohio competition June 15-17 in Columbus.

They include Sherry Johnson and Loren Hooker of East Liverpool High School; Sharon Trotter, Beaver Local, and John Young and Dick Spiker, Hopewell High School.

About 75 attended the annual Awards Night Saturday at the Calcutta fire hall. Awards went to Mike Mosura, YFC bowling champion; Robert Morris vocalist, and Hooker, preaching. The attendance award was won by Hopewell Junior and Senior High School.

Grass Fire Reported

LISBON — Volunteer firemen said no damage resulted from a grass fire Sunday at 6 p. m. on Route 172 northwest of the village. Firemen were called by a neighbor who said the grass had been smoldering throughout the afternoon.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: If you have trouble squeezing that last bit from a tube of shampoo, all you have to do is stand the tube on the flat end (either in a glass or up against something such as the back of the medicine cabinet), and the next time you wish to use it . . . just cut the bottom of the tube off with a pair of scissors and all the remaining shampoo comes out easily. Nothing wasted.

M. STARR.

And, if you turn on your hot water faucet and let some hot water run down through the opening into the tube (the pressure from the faucet will allow this), shake it a bit, then let it set, you will get twice as much.

This stuff is concentrated, you know.

And this will work on any product which comes in tubes, bottles, etc.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For those of us who cook outdoors, I have found the perfect way to clean that messy barbecue grill after using it.

As soon as the grill cools, just lay it on the grass and leave it over night. The dew works like magic. It will be so easy to wash the next morning that you will be amazed.

ALICE STEELY.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband painted our garage, but carelessly left the open paint can and brush where my young son, Johnny, could get to it.

Johnny decided to imitate his daddy, so he painted our tool shed.

His pants and jacket, as well as the shed and the lawn surrounding it, are a MESS!

What's a mother to do . . . to remove the paint from his clothing: . . . Daddy will have to clean up the outside.

AGGIE.

To remove paint, soak article in good cleaning fluid as soon as possible. Never allow paint to dry.

There are many different kinds of paint, and they contain different kinds of chemicals. Read label on container and see if a certain solvent is recommended as a thinner. It possibly will remove the stain.

Turpentine can also be used. Sponge. While stain is still wet with the solvent, work some neutral detergent into the fabric and place fabric in hot water and let soak 24 hours.

If any paint remains, lay a pad soaked in solvent over the damaged spot for 30 minutes. Remove pad and massage spot with spoon. Add detergent if necessary.

If any stain remains, sponge with one part alcohol with two parts water.

Always be sure to SPOT TEST a hidden spot first to see if it is safe for the material and to follow instructions on the container.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF TRUTH

DEAR HELOISE: When my babies were little, I spanked them so much that half of the time they did not know why they were getting spanked!

And, if you mothers do not believe this, spank your baby for something, then ask him "Why did I spank you?"

MOTHER.

Isn't she a wonderful mother to realize that?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: IN the kitchen, aluminum foil is my best friend. It's disposable, no washing is necessary, and to me worth the penny for time and effort saved.

I never use a plain cookie sheet; instead, I put a sheet of foil over the oven shelves when I bake cookies, biscuits, etc.

Haven't used a pan lid for a long time. I mold a tight cover of foil over the pan. When necessary, I use a fork to punch holes in the foil so the steam can escape. No boil-over results, and most of the nutritional values are saved as well. This is especially useful when you have a pot which has no lid to fit.

DIAN DIGGS.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters.

New York Slates Water Glass Ban For Restaurants

NEW YORK (AP) — If you want a glass of water in a New York City restaurant, you'll have to ask for it.

If you get it without asking, the proprietor will be risking a summons to court and a fine up to $50.

The water conservation measure, effective Tuesday, was ordered because the drought is continuing to lower levels in the city's reservoirs.

The ban on serving water in restaurants will save 12 to 15 million gallons a day, estimates Armand D'Angelo, commissioner of water supply, gas and electricity.

As of last Friday, D'Angelo said, the city's reservoirs were at 56 per cent of capacity — holding 267 billion gallons — one-third below the level at the same time last spring.

"The problem is getting more serious each day as the drought continues to plague our upstate watershed area," the commissioner said Sunday.

18 Cited In Cock Fight Arena Raid

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Eighteen men face hearings in Butler County Court at Oxford as the result of a raid Sunday on a cockfighting arena near Millville.

Sheriff's deputies said the men were released on bond but some 38 confiscated roosters remained in custody at the county garage.

Detective Lt. Clifton Hyde of the Sheriff's Department said the arena in a wooded area behind the home of David Cole, 39, had reportedly been in operation for about two weeks.

Cole was among those who were arrested. Two of those arrested gave addresses in Lawrenceburg, Ind. The others, including a 15-year-old boy referred to juvenile authorities, gave addresses in Southwestern Ohio, officers said.

2 Fined At Lisbon

LISBON — Two drivers were fined over the weekend by Mayor Dean Stockman on charges filed by village police and a third forfeited an appearance bond. George Drovdlic, 19, of R.D. 4 was fined $25 and costs on a reckless driving charge and Kyle E. Rice, 45, of 521 E. Washington St. was penalized $10 and costs for driving a truck off state routes. Leroy Tullis, 21, of 320 E. Pine St. forfeited $25 on a reckless driving charge.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Your Attitude Influences Your Weight

What is your attitude toward eating to build slimness? An attitude is a point of view, a way of looking at a problem, a way of looking at life. Your attitude is all-important because it influences your actions.

Ida Jean Kain

Many an overweight homemaker will write, "I have been fat since I was a child, so I guess my case is hopeless." Is it? Let's see the results of a different approach. A reader from New Jersey writes:

"I had the advantage of being a fat child and hating it. As a teenager I learned all I could about how not to be fat — how to build each meal around a protein, go easy on starches and sweets, and practice good eating habits. I ate an adequate breakfast and lunch and never overloaded at dinner.

"I ALSO learned the joy of exercise — stretch-bends, bicycling, brisk walks. These good health habits have more than paid off, not only for me, but for my whole family. I truly believe that because I took a winning attitude toward nutrition and exercise we are a more alert, healthier, happier family.

This intelligent homemaker was encouraged to tell her story when she read a letter from an overweight young mother, which began. . ."I'm 20 years old and feel 40, all because I'm 40 pounds overweight. Getting dressed up only makes me feel downhearted."

How is one supposed to feel at 40? It is that remark that amused our correspondent. "I will be 42 next month," she wrote, "and I never felt better in my life. I am 5' 6", weigh 122 pounds and measure 34-25-35. Oh, yes, I have a 16-month-old child whom I nursed for 11 months, with no gain in my weight. I also have a teen-ager. I have no visible wrinkles, and only four gray hairs. My secret? Mostly nutrition and exercise, and the right attitude toward weight control."

CHANGE your attitude toward your everyday eating habits, and you can change your weight . . .and your life. The mind, once stretched by new ideas and information, never goes back to its old dimensions.

Here is a hopeful hint from another reader: "I won a prize — a bathroom scale. Immediately I decided to put it to good use. Tell your readers it is great to watch yourself lose! For the first time in my life I am finding it challenging to stay with a slimming pattern of eating. Perhaps this weighing - in plan might do the trick for some of your other readers."

Any challenging idea that sparks your enthusiasm is all to the good! Set a goal and advance confidently toward it. It is a matter of attitude.

Send stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for Eat To Build Leanness. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Board Seeks Offers For Pipe And Meters

The Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water department, issued a new call today for bids on cast iron pipe and meters, which will be opened at its City Hall office at noon on Tuesday, June 8.

Offers on the material were scheduled to be opened last Thursday noon, but none was received. The board took under advisement offers it received on purchase of a year's supply of chemicals used for water treatment, plus a sand and cement mixture for use in repair of reservoir walls.

In the June 8 session, the board will open bids on 100 water meters and 7,000 feet of cast iron pipe ranging in size from 4-inch to 12-inch.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average around 10 degrees above normal. Normal high and low for next five days period, 77 - 53. Warmer Tuesday then little change in temperature through Saturday. Precipitation expected to total one - quarter inch from showers Tuesday and again Thursday or Friday.

New York Slates Water Glass Ban For Restaurants

NEW YORK (AP) — If you want a glass of water in a New York City restaurant, you'll have to ask for it.

If you get it without asking, the proprietor will be risking a summons to court and a fine up to $50.

The water conservation measure, effective Tuesday, was ordered because the drought is continuing to lower levels in the city's reservoirs.

The ban on serving water in restaurants will save 12 to 15 million gallons a day, estimates Armand D'Angelo, commissioner of water supply, gas and electricity.

As of last Friday, D'Angelo said, the city's reservoirs were at 56 per cent of capacity — holding 267 billion gallons — one-third below the level at the same time last spring.

"The problem is getting more serious each day as the drought continues to plague our upstate watershed area," the commissioner said Sunday.

18 Cited In Cock Fight Arena Raid

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Eighteen men face hearings in Butler County Court at Oxford as the result of a raid Sunday on a cockfighting arena near Millville.

Sheriff's deputies said the men were released on bond but some 38 confiscated roosters remained in custody at the county garage.

Detective Lt. Clifton Hyde of the Sheriff's Department said the arena in a wooded area behind the home of David Cole, 39, had reportedly been in operation for about two weeks.

Cole was among those who were arrested. Two of those arrested gave addresses in Lawrenceburg, Ind. The others, including a 15-year-old boy referred to juvenile authorities, gave addresses in Southwestern Ohio, officers said.

2 Fined At Lisbon

LISBON — Two drivers were fined over the weekend by Mayor Dean Stockman on charges filed by village police and a third forfeited an appearance bond. George Drovdlic, 19, of R.D. 4 was fined $25 and costs on a reckless driving charge and Kyle E. Rice, 45, of 521 E. Washington St. was penalized $10 and costs for driving a truck off state routes. Leroy Tullis, 21, of 320 E. Pine St. forfeited $25 on a reckless driving charge.

Keep In Trim

Your Attitude Influences Your Weight

What is your attitude toward eating to build slimness? An attitude is a point of view, a way of looking at a problem, a way of looking at life. Your attitude is all-important because it influences your actions.

Ida Jean Kain

Many an overweight homemaker will write, "I have been fat since I was a child, so I guess my case is hopeless." Is it? Let's see the results of a different approach. A reader from New Jersey writes:

"I had the advantage of being a fat child and hating it. As a teenager I learned all I could about how not to be fat — how to build each meal around a protein, go easy on starches and sweets, and practice good eating habits. I ate an adequate breakfast and lunch and never overloaded at dinner.

"I ALSO learned the joy of exercise — stretch-bends, bicycling, brisk walks. These good health habits have more than paid off, not only for me, but for my whole family. I truly believe that because I took a winning attitude toward nutrition and exercise we are a more alert, healthier, happier family.

This intelligent homemaker was encouraged to tell her story when she read a letter from an overweight young mother, which began. . ."I'm 20 years old and feel 40, all because I'm 40 pounds overweight. Getting dressed up only makes me feel downhearted."

How is one supposed to feel at 40? It is that remark that amused our correspondent. "I will be 42 next month," she wrote, "and I never felt better in my life. I am 5' 6", weigh 122 pounds and measure 34-25-35. Oh, yes, I have a 16-month-old child whom I nursed for 11 months, with no gain in my weight. I also have a teen-ager. I have no visible wrinkles, and only four gray hairs. My secret? Mostly nutrition and exercise, and the right attitude toward weight control."

CHANGE your attitude toward your everyday eating habits, and you can change your weight . . .and your life. The mind, once stretched by new ideas and information, never goes back to its old dimensions.

Here is a hopeful hint from another reader: "I won a prize — a bathroom scale. Immediately I decided to put it to good use. Tell your readers it is great to watch yourself lose! For the first time in my life I am finding it challenging to stay with a slimming pattern of eating. Perhaps this weighing - in plan might do the trick for some of your other readers."

Any challenging idea that sparks your enthusiasm is all to the good! Set a goal and advance confidently toward it. It is a matter of attitude.

Board Seeks Offers For Pipe And Meters

The Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water department, issued a new call today for bids on cast iron pipe and meters, which will be opened at its City Hall office at noon on Tuesday, June 8.

Offers on the material were scheduled to be opened last Thursday noon, but none was received. The board took under advisement offers it received on purchase of a year's supply of chemicals used for water treatment, plus a sand and cement mixture for use in repair of reservoir walls.

In the June 8 session, the board will open bids on 100 water meters and 7,000 feet of cast iron pipe ranging in size from 4-inch to 12-inch.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average around 10 degrees above normal. Normal high and low for next five days period, 77 - 53. Warmer Tuesday then little change in temperature through Saturday. Precipitation expected to total one - quarter inch from showers Tuesday and again Thursday or Friday.

Mrs. Margaret A. Porter, 72, of Pasadena, Calif., a former resident of the East Liverpool area and widow of Frederick G. Porter, died Saturday at 4 a. m. at the Huntington Memorial Hospital in Pasadena after an illness of three years.

Mrs. Porter was born in Chester, Nov. 12, 1892, to the late E. Grant Allison and Margaret E. Hobbs Allison. She lived here all her life except for the five years she spent in Pasadena.

She was a member of the Newell Presbyterian Church and the Colonial Club of East Liverpool. Her husband died April 6, 1933.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Jane P. Snow of Santa Maria, Calif.; three sons, William F. Porter of East Liverpool, who is president of the Globe Brick Co., Dr. Richard A. Porter of Hendersonville, N. C. and Robert G. Porter of Natrona Heights, Pa.; two sisters, Mrs. Jane Sherrard of Pasadena and Mrs. Esther Anderson of Delaware, Ohio; a brother, Burgess Allison of West Virginia and nine grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. Charles Haddock. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Early Language Development Necessary

Many people throughout our nation, who have enjoyed abundance of this world's good and who have smugly supposed everybody else lives as comfortably, have learned recently of the dire poverty in homes of various areas of our nation. This awareness has grown out of the information distributed by the press, radio and TV.

Dr. Garry Myers

Much of this information has lead to the conclusion that the lack of education is usually associated with poverty.

Public school administrators have been trying hard to improve the schools in all areas, and especially in those areas in which there is considerable poverty. They arrive at the inexorable conclusion that in these areas children are not exposed to the usual cultural opportunities afforded children in comfortable and affluent areas.

THE CULTURALLY deprived children have few or no books or other reading matter in their homes. They don't hear stimulating conversation there. They are not exposed to as good a pattern of speech as most other children are. When they enter the first grade they are handicapped with their lack of language. As they continue in school with so little enrichment of language at home they may lag in their school work.

Consequently one reads and hears of the need to provide children of culturally deprived homes with opportunities for language development, before they enter the first grade, even before they enter the kindergarten (not always available). So the kindergarten is growing in importance, especially in the poverty stricken areas.

But children usually must be five years old to enter kindergarten. What about their lack of language development in earlier years? Obviously, the public schools need to provide ways and means for children to enrich their language development at four, three or earlier.

AS YOU know, some of the larger cities with numerous large areas of cultural deprivation at home are providing public nursery schools for children in these areas. The hope is that not only will the young children themselves grow thereby in mental stimulation and consequent speech development, but that their homes might also be lifted to higher cultural levels.

Stimulated with enriched experiences in the nursery school, these children have more occasion to hear good speech from their teachers and to talk more themselves. Their teachers often tell or read stories to them. Some of the parents also are inspired to read to these young children at home.

A while ago I reported, in this column, a notable development in LaFayette, Georgia, in which mothers and retired teachers have been enlisted to volunteer to read to these children, three to four years of age, in small groups at school. I pointed out the opportunity to attract mothers to volunteer to read to small groups of children in the primary grades.

PROMISING as this practice might be in schools of any area, even in suburbs, how much more promising it might be for children in the culturally deprived areas.

You who read this column live in cultured homes. Seeing how important it is to enrich the language development of children from two to five or six in culturally deprived homes, you should easily see how important it is in your child's school education for you to read to him long before he is old enough to enter kindergarten or the first grade. I can't think of anything quite so important.

In a special bulletin, to be obtained by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review, I give 17 reasons why we should "Read to the Baby and Young Child." A related bulletin, also available, is "Letting Baby and Tot Learn."

Talks Set In Toledo's Six-Day Dairy Strike

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Negotiators meet today at City Hall in an effort to settle a strike that has cut the flow of milk to a trickle in this city of 300,000 since last Wednesday.

The meeting of representatives of six dairies and the striking Teamsters Local 361 was arranged by Mayor John Potter in response to a telegram from the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Michael J. Doyle, chairman of the city's Labor - Management Citizens Committee.

The union is demanding wage increases in a new contract covering some 500 drivers and plant workers.

Boy Sets Record For Skateboards

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — "That was a great skateboarding exhibition, sonny — what's your name?"

"My name is Buddy Smith and I'm 5 years old."

"Tell your fans here at La Palma Stadium how long you've been skateboarding."

"Twelve years."

"Twelve years?"

"Well, I'm going to count better next year when I go to school."

That interview was lifted intact from the action Sunday at the first annual International Skateboard Championships — a sort of a world series for the bubble-gum set.

The two-day competition of the rollerskate-equipped boys attracted 300 youngsters — and a few oldsters — from all over the nation. The promoters called the shenanigans "international" after four sombrero-wearing skateboarders showed up from the border city of Tijuana, Mexico.

Ohio AP Elects Officers For '65

Gene Jordan, city editor of the Columbus Dispatch, was re-elected treasurer as was Al Dopking secretary. Dopking is chief of the Ohio Bureau of the Associated Press.

The Horvitz newspapers extended an invitation to Society members to hold their fall meeting at the new Atwater Lodge near Dover on Oct. 16-17, and the society accepted.

Lisbon Pool Opening Arranged For June 5

LISBON — The Sadie VanFossan Memorial Swimming Pool is scheduled to open Saturday, June 5, at 1 p.m., with Miss Linda Neill, a student at Capital University, as manager, according to the Pool Commission.

David Halverstadt will be life guard. Dawn Richardson and Leslie Jones will work in the bathhouse and Linda Calvin will manage the concession stand.

Family season tickets now are on sale at Hamilton's and Morgan's Drug Stores at $18. Other prices are: Single adults, $11; persons 15-19, $8, and youngsters under 15, $7.

Native Of City Rescues 9 In Fire At Home

A former East Liverpool man has been credited with leading nine children to safety from a fire at Round Lake, Ill., on May 15.

On the morning of May 15, Brown awoke and smelled smoke. Thinking it might be a fire in his own home, he investigated and found the home next door was burning.

He rushed to the scene and broke down one door, allowing four children to run to safety. Brown then entered the burning house and dropped two other children out a window while carrying three others to safety.

Brown made three trips into the house to complete the rescue. The children were in one apartment house with a baby sitter while the parents of the children were away.

Brown is the son of Mrs. Leona Brown and the late M. A. Brown, 1210 Cora St. He is an instructor at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

There will probably be some meat leftover if you have served a veal shoulder roast. To use it, you may heat slices in gravy or dice the meat and add it to diced celery and apple for a hearty salad. If you prepare the salad, add French dressing (instead of mayonnaise) and serve on crisp greens.

Johnson Honors Alaskan's Work As Businessman

Donatello, 46, son of an Italian immigrant, receives a bronze plaque in ceremonies at the White House.

Donatello was selected for the award by the Small Business Administration and the National Council for Small Business Management Development.

They said he exemplifies "the imagination, initiative, independence and integrity characteristic of America's millions of small-business men."

Three SBA loans totaling $385,000 have helped Donatello develop his cleaning products manufacturing concern. It started more than 17 years ago on a part-time basis with the work done in his basement.

Donatello now has a 50,000-square-foot plant and employs seven people. They turn out soap, tallow, dog and cattle food, bleach, floor waxes, industrial cleaners, liquid starch and glycerine.

Both celery salt and paprika are good additions to a white sauce that is to be used for creamed ham or turkey.

Housing Habits Switch To Multiple Dwellings

Americans have drastically changed their housing habits.

They are rediscovering the fact that a home is not necessarily a suburban house—that it can be a mid-city apartment as well.

Building industry economists and sociologists now predict that within a few years more than half the total new housing units constructed will be multiple dwellings rather than single-family homes.

The prediction is based on trends in America's population. The nation is gaining three million people a year, and by 1970 the rate will have increased to four million.

THE BIGGEST gain is in two categories of people—the "young marrieds" and the elderly. Both are likely to choose apartments over houses.

Young married couples, the experts point out, have lmiited incomes, small families and a distaste for being tied to a long-term mortgage. They also have what the sociologists call "mobility" — a year or two from now, they are likely to be moving on in search of new opportunities.

The elderly share some of these same characteristics. They also have time on their hands, and thus a desire for the convenience and leisure - time opportunities which a city affords. They like to be close to things.

Not all of the new apartment dwellers are in these two groups, of course. Others also like the convenience of living close to their work or have grown to dislike the lawn - mowing and other chores and worries which go with owning a house in the suburbs.

ANOTHER factor in the switch to multiple dwellings has been the tightening shortage of close - in land. The postwar rush of suburban development has used up most of the choice sites around American cities.

Still another is the change in federal housing policies. Once attuned almost exclusively to suburban development, they are now providing substantial inducements for in - city apartment construction as well.

Some are linked to the federal urban renewal program, which has replaced slums with modern apartment buildings in the heart of many American communities.

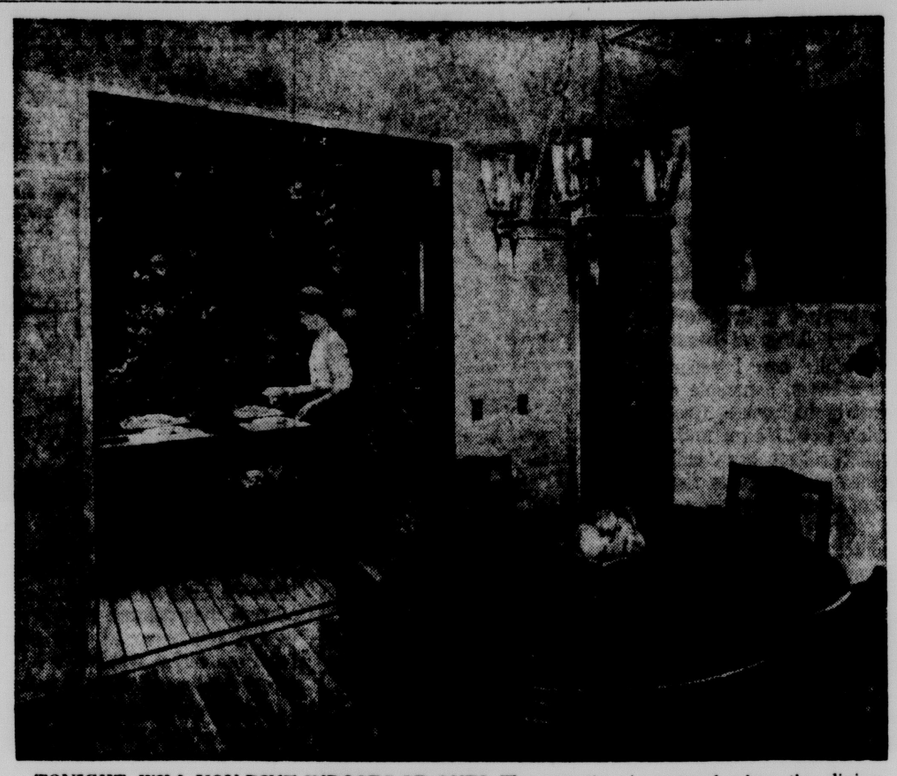

The renewal program also has had an impact on the architectural quality of multiple dwellings. It has, for one thing, permitted architects to design entire neighborhoods rather than single buildings. By sweeping away antiquated zoning and land - use requirements, it also has encouraged new combinations of housing forms.

The results in cities like Philadelphia, Washington, Detroit and San Francisco are new and pleasant mixes of tall buildings and town houses, carefully related to parking, shopping, entertainment, and open spaces in a comprehensive neighborhood design.

They have set the examples for the coming boom in the development of multi - family housing in communities of all sizes.

Wood strips applied to the edges of a marble - topped table will provide protection against chipping.

TONIGHT, WILL YOU DINE INDOORS OR OUT? The question is natural when the dining room is extended outside by a broad fir deck equipped with picnic table that remains in all weather. Arrangement makes outdoor dining completely convenient and comfortable and the deck is decoratively compatible with dining room's sophisticated western wood paneling.

Steel Awaits Output Drop

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel ingot output and finished steel shipments in May will slip below April's despite the efforts of mills to become current in deliveries, Steel Magazine predicted today.

The national metalworking weekly journal attributed the expected drop to the need to repair equipment that has been pushed hard for several months.

Steel ingot production this week will decline slightly from the 2,650,000 tons the magazine estimated were poured last week. Steel said that's equivalent to an annual rate of 139 million tons. Output in 1964 totaled a record 127 million tons.

The publication said continued strength in steel demand is prompting mills to keep controls on order acceptance.

Now that the steel labor contracts have been extended to Sept. 1, Steel said, mills are trying to catch up on shipments and get into an improved delivery position.

New ordering has subsided only moderately, Steel said, and customers have not canceled orders or requests for shipments. In fact, one mill in the Chicago area reported an increase of 20 per cent over the week ago level, making its orders flow equal to 80 per cent of capacity.

Plates continue to be the product in strongest demand, Steel said. Activity is spurred by strong construction schedules in cargo shipbuilding, deep pressure tanks, dam projects (there are now 98 underway in the U.S.), and equipment in chemical processing and refining industries, Steel added.

If You Would Beat The Heat, Now's The Time To Do It!

Don't wait till the summer's first heat wave floors you before you do something about air-conditioning your home. The time to act is now.

Spring is by far the best time to air - condition. The Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau of Chicago advises that home owners can be assured of cool comfort in the hot months just ahead by making arrangements now.

The bureau points out that as welcome as summer cooling may be, it is just one advantage of air-conditioning. Another is the filtering of dust, dirt and pollen from the air, keeping rooms cleaner and healthier.

Another benefit is the circulation of air that relieves the "stagnant" atmosphere from rooms. And one of the chief advantages of air-conditioning is dehumidification — a benefit being given more and more attention by manufacturers, health authorities and home owners.

To get all the service that manufacturers build into cooling equipment, it must be installed by a qualified plumbing and heating contractor. Many important factors must be assessed and evaluated before he installs the correct system.

He will consider the type and amount of insulation now in your home. By figuring this in relation to average outdoor temperatures, the contractor can tailor the cooling system to most economically deliver just the right amount of cooling needed.

In addition, the position of the house in its surroundings must be evaluated. Is it on a hill, in a valley, shaded by trees, in the path of prevailing northerly or southerly winds? Each of the variables must be weighed carefully. Each of them in some way alter the cooling requirements.

Mobile Home Covers A Lot Of Territory

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — It started out as a bet, but since 1960 46-year-old Harold Lovett of Toledo and his rolling "home-away-from-home" have traveled 22,000 miles through 49 of the 50 states.

Lovett, a New York Central crane operator who lives alone, has converted his 1957 model station wagon into a mobile home. It is equipped with a bed and four of its windows have screens and blinds.

The front seat supports a shelf that has been fixed up as a writing table complete with a lamp.

Lovett started touring in his station wagon after someone made him a bet three years ago that he couldn't drive the vehicle through every state in the union. Since then he has been in every state except Hawaii and also has been in 10 provinces of Canada, the Yukon and Northwest territories and into Mexico.

He recently returned to Toledo after a 28-day, 10,369-mile trip to Yellowknife, an old gold mining town in the Northwest Territory. On that trip Lovett spent only three nights out of his rolling home — that was when severe weather forced him to the shelter of motels.

Lovett says he never becomes lonesome on his lonely travels as long as the car radio keeps working. He estimates that the money he saves on accomodations just about covers the cost of gasoline used on the journeys.

Skyscraper Renews Bird Care Agreement

NEW YORK (AP) — The management of the 102-story Empire State Building Sunday, renewed its annual agreement with the National Audubon Society to turn off floodlights on the topmost floors when weather conditions pose a threat to migrating birds.

Roland C. Clement, staff biologist of the Audubon Society, said the lighting is a hazard to birds only on nights with low cloud levels, fog and rain. During these weather conditions, he said, confused birds have flown toward the high-level lights and fluttered around them until exhausted.

WAWA, Ont. (AP)—The body of a 68-year-old Ohio man was recovered but a search for his companion continued today near here in Lake Superior. The companion, believed drowned, has not been identified.

The body of Charles Davidson of Mentor was found by a police diver close to shore Sunday. Davidson and two other men were pitched into the water when their boat overturned in rough water Friday.

Finnish Crowd Hails Cleveland Orchestra

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—An audience including high Finnish dignitaries stomped on the floor and refused to leave after the Cleveland Orchestra's concert honoring Finland's national composer Jan Sibelius Sunday night.

Conductor George Szell took a dozen curtain calls and the orchestra rewarded the audience with two extra numbers.

Leather upholstery may be cleaned with saddle soap, paste wax or leather preservative. Furniture polish is not recommended because it sometimes softens the surface of the leather.

Housing Habits Switch To Multiple Dwellings

Americans have drastically changed their housing habits.

They are rediscovering the fact that a home is not necessarily a suburban house—that it can be a mid-city apartment as well.

Building industry economists and sociologists now predict that within a few years more than half the total new housing units constructed will be multiple dwellings rather than single-family homes.

The prediction is based on trends in America's population. The nation is gaining three million people a year, and by 1970 the rate will have increased to four million.

THE BIGGEST gain is in two categories of people—the "young marrieds" and the elderly. Both are likely to choose apartments over houses.

Young married couples, the experts point out, have lmiited incomes, small families and a distaste for being tied to a long-term mortgage. They also have what the sociologists call "mobility" — a year or two from now, they are likely to be moving on in search of new opportunities.

The elderly share some of these same characteristics. They also have time on their hands, and thus a desire for the convenience and leisure - time opportunities which a city affords. They like to be close to things.

Not all of the new apartment dwellers are in these two groups, of course. Others also like the convenience of living close to their work or have grown to dislike the lawn - mowing and other chores and worries which go with owning a house in the suburbs.

ANOTHER factor in the switch to multiple dwellings has been the tightening shortage of close - in land. The postwar rush of suburban development has used up most of the choice sites around American cities.

Still another is the change in federal housing policies. Once attuned almost exclusively to suburban development, they are now providing substantial inducements for in - city apartment construction as well.

It Could Be The Plumbing

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

A disturbing noise in the house can come from a barking dog, a crying infant, a vibrating vacuum cleaner motor, a slamming door — or just plain, ordinary, regular, everyday run-of-the-mill, conventional plumbing. And that last reason goes double in an older house.

Well-planned, carefully-installed plumbing systems are supposed to operate noiselessly. Usually they do.

But when time and other factors lay heavy hands on them, they develop the same ailments as systems which have not had the benefit of good planning and accurate installing. Most of the symptoms have one thing in common. They're noisy.

And they fit into such classifications as chattering, hammering, whistling and rumbling, to mention just a few.

Correcting the causes of these troubles often requires the services of a plumber, especially in areas which have strict codes regarding repairs to pipe lines carrying water. But sometimes you can take care of them yourself.

When a faucet is turned on part way and there is a chattering or whistling, the faucet washer may be loose, the faucet assembly may be worn or one or more of the pipes may be inadequately supported, probably because a suspension strap or hanger is no longer securely attached.

When there is a hammering noise as a faucet is shut off suddenly, the system lacks necessary air chambers, or those in existence are waterlogged, or there is excessive water pressure.

The solution for each condition is, in order. (1) the installation of air chambers or shock absorbers, (2) drainage of the water lines according to set procedures or (3) use of a pressure-reducing valve.

When there is a rumbling sound in the area of the water heater, the water is too hot (probably because the control is set too high) or there is some malfunctioning of the heater. If lowering the temperature of the water does not end the rumbling, call a plumber.

When there is a kind of air intake or sucking noise as water rushes down a sink or tub drain, the condition is called siphonage of the trap.

It usually indicates lack of a vent, an improper vent or a clogged vent. Sometimes an anti-siphon trap will correct the trouble, but some community codes insist on proper venting regardless of the type of trap used.

Finally, a variety of noises can occur when the insides of old pipes have become smaller because of rust and mineral deposits.

Tips Are Offered On Plywood Use

Question: A few years ago I made two cabinets out of ¾-inch plywood. I don't remember what kind of plywood it was except that it was inexpensive.

A friend of mine who bought a considerable quantity of birch plywood some time ago now finds that he does not need it, as he is moving to another state He is selling it to me at a good prive.

I hope to make three or four pieces of furniture out of it, but want to avoid the trouble I had the last time when I finished the plywood with varnish.

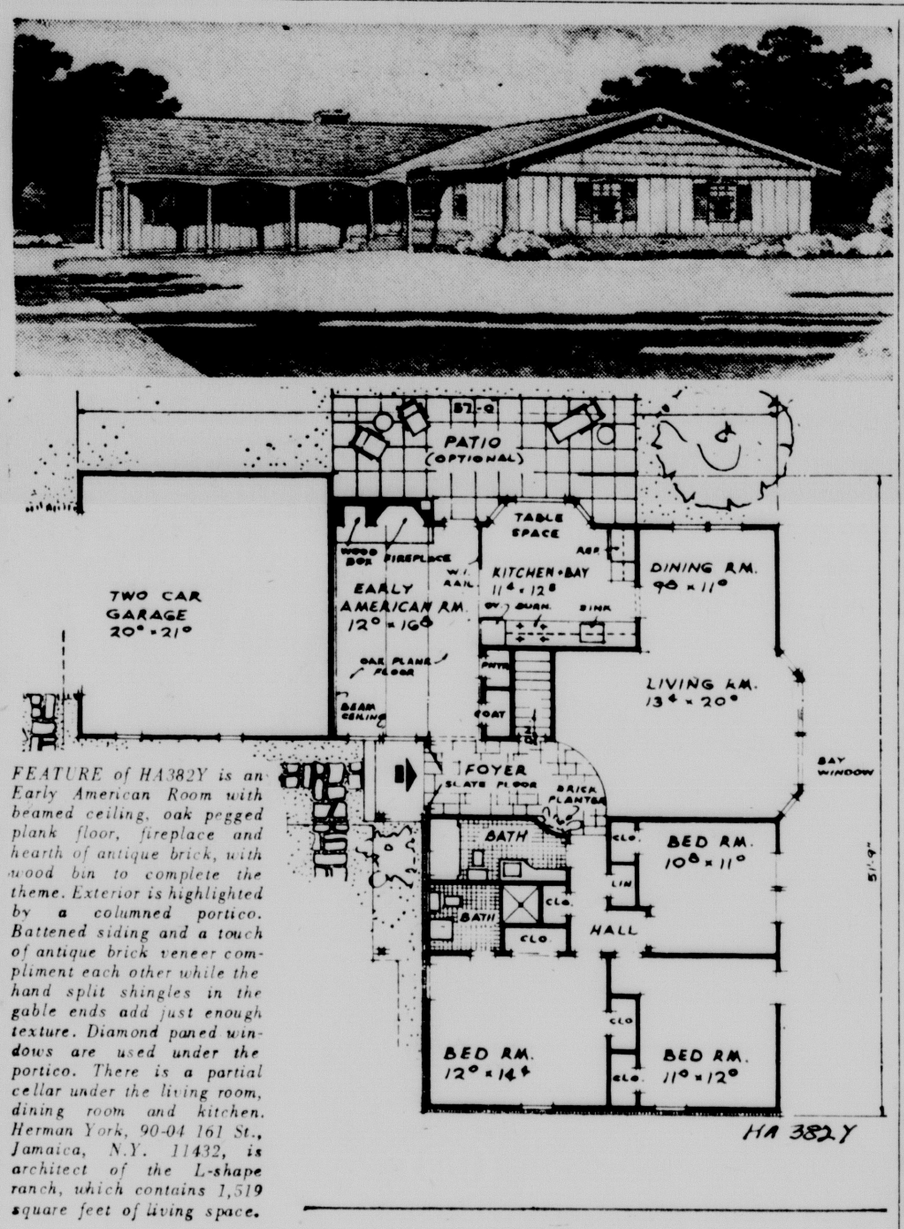

After a few months, the grain of the wood became very pronounced. Doesn't plywood take a varnish finish? Or should I have used a paste wood filler before putting on the varnish?

Answer: The answer has nothing to do with the varnish, which is a perfectly acceptable finish for that type of wool.

Since you probably used fir plywood the first time, you should have used a special sealer to tame the wild grain, then applied the varnish. No wood filler was necessary.

However, you now have birch plywood, which means that the facing is made of birch wood althought the other layers are not. Birch wood does not require the type of special sealer mentioned above. And neither does it need a paste wood filler, since it is a close-grained wood.

Some wood finishers think they get a better result by applying a liquid sealer, such as shellac, before using varnish or any other final coat.

Bomb Found In Montreal

MONTREAL (AP) — Two sticks of dynamite wrapped in newspaper were found in the main post office today less than two hours after a time bomb smashed doors and windows in downtown Montreal.

No one was injured in the explosion, which ripped doors off the 12-story Prudential of England building and broke windows on the first six floors.

It was assumed the explosion was the work of Quebec Separatists who want to separate French Canada from the English-speaking part. Today is Victoria Day, a holiday named for the British queen and honoring Canada's membership in the Commonwealth.

Two constables on patrol noticed a paper bag on the sidewalk in front of the insurance building. Stopping their car to investigate, they found four sticks of dynamite and a timing device.

The two sticks of dynamite at the post office had come in the mail. Employes became suspicious because the package had an odd shape.

Outline Of Shrubbery Eases Garden Chores

The man who does his own gardening without professional help knows that it is impossible to cut close to shrubbery without the danger of clipping away at the bottom foliage and eventually spoiling the shape of ornamental pieces.

He also knows that he must get down on his knees with a hand-clipper to cut around them.

A lawn that can be cut in a half-hour will take another half-hour for trimming around the shrubs, so that long grass and weeds will not be bunched in with the shrubs themselves and spoil an otherwise neat - looking job. It is these half-hour chores that use up the day and make a tiresome performance out of what should be a quick job.

There is an easy way to avoid this extra work, and it consists of cutting out the turf around groups of shrubs. When a lawnmower reaches a group of shrubs so treated, it can be run around the edge without interrupting your stride.

As soon as a weed or a blade of grass appears within the bare earth circle, it easily can be plucked out. The earth need only be raked occasionally to keep the planting looking neat and clean.

Aside from the fact that much of your time can be saved by treating shrubs in this manner, it is true that these circles improve the general appearance of the grounds and add an extra touch of finish.

As a rule, the bare earth should not exceed one foot from the bottom of the shrubs, the reason for this being that it is not desirable to allow a large expanse of ground to take out in the sun and affect the root system of the shrubbery.

Another good reason for the outlining method is that the bare ground will naturally be on a lower level than the lawn itself and thus act as a catch-basin for rain or sprinkling.

Gardeners Of World Should Take A Bow

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Gardeners of the world, take a bow. Here's what the mayor of Vereeniging an industrial town near Johannesburg, thinks of you:

"Gardeners are such friendly people. They swap flowers, shrubs and plants freely, give each other useful tips over the garden fence and create beauty wherever they go.

"Thus if you have a town of gardeners, you may rest assured it is also both a beautiful and friendly town."

The mayor Henry Chatterton was presenting prizes to citizens who scored tops in keeping beautiful sidewalk gardens in and around Vereeniging.

In Or Out Of Jail, Can't Escape X-Ray

SYDNEY (AP) — A Sydney man refused to have a compulsory chest X-ray, was prosecuted, and sent to jail.

But when he went to jail, he was X-rayed in the normal routine of jail admittance.

New South Wales Health Minister William F. Sheahan told reporters of the incident, but did not give the man's nam The minister said that when he heard of the jail X-ray, he had the man released in a couple of days.

Yemens' Caste System Makes India's 'Simple'

SANAA, Yemen (AP) — Yemen has a caste system which makes India's look downright simple. A man's social status is determined not only by his tribal origins — some tribes being more warlike and noble than others— but by his occupation.

The most respected job in this remote country is that of shepherd, because Yemenis have a vague, if mistaken, belief that most of the prophets, like Mohammed and Moses, were shepherds.

The second is farming. Warriors, of which there are many in this rough and ready country, follow next in social esteem.

A barber, greengrocer, water carrier or blacksmith, on the other hand, is considered to be very low on the social ladder.

In the mountain tribes of the north, the system is so rigidly observed that the female members of a tribe are not allowed to marry butchers, barbers or others of similar castes.

If a tribesman marries a greengrocer's daughter, for instance, the tribe kills him. His son, brother or father is the one usually selected to avenge the tribe's "honor."

Those whose jobs are considered lowly are so despised that even their teeth are believed to be inferior.

Most men who occupy these jobs are descendants of slaves or are of non-Arab origin.

Science fiction film fans could have the time of their lives in Trieste, Italy, from June 10 to 17 this year. Dozens of the fantasy movies will be shown in an International Festival of Science-Fantasy Films organized by the local tourist bureau.

It Could Be The Plumbing

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

A disturbing noise in the house can come from a barking dog, a crying infant, a vibrating vacuum cleaner motor, a slamming door — or just plain, ordinary, regular, everyday run-of-the-mill, conventional plumbing. And that last reason goes double in an older house.

Well-planned, carefully-installed plumbing systems are supposed to operate noiselessly. Usually they do.

But when time and other factors lay heavy hands on them, they develop the same ailments as systems which have not had the benefit of good planning and accurate installing. Most of the symptoms have one thing in common. They're noisy.

And they fit into such classifications as chattering, hammering, whistling and rumbling, to mention just a few.

Correcting the causes of these troubles often requires the services of a plumber, especially in areas which have strict codes regarding repairs to pipe lines carrying water. But sometimes you can take care of them yourself.

When a faucet is turned on part way and there is a chattering or whistling, the faucet washer may be loose, the faucet assembly may be worn or one or more of the pipes may be inadequately supported, probably because a suspension strap or hanger is no longer securely attached.

When there is a hammering noise as a faucet is shut off suddenly, the system lacks necessary air chambers, or those in existence are waterlogged, or there is excessive water pressure.

The solution for each condition is, in order, (1) the installation of air chambers or shock absorbers, (2) drainage of the water lines according to set procedures or (3) use of a pressure-reducing valve.

When there is a rumbling sound in the area of the water heater, the water is too hot (probably because the control is set too high) or there is some malfunctioning of the heater. If lowering the temperature of the water does not end the rumbling, call a plumber.

When there is a kind of air intake or sucking noise as water rushes down a sink or tub drain, the condition is called siphonage of the trap.

It usually indicates lack of a vent, an improper vent or a clogged vent. Sometimes an anti-siphon trap will correct the trouble, but some community codes insist on proper venting regardless of the type of trap used.

Finally, a variety of noises can occur when the insides of old pipes have become smaller because of rust and mineral deposits.

Tips Are Offered On Plywood Use

Question: A few years ago I made two cabinets out of ¾-inch plywood. I don't remember what kind of plywood it was except that it was inexpensive.

A friend of mine who bought a considerable quantity of birch plywood some time ago now finds that he does not need it, as he is moving to another state He is selling it to me at a good prive.

I hope to make three or four pieces of furniture out of it, but want to avoid the trouble I had the last time when I finished the plywood with varnish.

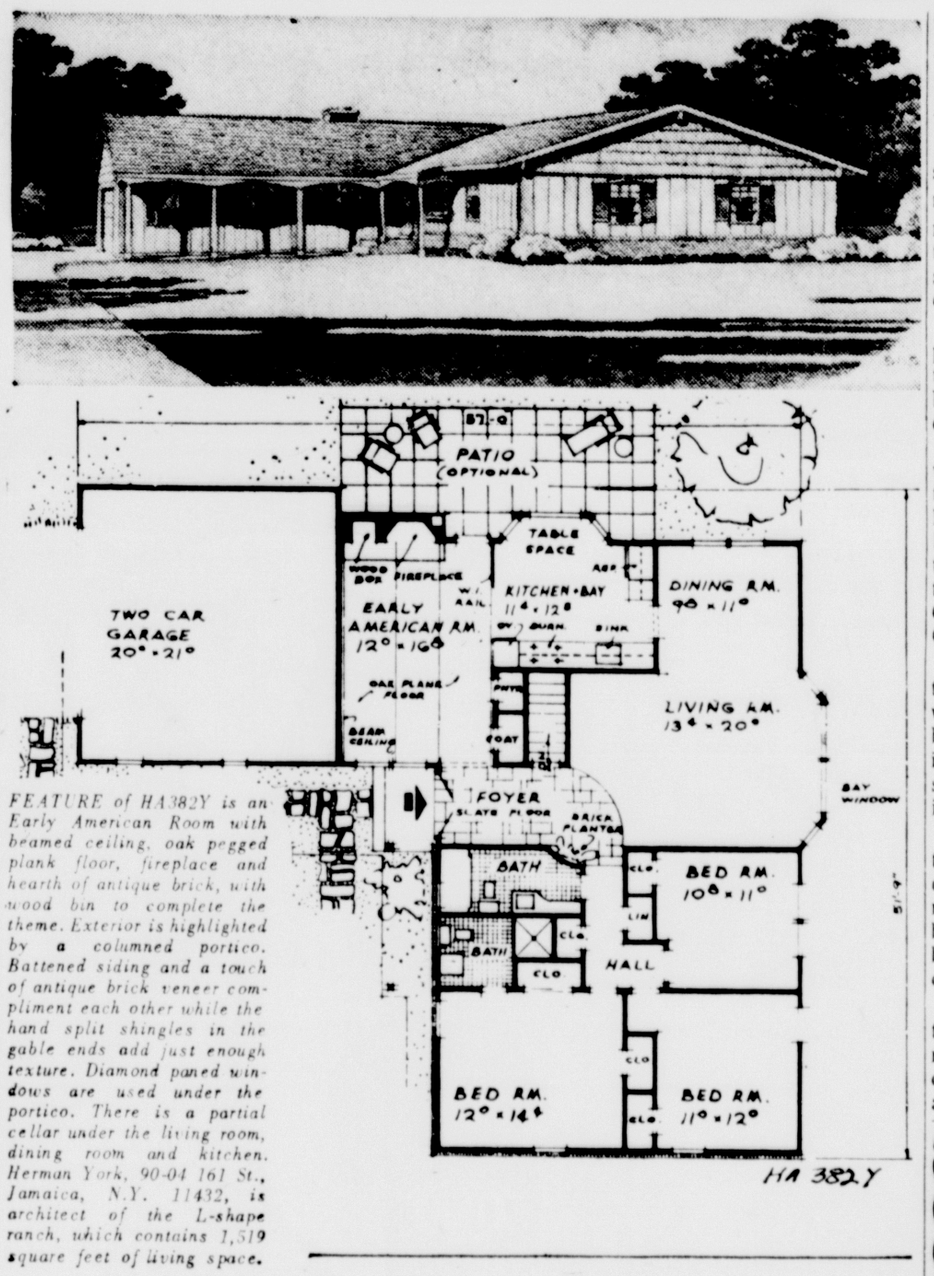

After a few months, the grain of the wood became very pronounced. Doesn't plywood take a varnish finish? Or should I have used a paste wood filler before putting on the varnish?

Answer: The answer has nothing to do with the varnish, which is a perfectly acceptable finish for that type of wool.

Since you probably used fir plywood the first time, you should have used a special sealer to tame the wild grain, then applied the varnish. No wood filler was necessary.

However, you now have birch plywood, which means that the facing is made of birch wood althought the other layers are not. Birch wood does not require the type of special sealer mentioned above. And neither does it need a paste wood filler, since it is a close-grained wood.

Some wood finishers think they get a better result by applying a liquid sealer, such as shellac, before using varnish or any other final coat.

Exterior is highlighted by a columned portico. Battened siding and a touch of antique brick veneer compliment each other while the hand split shingles in the gable ends add just enough texture. Diamond paned windows are used under the portico. There is a partial cellar under the living room, dining room and kitchen. Outline Of Shrubbery Eases Garden Chores

The man who does his own gardening without professional help knows that it is impossible to cut close to shrubbery without the danger of clipping away at the bottom foliage and eventually spoiling the shape of ornamental pieces.

He also knows that he must get down on his knees with a hand-clipper to cut around them.

A lawn that can be cut in a half-hour will take another half-hour for trimming around the shrubs, so that long grass and weeds will not be bunched in with the shrubs themselves and spoil an otherwise neat - looking job. It is these half-hour chores that use up the day and make a tiresome performance out of what should be a quick job.

There is an easy way to avoid this extra work, and it consists of cutting out the turf around groups of shrubs. When a lawnmower reaches a group of shrubs so treated, it can be run around the edge without interrupting your stride.

As soon as a weed or a blade of grass appears within the bare earth circle, it easily can be plucked out. The earth need only be raked occasionally to keep the planting looking neat and clean.

Aside from the fact that much of your time can be saved by treating shrubs in this manner, it is true that these circles improve the general appearance of the grounds and add an extra touch of finish.

As a rule, the bare earth should not exceed one foot from the bottom of the shrubs, the reason for this being that it is not desirable to allow a large expanse of ground to take out in the sun and affect the root system of the shrubbery.

Another good reason for the outlining method is that the bare ground will naturally be on a lower level than the lawn itself and thus act as a catch-basin for rain or sprinkling.

Bomb Found In Montreal

MONTREAL (AP) — Two sticks of dynamite wrapped in newspaper were found in the main post office today less than two hours after a time bomb smashed doors and windows in downtown Montreal.

No one was injured in the explosion, which ripped doors off the 12-story Prudential of England building and broke windows on the first six floors.

It was assumed the explosion was the work of Quebec Separatists who want to separate French Canada from the English-speaking part. Today is Victoria Day, a holiday named for the British queen and honoring Canada's membership in the Commonwealth.

Two constables on patrol noticed a paper bag on the sidewalk in front of the insurance building. Stopping their car to investigate, they found four sticks of dynamite and a timing device.

The two sticks of dynamite at the post office had come in the mail. Employes became suspicious because the package had an odd shape.

NORAD Facility Near Completion

CHEYENNE MOUNTAIN, Colo. (AP) — Deep inside this granite mountain, technicians have started installing secret new electronic gear that will enable U.S. commanders to react within seconds to any attack on North America.

This is the final phase of a four-year, $89-million effort to build an atom-proof command post for the North American Air Defense Command.

The NORAD command post now is above ground, about five miles away in Colorado Springs, and is vulnerable to an atomic knockout.

By early 1966, after the specially designed computers and other fancy new equipment have been checked out, the U.S. and Canadian military staff will take over the underground Combat Operations Center.

There, these keenly trained experts will maintain a 24-hour vigil for signs of impending attack by missile, bomber or satellite.

If attack should come, the NORAD commander in chief and his battle staff would "button up" behind a brace of 15-ton steel blast doors and call the shots for the defense — sending up jet interceptor fighter planes, launching antimissile and antisatellite weapons.

Air Force officers claim this complex of steel buildings — resting on 937 unique antishock springs and wedged into a network of tunnels beneath about 1,000 feet of solid granite—would be safe from all but perhaps a direct hit by the biggest hydrogen warhead imaginable.

The engineers bent special efforts to making certain there is continuous communication between the Combat Operations Center and the outside world — a serious deficiency in the present above ground command post whose communications lines are exposed to possible interruption.

All phone cables are buried in steel conduits several feet below ground. They are embedded in granite and sheathed in concrete, steel and copper.

The normal 300-man staff manning the center would swell to about 800 in a "button up" emergency.

To prepare for this, the Cheyenne Mountain complex has been designed as a sort of underground town with the capability to sustain its population for about 30 days without outside contact.

Inside the windowless walls of the 11 interconnected rectangular steel buildings are dormitories, mess halls, food storage areas, offices, computer rooms and the main theater where the battle staff would assemble.

The center has its own seven-room hospital, with separate places for major and minor surgery, a recovery room, laboratory, dental clinic and other facilities.

There is nothing outside the 9,565-foot-mountain — "a tough old lady," one officer called it — to indicate what is inside. The entrance, reached from a road winding up the mountainside, looks like the mouth of a railroad tunnel.

The entrance tunnel runs for about a quarter-mile inside the mountain before reaching the main opening the command center. The tunnel is curved, in part to lessen blast effects.

At this inner approach to the center, crews will emplace the giant eight-inch-thick blast doors spaced about 50 feet apart. One of the motor-driven doors will be kept closed at all times.

In all, contractors supervised by the Army Engineers blasted about a million tons of granite out of the mountain to create the three miles of tunnels. It took a million pounds of dynamite to do that job.

Information is the lifeline of the North American Air Defense Command. Without the latest, most complete and fastest information, the NORAD commandor would be gravely hampered in reaching what could be life-or-death judgments.

He must be able to communicate those judgments to Washington, the Strategic Air Command, and to Ottawa, Canada's capital.

Into the combat operations center must flow an unending stream of data on aircraft approaching North America, on suspicious submarines off the coasts, on satellites whirring overhead, on readings from the giant missile-warning radar screens.

The high-speed computers gobble up this data, along with inputs reflecting the degree of Communist military readiness, deployments of Red forces and even political factors.

In as short a time as 11 seconds, the electronic brains can digest this information, interpret it and then display it on two screens facing the NORAD commander in his theater at the heart of the underground complex.

750 Attend Lisbon's Baccalaureate Rites

LISBON — Glen Logston, pastor of the N. Beaver St. Church of Christ, dleivered the baccalaureate sermon to over 100 seniors Sunday evening in David Anderson High School gymnasium. Approximately 750 attended.

The Rev. Frederick Shiltz of the Lisbon Elkton Methodist Churches gave the invocation and benediction and read the Scripture. James Kennedy, music instructor, directed a chorus in "Oh God, Creator Blest" and "There Is a Balm in Gilead." Jerome Mason, a junior, played the processional and recessional.

Commencement will be held June 4 at 7 p. m. in War Memorial Stadium, according to Principal George Nace Jr.

Mediator Chief Sees Strikes As Outmoded

WASHINGTON (AP)—Strikes may go out of style some day, and "the strike weapon has become an almost useless union pressure method in a few industries," Chief Federal Mediator William E. Simkin told Congress in an annual report Sunday.

The director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said "many unions or employers still feel, rightly or wrongly, that they cannot reach the most advantageous deal until they demonstrate brinkmanship almost to the very point of the midnight deadline."

He added, however:

"Solutions reached through careful, calm consideration are likely to be more responsible and effective than those negotiated under the gun."

Car Bumps Scooter

LISBON — A backing auto driven by Zane L. Farmer, 43, of R. D. 4 bumped a parked motor scooter owned by Robert A. Brooks, 19, also of R. D. 4, in a mishap Sunday at 8 p. m. in the 100 block of E. Lincoln Way, police said.

Wellsville Paints Park's Fountains

The water will be turned on shortly for the summer, according to Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare.

The street crew also was replacing a fire hydrant at 12th and Commerce Sts. today. It will not be necessary to turn off the water in the area as there is a valve in the line feeding the hydrant, the director said.

A water leak on 3rd St. has been repaired. It was an old lead service line that had been cut off and crimped on the end.

The crew worked over a week finding the leak. The main is eight and a half feet deep along the street and it was necessary to dig up several places to find the bad line, the director said. The excavation has been filled, but the barricades have been left in place to allow the dirt to settle.

Driver Cited On 2 Counts After Crash

A Steubenville man was arrested on two charges after his car struck three others in Wellsville Saturday night.

Police said Robert Evans of Steubenville fled the scene of the crash and was apprehended by East Liverpool police, who were alerted by radio.

Evans was headed east on Main St. when he hit a car operated by Willis Murray Jr., 321 10th St., Wellsville, as he rounded the turn at 3rd St., Wellsville, police said.

Evans then drove across the street and hit two parked cars in the driveway of the home of John Stout, 301 Main St.

He failed to halt and continued toward East Liverpool, police said. Witnesses provided a description of the car, which was used in his apprehension.

Evans was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Evans was fined a total of $300 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail at a hearing this morning before Mayor William Daugherty.

He was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to three days for driving while under the influence and $100 and costs and two days in jail for leaving the scene.

David Lee Mobley, 2017 Chester Ave., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs this morning by Mayor Daughtery for operating an unsafe vehicle. He was cited Friday morning after his car collided with one driven by Mrs. Rose Trainer, 509 15th St., Wellsville, and then veered off and hit another driven by Robert Ledger of Cadiz. Mobley told police his brakes failed.

Kenneth Zellers of Lisbon R.D. 4 is slated to receive a hearing Saturday for operating a car without a muffler. He was arrested Sunday at 7:25 p. m. at 17th St. and Maple Ave., police said.

Driver Dies At Wheel, Car Kills 1 Australian

PERTH, Australia (AP) — With a dead driver slumped over the wheel, a car careened through Perth's crowded main shopping district this morning, killing one woman and injuring 11 others including a 2-year-old child.

The driver, 69-year-old Leslie Miller, was believed to have had a heart attack while driving through the city. His sedan plunged out of control through traffic lights and through shopping crowds before crashing to a halt against a shopfront support.

30,000 Greeks Stage 'Peace Appeal' March

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — About 30,000 Greeks marched 25 miles from ancient Marathon to Athens Sunday demanding world peace.

Jonas Named President In Austrian Vote

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Vienna's Socialist mayor, Franz Jonas, was elected president of Austria Sunday by the closest margin in recent history.

The vote count was 2,324,474 to 2,260,992. There were about 94,000 blank ballots, apparently cast by those who wanted an independent candidate to run.

Jonas' term runs for six years. He succeeds Adolf Schaerf, who died in February during his second term. Under the Austrian constitution, new elections are called when a president dies.

Gorbach piled up more votes than any Conservative candidate since 1945 for the traditionally Socialist office. The close outcome raised the party's hopes of increasing their 18 seats in the 165-seat Parliament in the 1966 elections.

Jonas' strength was assured in Vienna where he got 647,960 votes against Gorbach's 474,468. He also carried the industrial provinces of Styria, Carinthia and Burgenland. Gorbach's main strength was in the Alpine provinces.

Austria has a coalition government of Socialists and Conservatives.

Traditionally the premier is a Conservative and the president a Socialist.

The constitution requires the president to be nonpartisan and to guard over domestic political peace. Jonas pledged: "I will be a president for all Austrians."

Many of his duties are ceremonial, but he takes a hand in the formation of new governments and can exercise considerable influence at that time.

He is the first president without a university degree.

The son of a poor worker, Jonas apprenticed as a typesetter and spent 15 years at the trade before becoming a Socialist party official in 1932.

He was elected mayor of the city of 1.8 million in 1951 and concentrated on building low-rent homes, hospitals, kindergartens and bridges and restoring the city as one of Europe's chief tourist attractions.

City Driver's Unhurt In Route 30 Collision

An East Liverpool youth escaped unhurt and two Duquesne men were treated at Ohio Valley Hospital in McKees Rocks for minor injuries suffered in a two - car accident Saturday night on Pennsylvania Route 30, about a mile east of Route 18.

State Police at the Carnegie Barracks said Jerry Paul Calhoon, 17, of 408 W. 5th St., had passed two autos and was attempting to return to his side of the road when he sideswiped an auto driven by John F. Timko, 28, traveling in the opposite direction.

Queen Will Be Chosen 'Railroad Centennial'

LISBON—The Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a "Miss Railroad Centennial" contest in Columbiana County.

The contest will be held July 17 at the Fairgrounds as the opening event in a weeklong celebration commemorating the first railroad in Lisbon.

All single girls residing in the county and between the ages of 16 and 25 are eligible. Contestants must wear evening gowns for the dance and crowning ceremony to be held at the Floral Hall. Trophies will be awarded the queen and court. She will reign for the centennial week festivities.

Applications can be obtained at many business establishments in the county displaying centennial posters or by contacting Howard Rose, 130 Pritchard Ave. The deadline is June 26.

Defense Center

NORAD Facility Near Completion

CHEYENNE MOUNTAIN, Colo. (AP) — Deep inside this granite mountain, technicians have started installing secret new electronic gear that will enable U.S. commanders to react within seconds to any attack on North America.

This is the final phase of a four-year, $89-million effort to build an atom-proof command post for the North American Air Defense Command.

The NORAD command post now is above ground, about five miles away in Colorado Springs, and is vulnerable to an atomic knockout.

By early 1966, after the specially designed computers and other fancy new equipment have been checked out, the U.S. and Canadian military staff will take over the underground Combat Operations Center.

There, those keenly trained experts will maintain a 24-hour vigil for signs of impending attack by missile, bomber or satellite.

If attack should come, the NORAD commander in chief and his battle staff would "button up" behind a brace of 15-ton steel blast doors and call the shots for the defense — sending up jet interceptor fighter planes, launching antimissile and antisatellite weapons.

Air Force officers claim this complex of steel buildings — resting on 937 unique antishock springs and wedged into a network of tunnels beneath about 1,000 feet of solid granite—would be safe from all but perhaps a direct hit by the biggest hydrogen warhead imaginable.

The engineers bent special efforts to making certain there is continuous communication between the Combat Operations Center and the outside world — a serious deficiency in the present above ground command post whose communications lines are exposed to possible interruption.

All phone cables are buried in steel conduits several feet below ground. They are embedded in granite and sheathed in concrete, steel and copper.

The normal 306-man staff manning the center would swell to about 800 in a "button up" emergency.

To prepare for this, the Cheyenne Mountain complex has been designed as a sort of underground town with the capability to sustain its population for about 30 days without outside contact.

Inside the windowless walls of the 11 interconnected rectangular steel buildings are dormitories, mess halls, food storage areas, offices, computer rooms and the main theater where the battle staff would assemble.

The center has its own seven-room hospital, with separate places for major and minor surgery, a recovery room, laboratory, dental clinic and other facilities.

There is nothing outside the 9,565-foot-mountain — "a tough old lady," one officer called it — to indicate what is inside. The entrance, reached from a road winding up the mountainside, looks like the mouth of a railroad tunnel.

The entrance tunnel runs for about a quarter-mile inside the mountain before reaching the main opening the command center. The tunnel is curved, in part to lessen blast effects.

At this inner approach to the center, crews will emplace the giant eight-inch-thick blast doors spaced about 50 feet apart. One of the motor-driven doors will be kept closed at all times.

In all, contractors supervised by the Army Engineers blasted about a million tons of granite out of the mountain to create the three miles of tunnels. It took a million pounds of dynamite to do that job.

Information is the lifeline of the North American Air Defense Command. Without the latest, most complete and fastest information, the NORAD commandor would be gravely hampered ir reaching what could be life-or-death judgments.

He must be able to communicate those judgments to Washington, the Strategic Air Command, and to Ottawa, Canada's capital.

Into the combat operations center must flow an unending stream of data on aircraft approaching North America, on suspicious submarines off the coasts, on satellites whirring overhead, on readings from the giant missile-warning radar screens.

The high-speed computers gobble up this data, along with inputs reflecting the degree of Communist military readiness, deployments of Red forces and even political factors.

In as short a time as 11 seconds, the electronic brains can digest this information, interpret it and then display it on two screens facing the NORAD commander in his theater at the heart of the underground complex.

750 Attend Lisbon's Baccalaureate Rites

LISBON — Glen Logston, pastor of the N. Beaver St. Church of Christ, dleivered the baccalaureate sermon to over 100 seniors Sunday evening in David Anderson High School gymnasium. Approximately 750 attended.

The Rev. Frederick Shiltz of the Lisbon Elkton Methodist Churches gave the invocation and benediction and read the Scripture. James Kennedy, music instructor, directed a chorus in "Oh God, Creator Blest" and "There Is a Balm in Gilead." Jerome Mason, a junior, played the processional and recessional.

Commencement will be held June 4 at 7 p. m. in War Memorial Stadium, according to Principal George Nace Jr.

Mediator Chief Sees Strikes As Outmoded

WASHINGTON (AP)—Strikes may go out of style some day, and "the strike weapon has become an almost useless union pressure method in a few industries," Chief Federal Mediator William E. Simkin told Congress in an annual report Sunday.

The director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said "many unions or employers still feel, rightly or wrongly, that they cannot reach the most advantageous deal until they demonstrate brinkmanship almost to the very point of the midnight deadline."

He added, however:

"Solutions reached through careful, calm consideration are likely to be more responsible and effective than those negotiated under the gun."

Car Bumps Scooter

LISBON — A backing auto driven by Zane L. Farmer, 43, of R. D. 4 bumped a parked motor scooter owned by Robert A. Brooks, 19, also of R. D. 4, in a mishap Sunday at 8 p. m. in the 100 block of E. Lincoln Way, police said.

Wellsville Paints Park's Fountains

The fountains in the Wellsville Broadway park area were being painted today.

The water will be turned on shortly for the summer, according to Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare.

The street crew also was replacing a fire hydrant at 13th and Commerce Sts. today. It will not be necessary to turn off the water in the area as there is a valve in the line feeding the hydrant, the director said.

A water leak on 3rd St. has been repaired. It was an old lead service line that had been cut off and crimped on the end.

The crew worked over a week finding the leak. The main is eight and a half feet deep along the street and it was necessary to dig up several places to find the bad line, the director said. The excavation has been filled, but the barricades have been left in place to allow the dirt to settle.

Driver Cited On 2 Counts After Crash

A Steubenville man was arrested on two charges after his car struck three others in Wellsville Saturday night.

Police said Robert Evans of Steubenville fled the scene of the crash and was apprehended by East Liverpool police, who were alerted by radio.

Evans was headed east on Main St. when he hit a car operated by Willis Murray Jr., 321 10th St., Wellsville, as he rounded the turn at 3rd St., Wellsville, police said.

Evans then drove across the street and hit two parked cars in the driveway of the home of John Stout, 301 Main St.

He failed to halt and continued toward East Liverpool, police said. Witnesses provided a description of the car, which was used in his apprehension.

Evans was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Evans was fined a total of $300 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail at a hearing this morning before Mayor William Daugherty.

He was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to three days for driving while under the influence and $100 and costs and two days in jail for leaving the scene.

David Lee Mobley, 2017 Chester Ave., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs this morning by Mayor Daughtery for operating an unsafe vehicle. He was cited Friday morning after his car collided with one driven by Mrs. Rose Trainer, 509 15th St., Wellsville, and then veered off and hit another driven by Robert Ledger of Cadiz. Mobley told police his brakes failed.

Kenneth Zellers of Lisbon R.D. 4 is slated to receive a hearing Saturday for operating a car without a muffler. He was arrested Sunday at 7:25 p. m. at 17th St. and Maple Ave., police said.

Driver Dies At Wheel, Car Kills 1 Australian

PERTH, Australia (AP) — With a dead driver slumped over the wheel, a car careened through Perth's crowded main shopping district this morning, killing one woman and injuring 11 others including a 2-year-old child.

The driver, 69-year-old Leslie Miller, was believed to have had a heart attack while driving through the city. His sedan plunged out of control through traffic lights and through shopping crowds before crashing to a halt against a shopfront support.

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — About 30,000 Greeks marched 25 miles from ancient Marathon to Athens Sunday demanding world peace.

Jonas Named President In Austrian Vote

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Vienna's Socialist mayor, Franz Jonas, was elected president of Austria Sunday by the closest margin in recent history.

The vote count was 2,324,474 to 2,260,992. There were about 94,000 blank ballots, apparently cast by those who wanted an independent candidate to run.

Jonas' term runs for six years. He succeeds Adolf Schaerf, who died in February during his second term. Under the Austrian constitution, new elections are called when a president dies.

Gorbach piled up more votes than any Conservative candidate since 1945 for the traditionally Socialist office. The close outcome raised the party's hopes of increasing their 18 seats in the 165-seat Parliament in the 1966 elections.

Dome Works Against Astros; Cubs Nip Dodgers In 16th

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

What's up in the National League, when three outfielders aren't enough at Houston and two are quite sufficient at Chicago?

The Los Angeles Dodgers unveiled a unique two-outfielder defensive alignment at Chicago Sunday — and got away with it — but even with three outfielders the Astros were unable to defend against The Dome.

The Dome turned on the Astros in the first inning when Jim Wynn found the glare too hard to handle and lost a fly ball by Jim Ray Hart that went for an inside-the-park homer with two men on and started the San Francisco Giants on the way to a 5-2 victory.

Houston officials quickly went to work, and said they would paint the plastic bubble, which is what they did last time. Only this time pastels are out. The color scheme will either be green, blue or black.

Pitcher Ken Johnson, who last year lost a no-hitter and turned out to be the latest victim of The Dome, had no comment. Three innings after he left the game it was announced that he had been traded to Milwaukee for outfielder Lee Maye.

The Dodgers, meanwhile, pulled their unique player shift in the 12th inning of a 3-2, 16-inning loss to the Cubs.

With one man on and pitcher Lindy McDaniel up for Chicago, Dodger Manager Walt Alston brought right-fielder Ron Fairly in to play first and moved first-baseman Wes Parker halfway up the line between home and first, guarding against the obvious bunt situation.

The shift worked. McDaniel bunted foul on the third strike.

Elsewhere in the NL, the St. Louis Cardinals outlasted the New York Mets 8-7 in 12 innings for their fifth straight victory and 10th in 11 games, Philadelphis edged Cincinnati 4-3 in 10 innings and Pittsburgh crushed Milwaukee 10-1.

The Cubs had collected only one hit from the 12th through 15th innings off Dodger reliever Jim Brewer but Howie Reed came on in the 16th, was tagged for a double by Ernie Banks and then lost his control.

He walked Doug Clemens intentionally but fired a wild pitch that let the runners move up a base. So he issued another intentional walk to Vic Reznovsky. Then he proceeded to walk pinch-hitter George Altman and force in the winning run.

The Mets built a 7-0 lead after seven innings on a pair of two-run homers by Bob Taylor and Charley Smith's three-run double.

two-run homer off Gary Kroll in the eighth, and the Cardinals.

But Tim McCarver cracked a tied it with a five-run ninth that started with Roy McMillan fumbling a grounder and finished with Ron Swoboda falling down on a routine fly by Dal Maxvill that went for a bases-loaded triple.

The Phillies won it in the 10th after Cincinnati reliever Gerry Arrigo seemed to have pitched out of a bases-loaded and none-out situation.

Frank Thomas' single, a double by Alex Johnson and a walk filled the bases before Arrigo struck out Johnny Callison. Arrigo then got Cookie Rojas to lift a fly to Vada Pinson. Pinson's throw home had pinch runner John Herrnstein doubled up as he attempted to score from third but he rammed into catcher Johnny Edwards and jarred the ball loose.

Clay 'Eyes' Upset During Weigh-In

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — Police from the state, county and city kept a round-the-clock guard over Cassius Clay today while the heavyweight champion was cooking up another crazy plot aimed at upsetting Sonny Liston at the weigh-in Tuesday.

"It's going to be more exciting than the last one," promised Mighty Mouth. If it even matches the wild scenes of Feb. 25, 1964 at Miami Beach, then the Tuesday night return fight may almost take a back-seat to the ceremony of the scales.

The cocky, poem-spouting Clay claims he "psyched" Liston into defeat with his seemingly hysterical outbursts before the first fight. The brash youngster ranted and raved, stomped and yelled. But that night he won the world crown when Liston quit on his stool after the sixth round, claiming an injured left shoulder.

Although the 23-year-old undefeated champion declared he wasn't afraid of any possible attack on him by followers of the slain Malcolm X—who left the Black Muslim group of which Clay is a member—uniformed police, supported by plain-clothesmen, guarded Clay's motel room and followed him wherever he went.

"No man scares me," said Clay. "You gonna scare people out of the arena. You gonna scare Liston. You can bring in an army but you won't scare me."

Despite the scare talk — which Clay called newspaper talk — the odds favoring Liston dropped from 8-5 to 13-10 and may even fall to even money or swing to Clay by fight time, 9:30 p.m., EST.

Liston was a 7-1 favorite for the first fight. A poll of newsmen from all over the globe showed a surprising 42-32 edge for Clay.

Clay, finished with his training, was advising newsmen to pick him this time.

"You didn't listen to me before," said Clay. "Now I'm telling you, I'm gonna wear him out and then move in for the kill just like the last time."

"I don't care what that man says or does," said Liston. "I'm gonna catch up to him sometime and get him. He may run but not forever. I'm in the best shape of my life. My left shoulder is fine."

Only a comparative handful will see the fight live, but it will be beamed across the country to 258 arenas and theaters, will be radio broadcast by the Mutual Broadcasting System and beamed overseas to England by Early Bird transmission.

Ohio U. Wins Conference Sports Title

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University won the baseball and golf championships over the weekend to win the Mid-American Conference All-Sports Trophy for the fourth time in the past six years.

The two spring sports titles pushed the Bobcats' nine-sport over-all total to 47.5 points, three better than Bowling Green's 44.5 and three and a half ahead of Miami's 44. Western Michigan, which also won two championships in the spring sports festival here, was next with 42, followed by Kent State 29, Toledo 23.5 and Marshall 18.5.

The Bobcats wrapped up the baseball title with a neat 10-2 victory over Kent State, giving them an 11-1 conference mark.

Ohio's golf victory was by 23 strokes over second-place Marshall's 764. Bowling Green was third with 767, Western Michigan had 768, Miami 771, Toledo 783 and Kent 786.

Nine records were shattered as Western Michigan walked off with its ninth straight track title, winning five of the 15 events and amassing 62 points.

Bowling Green was second with 54 while Miami and Ohio U. shared third place with 41. Kent State had 39, Toledo 15 and Marshall 3.

WASHINGTON'S Ken McMullen is safe at home as he scores from third in Sunday's game at Yankee Stadium. He scored on Frank Howard's grounder to Bobby Richardson who made a bad throw to catcher Bob Schmidt (47) as the ball bounces in front of home plate. (UPI Telephoto)

Little League Opens Today

Three games today will open the East Liverpool Little League baseball season.

Chester Legion will meet the Medics at Hilbert Field while McBurney's plays Burbick's at LaCroft. The third game finds Veteran Plate Glass meeting Golden Star at Thompson Park.

Three games also are scheduled for Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Wednesdays will be used for makeup games.

Marion Women Win Pin Crown At Middletown

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Five Marion women—three of whom said they only started bowling three years ago—are the winners of the 39th annual Ohio Women's Bowling Association Tournament.

Mrs. Mabel Wright and her daughter Sharon, along with Dena Oswald, Helen Mochel and Miriam Hart, knocked down a total of 2,716 pins last weekend to gain the title for the Pleasant Paint Store team. Their total handicap score was 3,124.

The Wrights and Miss Mochel said they only started bowling three years ago. Sharon Wright led the winning team with 604 pins.

Shrimp can be found in all of the coastal states of the United States.

Miss Wright Unhappy But Wins Crown

DALLAS (AP) — You would have thought Mickey Wright regretted winning the $14,500 Dallas Civitan Open Golf Tournament.

"I never less enjoyed a round in my life," she said, after finishing up with a poor four-over-par 75 and 283 for 72 holes. It gave her a one-stroke victory over Kathy Whitworth.

Mickey, women's golf's greatest player, is retiring this year. She is intent on making a grand showing to close out her career but the way she looked Sunday, she may be thinking that she waited too long to quit.

"It was one of the toughest rounds I ever played," she declared. She obviously was referring to the double bogey she took on the second hole and two straight bogeys after that.

She explained that she was all keyed up and the rain drained her of emotion so that she didn't have enough left to combat it.

"Usually when it rains you wipe off your arms and wipe off your glasses and go ahead, but somehow today that seemed like too much to do," she declared.

Miss Wright had started the final round with a three-stroke lead but this had evaporated when she passed the third hole.

It was Miss Wright's third Civitan title, tying her with Louise Suggs for the most won, and it was her second tournament victory of the year, tying her with Miss Whitworth.

The Civitan was Mickey's 65th tournament victory in 10 years on the tour. This is the most tournaments any woman has ever won.

Dome Works Against Astros; Cubs Nip Dodgers In 16th

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

What's up in the National League, when three outfielders aren't enough at Houston and two are quite sufficient at Chicago?

The Los Angeles Dodgers unveiled a unique two-outfielder defensive alignment at Chicago Sunday — and got away with it — but even with three outfielders the Astros were unable to defend against The Dome.

The Dome turned on the Astros in the first inning when Jim Wynn found the glare too hard to handle and lost a fly ball by Jim Ray Hart that went for an inside-the-park homer with two men on and started the San Francisco Giants on the way to a 5-2 victory.

Houston officials quickly went to work, and said they would paint the plastic bubble, which is what they did last time. Only this time pastels are out. The color scheme will either be green, blue or black.

Pitcher Ken Johnson, who last year lost a no-hitter and turned out to be the latest victim of The Dome, had no comment. Three innings after he left the game it was announced that he had been traded to Milwaukee for outfielder Lee Maye.

The Dodgers, meanwhile, pulled their unique player shift in the 12th inning of a 3-2, 16-inning loss to the Cubs.

With one man on and pitcher Lindy McDaniel up for Chicago, Dodger Manager Walt Alston brought right-fielder Ron Fairly in to play first and moved first-baseman Wes Parker halfway up the line between home and first, guarding against the obvious bunt situation.

The shift worked. McDaniel bunted foul on the third strike.

Elsewhere in the NL, the St. Louis Cardinals outlasted the New York Mets 8-7 in 12 innings for their fifth straight victory and 10th in 11 games, Philadelphis edged Cincinnati 4-3 in 10 innings and Pittsburgh crushed Milwaukee 10-1.

The Cubs had collected only one hit from the 12th through 15th innings off Dodger reliever Jim Brewer but Howie Reed came on in the 16th, was tagged for a double by Ernie Banks and then lost his control.

He walked Doug Clemens intentionally but fired a wild pitch that let the runners move up a base. So he issued another intentional walk to Vic Reznovsky. Then he proceeded to walk pinch-hitter George Altman and force in the winning run.

The Mets built a 7-0 lead after seven innings on a pair of two-run homers by Bob Taylor and Charley Smith's three-run double.

two-run homer off Gary Kroll in the eighth, and the Cardinals

But Tim McCarver cracked a tied it with a five-run ninth that started with Roy McMillan fumbling a grounder and finished with Ron Swoboda falling down on a routine fly by Dal Maxvill that went for a bases-loaded triple.

The Phillies won it in the 10th after Cincinnati reliever Gerry Arrigo seemed to have pitched out of a bases-loaded and none-out situation.

Frank Thomas' single, a double by Alex Johnson and a walk filled the bases before Arrigo struck out Johnny Callison. Arrigo then got Cookie Rojas to lift a fly to Vada Pinson. Pinson's throw home had pinch runner John Herrnstein doubled up as he attempted to score from third but he rammed into catcher Johnny Edwards and jarred the ball loose.

Clay 'Eyes' Upset During Weigh-In

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — Police from the state, county and city kept a round-the-clock guard over Cassius Clay today while the heavyweight champion was cooking up another crazy plot aimed at upsetting Sonny Liston at the weigh-in Tuesday.

"It's going to be more exciting than the last one," promised Mighty Mouth. If it even matches the wild scenes of Feb. 25, 1964 at Miami Beach, then the Tuesday night return fight may almost take a back-seat to the ceremony of the scales.

The cocky, poem-spouting Clay claims he "psyched" Liston into defeat with his seemingly hysterical outbursts before the first fight. The brash youngster ranted and raved, stomped and yelled. But that night he won the world crown when Liston quit on his stool after the sixth round, claiming an injured left shoulder.

Although the 23-year-old undefeated champion declared he wasn't afraid of any possible attack on him by followers of the slain Malcolm X—who left the Black Muslim group of which Clay is a member—uniformed police, supported by plain-clothesmen, guarded Clay's motel room and followed him wherever he went.

"No man scares me," said Clay. "You gonna scare people out of the arena. You gonna scare Liston. You can bring in an army but you won't scare me."

Despite the scare talk — which Clay called newspaper talk — the odds favoring Liston dropped from 8-5 to 13-10 and may even fall to even money or swing to Clay by fight time, 9:30 p.m., EST.

Liston was a 7-1 favorite for the first fight. A poll of newsmen from all over the globe showed a surprising 42-32 edge for Clay.

Clay, finished with his training, was advising newsmen to pick him this time.

"You didn't listen to me before," said Clay. "Now I'm telling you, I'm gonna wear him out and then move in for the kill just like the last time."

"I don't care what that man says or does," said Liston. "I'm gonna catch up to him sometime and get him. He may run but not forever. I'm in the best shape of my life. My left shoulder is fine."

Only a comparative handful will see the fight live, but it will be beamed across the country to 258 arenas and theaters, will be radio broadcast by the Mutual Broadcasting System and beamed overseas to England by Early Bird transmission.

Ohio U. Wins Conference Sports Title

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University won the baseball and golf championships over the weekend to win the Mid-American Conference All-Sports Trophy for the fourth time in the past six years.

The two spring sports titles pushed the Bobcats' nine-sport over-all total to 47.5 points, three better than Bowling Green's 44.5 and three and a half ahead of Miami's 44. Western Michigan, which also won two championships in the spring sports festival here, was next with 42, followed by Kent State 29, Toledo 23.5 and Marshall 18.5.

The Bobcats wrapped up the baseball title with a neat 10-2 victory over Kent State, giving them an 11-1 conference mark.

Ohio's golf victory was by 23 strokes over second-place Marshall's 764. Bowling Green was third with 767, Western Michigan had 768, Miami 771, Toledo 783 and Kent 786.

Nine records were shattered as Western Michigan walked off with its ninth straight track title, winning five of the 15 events and amassing 62 points.

Bowling Green was second with 54 while Miami and Ohio U. shared third place with 41. Kent State had 39, Toledo 15 and Marshall 3.

WASHINGTON'S Ken McMullen is safe at home as he scores from third in Sunday's game at Yankee Stadium. He scored on Frank Howard's grounder to Bobby Richardson who made a bad throw to catcher Bob Schmidt (47) as the ball bounces in front of home plate. (UPI Telephoto)

Three games today will open the East Liverpool Little League baseball season.

Three games also are scheduled for Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Wednesdays will be used for makeup games.

Marion Women Win Pin Crown At Middletown

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Five Marion women—three of whom said they only started bowling three years ago—are the winners of the 39th annual Ohio Women's Bowling Association Tournament.

Mrs. Mabel Wright and her daughter Sharon, along with Dena Oswald, Helen Mochel and Miriam Hart, knocked down a total of 2,716 pins last weekend to gain the title for the Pleasant Paint Store team. Their total handicap score was 3,124.

The Wrights and Miss Mochel said they only started bowling three years ago. Sharon Wright led the winning team with 604 pins.

Miss Wright Unhappy But Wins Crown

"I never less enjoyed a round in my life," she said, after finishing up with a poor four-over-par 75 and 283 for 72 holes. It gave her a one-stroke victory over Kathy Whitworth.

Mickey, women's golf's greatest player, is retiring this year. She is intent on making a grand showing to close out her career but the way she looked Sunday, she may be thinking that she waited too long to quit.

"It was one of the toughest rounds I ever played," she declared. She obviously was referring to the double bogey she took on the second hole and two straight bogeys after that.

She explained that she was all keyed up and the rain drained her of emotion so that she didn't have enough left to combat it.

"Usually when it rains you wipe off your arms and wipe off your glasses and go ahead, but somehow today that seemed like too much to do," she declared.

Miss Wright had started the final round with a three-stroke lead but this had evaporated when she passed the third hole.

It was Miss Wright's third Civitan title, tying her with Louise Suggs for the most won, and it was her second tournament victory of the year, tying her with Miss Whitworth.

The Civitan was Mickey's 65th tournament victory in 10 years on the tour. This is the most tournaments any woman has ever won.

Chance Battered Again In 8-3 Setback To White Sox

Boston Sweeps 2 From Cleveland

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

What's wrong with Dean Chance?

"Don't ask me; I can't explain it," said the 1964 Cy Young winner after the Chicago White Sox battered him from the mound en route to an 8-3 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels Sunday.

Chance, whose 20-9 record last season earned him the award as the best pitcher in the majors, now has dropped three games in 13 days and has seen his earned run average soar to 3.88.

He lasted only 2 2-3 innings against the White Sox, giving up six runs on five hits and five walks.

"All I know is that this is the worst I've ever pitched," said Chance, who posted a 3-0 record before slipping into his losing streak. "It can't be that I'm not in shape because I pitched three complete games this spring.

At this time last season, the 23-year-old right-hander had a 3-1 record and a 2.03 earned-run average.

Chance never gave himself a chance against Chicago. He walked the first two batters in the game, and the White Sox were on their way to a three-run inning. He finished his brief performance by walking pitcher Joe Horlen with two out and the bases loaded in the third.

The Ohio farmer, however, wasn't the only pitcher with problems Sunday. Detroit's Hank Aguirre had two Baltimore runners caught off first base, but both escaped the traps and made it safely to second.

Bob Johnson reached second in the fourth inning when no Tiger covered the base. Luis Aparicio made it in the seventh when Don Demeter's throw hit him in the back. Both Johnson and Aparicio scored, helping the Orioles to a 7-3 victory. Baltimore completed the doubleheader sweep by taking the nightcap 8-3.

In other American League games, Boston swept Cleveland 6-2 and 8-3 and Washington whipped New York 7-3 before bowing 3-2. Rain washed out Kansas City at Minnesota.

Pete Ward led the attack, driving in three runs with two doubles and a sacrifice fly.

Baltimore's Jack Brandt drove in five runs with four hits as the Tigers dropped their fifth doubleheader this season. Brandt's two-run homer followed by Norm Siebern's blast in the ninth inning clinched the opening-game triumph for Steve Barber.

Brandt capped a four-run first inning in the nightcap with a two-run single, then ignited a four-run ninth with another single. Bill Freehan and George Thomas homered for Detroit.

Two errors by Cleveland's Chuck Hinton brought the Red Sox three unearned runs in each game. Hinton let Frank Malzone's grounder get through him in the third inning of the opener and touched off a three-run Boston eighth in the second game by dropping Lee Thomas' pop fly.

Felix Mantilla powered the Red Sox in the nightcap with a three-run homer in the fifth inning. That blow wiped out a 2-0 Cleveland lead built on Rocky Colavito's ninth homer.

Jim King batted in three Washington runs in the first game with a homer, double and sacrifice fly. Ken McMullen added a homer and pitcher Phil Ortega a two-run double in a four-run sixth. Joe Pepitone and Tom Tresh homered for the Yankees.

Pepitone unloaded a three-run blast in the sixth inning of the second game for all of New York's runs. Pedro Ramos saved the victory for Al Downing after the Senators had scored a run in the ninth and had two on and two out. Ramos threw one pitch and King grounded it to second.

Jack Wins Memphis Title

By KELSO STURGEON
Associated Press Sports Writer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus served warning to the golfing world with his victory in the $60,000 Memphis Open that he's not to be trusted no matter how hopeless his position looks.

"I'm the kind of guy who plays better under pressure," Nicklaus said Sunday after he came from five strokes off the pace to win the Memphis golf tournament.

"I don't get excited unless I have something to play for, but when I get charged up, something forces me to play my best."

As it was, Nicklaus shot a 65 as the field before him faltered a little, finished the regulation 72 holes tied with Johnny Pott at 271 and then beat the latter in the first hole of a sudden death playoff.

"It wasn't a matter of my playing so well, although that string of birdies got me fired up, as it was the others not playing so well," he said.

The victory was worth $9,000 to Nicklaus.

Pott, who had started the day just two strokes out of the lead, birdied three of the last four holes to send the match into a playoff. But he had to sink an eight-foot putt on No. 18 to get the job done.

In the playoff, Pott drove his tee shot into a muddy rough surrounded by trees and bogeyed the hole while Nicklaus was taking a routine par for the victory.

Pott shot a round of 68 during the day and picked up $5,000 in prize money. Finishing two strokes back with 273s were Lou Graham, Bob McCallister, Julius Boros and Bert Yancy.

Sacré bleu!

It took those sophisticated French to finally come up with the first worthy replacement for the DC-3.

Those French! They've always been best known here for exports that come in drams, fifths, yards, and bikinis. Yet, now they've come up with one measured in tons and miles—the new NORD 262, first worthy replacement for America's old reliable DC-3.

Anything the DC-3 does, the prop-JET Nord does newer. It gets you there faster, and more comfortably. It's air conditioned. Pressurized. Boards on the level. According to the U.S. Civil Aeronautics Board, the NORD 262 is a new aircraft "especially suited" for short haul routes of the type Lake Central flies to 50 mid-central U.S.A. cities. Which is why Lake Central is the first U.S. airline to engage this new French beauty.

Lafayette, we are here! Also Indianapolis, Cleveland, Wheeling, Baltimore, etc., etc., etc.

Jack Wins Memphis Title

By KELSO STURGEON
Associated Press Sports Writer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus served warning to the golfing world with his victory in the $60,000 Memphis Open that he's not to be trusted no matter how hopeless his position looks.

"I'm the kind of guy who plays better under pressure," Nicklaus said Sunday after he came from five strokes off the pace to win the Memphis golf tournament.

"I don't get excited unless I have something to play for, but when I get charged up, something forces me to play my best."

As it was, Nicklaus shot a 65 as the field before him faltered a little, finished the regulation 72 holes tied with Johnny Pott at 271 and then beat the latter in the first hole of a sudden death playoff.

"It wasn't a matter of my playing so well, although that string of birdies got me fired up, as it was the others not playing so well," he said.

The victory was worth $9,000 to Nicklaus.

Pott, who had started the day just two strokes out of the lead, birdied three of the last four holes to send the match into a playoff. But he had to sink an eight-foot putt on No. 18 to get the job done.

In the playoff, Pott drove his tee shot into a muddy rough surrounded by trees and bogeyed the hole while Nicklaus was taking a routine par for the victory.

Pott shot a round of 68 during the day and picked up $5,000 in prize money. Finishing two strokes back with 273s were Lou Graham, Bob McCallister, Julius Boros and Bert Yancy.

Sacré bleu!

It took those sophisticated French to finally come up with the first worthy replacement for the DC-3.

Those French! They've always been best known here for exports that come in drams, fifths, yards, and bikinis. Yet, now they've come up with one measured in tons and miles—the new NORD 262, first worthy replacement for America's old reliable DC-3.

Anything the DC-3 does, the prop-JET Nord does newer. It gets you there faster, and more comfortably. It's air conditioned. Pressurized. Boards on the level. According to the U.S. Civil Aeronautics Board, the NORD 262 is a new aircraft "especially suited" for short haul routes of the type Lake Central flies to 50 mid-central U.S.A. cities. Which is why Lake Central is the first U.S. airline to engage this new French beauty.

Lafayette, we are here! Also Indianapolis, Cleveland, Wheeling, Baltimore, etc., etc., etc.

Mother's Assn. Honors Midland High Athletes

Over 200 attended the annual all-sports banquet honoring Midland High athletes Sunday night at the Serbian Club. The event is sponsored by the Mother's Athletic Association.

All seniors were presented miniature trophies and Hank Kuzma presented PIAA medals to members of the basketball team for winning the state title.

Mrs. Jack Haggerty was re-elected president of the Mother's Association and also served as dinner chairman.

Hammondsville Teams Pick Up Jr. League Wins

The Hammondsville Red Sox handed the Irondale Pirates a 13-3 loss and the Hammondsville Yankees were a 15-10 winner over the Rebels in a pair of Junior League games Saturday.

The Red Sox pounded out 11 hits and Richard Householder was the winning pitcher. Seevers homered for Irondale and also was the losing hurler.

A home run by C. Crook with two teammates on base paced the Yankees to victory. M. Grafton was the winning pitcher with Paul Boyd the loser.

Braves Deal Lee Maye For Houston's Johnson

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves, who have had little success as gamblers in baseball's trade market in recent years, still are trying in a bid to improve in the National League race.

The Braves filled a chink in their staggering pitching corps at the risk of opening another trouble spot Sunday in acquiring right-hander Ken Johnson for outfielder Lee Maye in a deal with the Houston Astros. Milwaukee also received rookie Jim Beauchamp, who was assigned to the Atlanta farm.

"No one likes to give up a player like Maye, but we've got to have improvement in our pitching if we're going to win," Milwaukee Manager Bobby Bragan said. "and you don't get a pitcher such as Johnson for anything but a front-line player."

Johnson, who has a 3-2 record after being routed by San Francisco in his swan song for the Astros just before the trade was announced, hurled a no-hitter but lost 1-0 to Cincinnati last year, when he compiled an 11-16 mark with a 3.63 earned-run average.

Johnson, who will be 32 next month, will join Tony Cloninger, Denny Lemaster, Wade Blasingame and Bob Sadowski in the starting rotation. Hank Fischer will be used as a spot starter and in relief.

The 30-year-old Maye joined the Braves in 1959 and had to battle a series of injuries and various ailments until he won a regular job, mainly in center field, last season. In 153 games, he batted .304. He led the circuit with 44 doubles while also cracking five triples and 10 homers and driving in 74 runs.

In 53 times at bat this season, he has 16 hits, including two homers and two doubles, for a .302 average.

U.S. Debt Increases To Over $1.2 Trillion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The public and private debt totaled $1.172 trillion at the end of 1964, an increase of $76 billion for the year, the Commerce Department reported Sunday.

The national debt was listed at $316 billion. The department said the "net debt" was $267.2 billion after subtracting the amount owed to other federal agencies or trust funds. The net debt of state and local government was $85.2 billion.

President Johnson proposes to convert the polluted Potomac into "a model of scenic and recreational values for the entire country." The historic river that flows by the nation's capital is contaminated by sewage, mine acids, industrial wastes, sludge and silt.

NCAA Cage Finals Moved From Chicago To Maryland

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The NCAA's 1966 basketball championships have been moved from Chicago Stadium to the University of Maryland because of differences between the NCAA and the Chicago ticket-seller's union.

The 29th annual tourney next March 18-19 will be in Maryland's William P. Cole Fieldhouse, with a capacity of 14,000. The capacity at Chicago is 19,000.

Bernie A. Shively, Kentucky athletic director and chairman of the NCAA basketball tournament committee, said the decision to move "was made most reluctantly and uncritically. Loyola, Northwestern and the Chicago Stadium management have been most cooperative and understandings.

"We feel, however, since it is as necessary and right for us to hold to our principles. . . as for the union to hold to its policies, there could be no other voice. . ."

Shively explained that approval of the Chicago site by the NCAA executive committee April 8 was contingent upon Northwestern and Loyola exercising complete tourament management — including sole control of all ticket sales. He said no complications over ticket handling were expected.

NCAA policy specifies the use of host school personnel for the operation of the facility and for related duties during the event, Shively said, and union policy will not permit this.

Wellsville Merchants Post Victory In League Opener

Bo Agnew pitched and batted the Wellsville Merchants to a 7-2 opening game victory at Jewett Sunday.

Agnew allowed five hits and fanned 10 batters while collecting three hits himself including a triple.

Jerry Cannon also led the hitting attack with two hits and three RBI's while Jim Potts and Roger Ours hit safely twice.

Wellsville will play its first home game Wednesday at the 13th St. diamond.

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Texan A. J. Foyt, who saved the durable old Offenhauser roadster from extinction by booting one to victory in the 1964 Indianapolis 500-mile auto race, may preside at final rites for the last of the breed in the 49th running May 31.

When two weekends of time trials ended Sunday with a thunderous but bloodless crash of an Offy roadster with Bob Mathouser of Gardena, Calif., at the wheel, the 33-car field was fixed like this:

Seventeen rear-engine Fords, including the Lotus-Ford in which Foyt set a 10-mile qualifying record of 161.233 m.p.h. May 14.

A four-wheel-drive Ferguson-Novi which Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., put in the third three-car row at 157.467, and a Novi roadster which Jim Hurtubise, North Tonawanda, N.Y., qualified at the last weekend's top speed of 156.863.

There were seven rear-engine Ford V8s in the 1964 field but only Rodger Ward of Indianapolis finished in the top 10, taking second for a remarkable record over the last six years of 1-2-3-1-4-2.

Ward will be missing from the line-up May 31 for the first time in 15 years. He wrecked his new Watson-Ford trying to qualify Saturday after having assorted troubles with four engines.

Police Seek Hijacked Rig And Whisky

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Allen County sheriff's deputies and the FBI were looking today for a huge semi-trailer truck reported hijacked early Sunday with 1,065 cases of whisky aboard.

More than 24 hours after the reported theft no sign of the red-and-silver colored rig had turned up.

The highway patrol reported the driver, William Joseph Foss, 45, of Lansing, Ill., was tied up and blindfolded in eastern Seneca County and then left in a building in Beaverdam, Allen County, 65 miles away, about 2:30 a.m. Sunday.

He said he left Chicago with the whisky cargo Saturday and stopped at Attica, Ohio, for a two-hour nap. As he pulled back on the road, he reported, a voice inside the cab told him to pull off again. He said he was then tied, gagged and blindfolded.

He said he was robbed of $150 of his own money and two checks belonging to the company.

City Boasts Ashtrays With Indian Designs

The ashtrays are sawed-off pipe, which will be painted with Indian symbols for clouds, mountains, rain, sun and other objects from nature. Colors are black, rust, turquoise and yellow with white borders on an adobe background.

Students at the Albuquerque Indian School, under the direction of Teo Tafoya, prepared the stencils. The Key Club will complete the job, part of city beautification started by Mrs. Parker Kalloch Jr., chairman of the City Beautification Committee.

ROBERT L. PETERS

Gas Firm Names Ex-Area Aide To District Position

Robert L. Peters of Wintersville, Ohio River District business promotion manager for the Ohio Valley Gas Co. and former East Liverpool aide for the utility, has been named Eastern District business promotion manager for the Columbia Gas Co. at Cambridge.

Peters also will continue with his duties as Ohio Valley Co. official for the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Bellaire divisions.

Peters, 56, has been with the utility for 28 years. He served 3½ years in the Army during World War II. He is married and has a son and daughter.

Local Youth Wins VFW's Marble Event

An East Liverpool youth finished first in the District 6 Veterans of Foreign Wars marble tournament here Saturday.

He is Bill Jackson, who scored four victories and was undefeated in the double - elimination event which was curtailed by rain. Jackson represented Post 66, host for the competition.

Finishing second was Fred Warfield of New Philadelphia Post 1445. Third was Bill Spring of Midvale Post 9620.

All three were presented trophies.

Braves Deal Lee Maye For Houston's Johnson

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves, who have had little success as gamblers in baseball's trade market in recent years, still are trying in a bid to improve in the National League race.

The Braves filled a chink in their staggering pitching corps at the risk of opening another trouble spot Sunday in acquiring right-hander Ken Johnson for outfielder Lee Maye in a deal with the Houston Astros. Milwaukee also received rookie Jim Beauchamp, who was assigned to the Atlanta farm.

"No one likes to give up a player like Maye, but we've got to have improvement in our pitching if we're going to win," Milwaukee Manager Bobby Bragan said. "and you don't get a pitcher such as Johnson for anything but a front-line player."

Johnson, who has a 3-2 record after being routed by San Francisco in his swan song for the Astros just before the trade was announced, hurled a no-hitter but lost 1-0 to Cincinnati last year, when he compiled an 11-16 mark with a 3.63 earned-run average.

Johnson, who will be 32 next month, will join Tony Cloninger, Denny Lemaster, Wade Blasingame and Bob Sadowski in the starting rotation. Hank Fischer will be used as a spot starter and in relief.

The 30-year-old Maye joined the Braves in 1959 and had to battle a series of injuries and various ailments until he won a regular job, mainly in center field, last season. In 153 games, he batted .304. He led the circuit with 44 doubles while also cracking five triples and 10 homers and driving in 74 runs.

In 53 times at bat this season, he has 16 hits, including two homers and two doubles, for a .302 average.

NCAA Cage Finals Moved From Chicago To Maryland

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The NCAA's 1966 basketball championships have been moved from Chicago Stadium to the University of Maryland because of differences between the NCAA and the Chicago ticket-seller's union.

The 29th annual tourney next March 18-19 will be in Maryland's William P. Cole Fieldhouse, with a capacity of 14,000 The capacity at Chicago is 19,000.

Bernie A. Shively, Kentucky athletic director and chairman of the NCAA basketball tournament committee, said the decision to move "was made most reluctantly and uncritically. Loyola, Northwestern and the Chicago Stadium management have been most cooperative and understandings.

"We feel, however, since it is as necessary and right for us to hold to our principles. . . as for the union to hold to its policies, there could be no other voice. . ."

Shively explained that approval of the Chicago site by the NCAA executive committee April 8 was contingent upon Northwestern and Loyola exercising complete tourament management — including sole control of all ticket sales. He said no complications over ticket handling were expected.

NCAA policy specifies the use of host school personnel for the operation of the facility and for related duties during the event, Shively said, and union policy will not permit this.

Wellsville Merchants Post Victory In League Opener

Bo Agnew pitched and batted the Wellsville Merchants to a 7-2 opening game victory at Jewett Sunday.

Agnew allowed five hits and fanned 10 batters while collecting three hits himself including a triple.

Jerry Cannon also led the hitting attack with two hits and three RBI's while Jim Potts and Roger Ours hit safely twice.

Beadling was the losing pitcher as Wellsville collected 11 hits off two Jewett pitchers.

Wellsville will play its first home game Wednesday at the 13th St. diamond.

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Texan A. J. Foyt, who saved the durable old Offenhauser roadster from extinction by booting one to victory in the 1964 Indianapolis 500-mile auto race, may preside at final rites for the last of the breed in the 49th running May 31.

When two weekends of time trials ended Sunday with a thunderous but bloodless crash of an Offy roadster with Bob Mathouser of Gardena, Calif., at the wheel, the 33-car field was fixed like this:

Seventeen rear-engine Fords, including the Lotus-Ford in which Foyt set a 10-mile qualifying record of 161.233 m.p.h. May 14.

Ten rear-engine Offenhausers, in one of which the sixth-best qualifying speed of 158.416 was set by rookie Billy Foster of Victoria, B.C.

A four-wheel-drive Ferguson-Novi which Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., put in the third three-car row at 157.467, and a Novi roadster which Jim Hurtubise, North Tonawanda, N.Y., qualified at the last weekend's top speed of 156.863.

The Novis are supercharged V8s, designed by the late Bud Winfield, which develop up to 700 horsepower but long have been plagued by troubles ranging from mechanical breakdowns to crashs.

There were seven rear-engine Ford V8s in the 1964 field but only Rodger Ward of Indianapolis finished in the top 10, taking second for a remarkable record over the last six years of 1-2-3-1-4-2.

Ward will be missing from the line-up May 31 for the first time in 15 years. He wrecked his new Watson-Ford trying to qualify Saturday after having assorted troubles with four engines.

7 Suffer Injury In 2-Way Mishap

A Beaver County woman was hospitalized and six other persons were injured in a two-car crash Sunday at 7 p. m. on Route 30 at the junction of County Rd. 417, four - tenths of a mile east of Route 45.

The crash involved cars driven by Franklin D. Andrews, 32, of Aliquippa and Dean E. Bowman, 22, of Lisbon R. D. 3.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Bowman halted on County Rd. 417 for a stop sign and then pulled onto Route 30 into the path of the Andrews car. The Bowman vehicle, struck broadside, was demolished.

Mrs. Virginia Mae Andrews, 25, a passenger in her husband's car, suffered a bruised left leg and shoulder. She was admitted to City Hospital, where she was in "fair" condition today.

A DAUGHTER, Valerie June Andrews, 4, was treated for body bruises and contusions and abrasions of the forehead. Harold R. Loudin, 55, of Crawford, W. Va., a passenger in the Andrews car, was treated for a laceration above the right eye and bruised knees.

Andrews was treated for contusions of the right forehead and left elbow.

IN ANOTHER accident Sunday at 2:55 p. m., Henrietta E. Arrington, 58, of Steubenville escaped injury when her 1964 sedan overturned on Route 45 five and a half miles north of Wellsville.

The woman failed to negotiate a curve. The vehicle went off the left side of the highway and rolled over, coming to rest on its wheels, officers reported.

Marie Amelia Gardner, 17, of Lisbon R. D. 4 was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after her car hit the rear of another driven by Clarence F. Ellyson, 57, of East Rochester R. D. 1 Saturday at 4:45 p. m. on Route 172, three tenths of a mile east of Route 9.

Ellyson had slowed. Moderate damage resulted to both vehicles.

Officers investigated a total of 10 other weekend accidents. Eight occurred on Saturday in the Salem, Minerva and Alliance areas. All were minor mishaps.

Senate Eyes GOP Bill On Voting Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate may vote today on a Republican substitute for the voting-rights bill, hoping to clear the decks for Tuesday's climactic move to limit debate on the measure.

Southern senators, historic foes of any move to invoke cloture, are expected to line up with Republicans attempting to substitute their plan to insure voting rights for the one backed by the White House, the Democratic leadership and the Republican leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen.

Introduced by Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., the GOP proposal provides for federal examiners to register voters under state qualification laws in any county where 25 or more persons have been denied the right to vote or register because of race or color.

This differs from the administration bill which provides for suspension of literacy tests and similar voter-qualification requirements as well as federal registration of voters in all or parts of seven Southern states.

Senate leaders expect to beat down the Republican substitute and are confident they can pass the cloture petition by the required two-thirds of those voting.

If cloture is invoked, it will be the third time in four years, and on a civil rights measure only the second time in history.

The historic unlimited debate for senators has often brought emotional, even tearful, pleas against any effort to restrict it. If the Senate invokes the cloture rule, each senator will be limited to an hour's speaking time on the bill and all its amendments. The leadership figures this will lead to a vote on passage itself by the end of the week.

Probably the most dramatic of all cloture moves came last year when, after 75 days of debate on a broad, civil rights bill, it was invoked.

In August 1962 the Senate voted to limit debate on the Kennedy administration's bill to establish a private communications satellite corporation.

Southern Local Band Policy Set On Sunday Fetes

SALINEVILLE — A resolution concerning the use of the Southern Local High School band for Sunday morning events has been announced by the Board of Education in connection with the planned Memorial Day observance at Summitville Sunday.

Ministers last week objected to the use of the students in the band next Sunday for the observance, pointing out the program will keep band members out of regular church services.

Board members explained the commitment had been made for the holiday appearance of the band. However, the board authorized a resolution which, starting in September 1965, will prohibit use of the band for Sunday programs prior to 1:30 p.m.

The resolution also directed that no students would be deprived of any position in any organization because of religious beliefs or activities.

It had been reported some members of the band had been changed from first positions in instrumental sections because they could not attend Sunday morning band programs.

Baptists Charged On 'Unity' Theme

Delegates to the 58th annual meeting of the denomination were charged to carry the unity theme as they headed for their homes today in 40 states and several foreign countries.

The meeting ended Sunday night with dedication of more than 300 missionaries in colorful costumes of the nations they serve in.

Adopted resolutions called for strengthening the United Nations, supporting the National Council of Churches, and expressing a willingness to send official Baptist observers to the fourth session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

The American Baptist Convention, which has 1.5 million members, will hold its next annual meeting at Kansas City, Mo. — May 11-15, 1966.

Officers Seated At Ceremony Of Wellsville VFW

The installation was held jointly with the auxiliary. Mrs. Lucille Reed was installed for a second term as president of the auxiliary.

Daniels was toastmaster. Guests included William Davis of Columbiana, district senior vice commander; Cletus Luther of Columbiana, county commander, and Joe Torrence of East Liverpool.

Rosenlieb was cited for having surpassed his membership quota the past year. He also was presented the 6th District "Commander of the Year" trophy. John Prokop also received a membership award. Rosenlieb distributed gifts to those who aided him during the year and those who worked on the remodeling of the post home.

Johnson Asks Hiring Of Youth For Summer

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has appealed to the nation's employers to find work for the estimated 2 million youngsters who will be seeking summer jobs this year.

For some of them, the President said Saturday, a summer job might make the difference between returning to school in the fall or becoming a dropout.

Johnson said all federal departments and agencies have been directed to try to place one trainee for every 100 employes on their present payroll. This, he said, would mean about 25,000 jobs.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: In your column the other day you told a woman who is expecting her first child that she should not beg her husband to go to the hospital with her if he does not want to go. You said he probably would faint and get in the way, and it would be better to leave him at home. Then you said, "Call a taxi."

Please, Ann, don't give advice like that. I'm a taxi driver and no fare gives us drivers heart failure like a woman alone who is on the way to the hospital to have a baby.

I've been driving a cab for 20 years. I've had three women like that and each one took 10 years off my life. The first one begged me to let her sit in front. When she got a pain she grabbed hold of my arm—or the steering wheel. We almost hit a pedestrian.

I drove the second lady two years later. She sat in back. Every three minutes she beat me on the head with her purse and said, "Can't you go faster?" Finally a squad car spotted me speeding, which was a Godsend. They gave us the siren all the way to the hospital and we made it just in time.

I wasn't so lucky with the third lady. She had her baby right in my cab, five blocks from the hospital. I was a nervous wreck for three days. But she named the baby after me so it wasn't all bad.

From now on, Ann, tell your pregnant ladies to call an ambulance if their husbands won't take them to the hospital because ambulances have attendants who are set up for that stuff.—MAC.

Prizes Privacy

Dear Ann: Don't you feel that a woman of 40 who has been making a living for her children for 15 years is entitled to a few minutes of privacy with a very special gentleman?

I've been going with a fine man for two years. My sons (17 and 18 years of age) will not leave us alone together even one minute. When Mr. Wonderful comes over (usually about 9:30 p.m. because we both work late) my sons begin to press their pants or wash their hair.

Sometimes they haul out their guitars and begin to practice. Or they will do research for term papers which makes it necessary to parade in and out of the library until 2 a.m. —if Mr. Wonderful stays that late. When they have exhausted all other excuses they drag out pots and pans and cook.

My younger children go to bed at 8 and they are no problem, but the older ones refuse to turn in until my guest has left. Please tell me what to do.—LITTLE BROTHERS ARE WATCHING ME.

Dear Watched: Don't ask your sons—ORDER them to get their pants pressing, hair washing, research and cooking finished by 9:30. Tell them when you entertain you don't want them hanging around any more than they want YOU hanging around when they have guests.

Your sons are competing with Mr. Wonderful and winning. If they become too obnoxious, Mr. Wonderful might just drop you—and I wouldn't blame him.

RED EYES AND WET PILLOW: Sorry, Lollypop. If there aren't enough chairs in your house, ask your mother to buy some floor cushions. A 16-year-old girl should not be sitting on her boy friend's lap—even if they are going steady.

Ohio Sailor, 17, Dies In Fuel Truck Mishap

Drafted Legislative Bills

Ohio Nun Due Admission To High Court's Practice

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A Roman Catholic nun who used to draft bills for the Michigan Legislature will be admitted today to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court in Washington.

Sister Frances Catherine's sponsor will be Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

The nun, 65, who serves as legal adviser to her order, the Sisters of Charity, does not know if she will ever be called upon to argue cases before the highest court in the land. When asked whether she expects to practice criminal law in her black robes, she said: "I don't know. You never know what's going to happen."

Sister Frances — born Frances Catherine Florer — has been interested in law longer than she has been concerned with being a nun.

She was born into a Methodist family at Ann Arbor, Mich., and won a Phi Beta Kappa key while studying law at the University of Michigan. She graduated in 1927 and was admitted to the Michigan bar the following year.

She married Arthur Royce, who owned a general store at Mecosta, near the center of the Lower Peninsula, and served for a while in the State Senate. She went to work for the Legislative Service Bureau and from 1931 through 1955 served as the Legislature's chief drafter of bills.

She said she had handled more than 25,000 bills.

Royce died in 1947. Five years later his widow was converted to Roman Catholicism. She felt drawn to the religious life. Some years later she sold the store and came to the Sisters of Charity, who have their Mother House at Mount St. Joseph, west of Cincinnati overlooking the Ohio River.

The sisters made her their legal adviser, and in 1956 she was admitted to the Ohio bar while wearing her novitiate's robes. She took her perpetual vows in 1962 and became a teacher of business law at the women's college operated by the sisters.

She continued to represent the sisters in the courts. When she was admitted to practice before the federal courts in Cincinnati six months ago, someone asked her if she actually expected to argue any cases there.

"Yes — if there's violation of the federal statutes," she said.

During Weirton Session

Hancock's 40 & 8 Society Names Sweeney As Head

M. J. Sweeney of East Liverpool, a member of American Legion Post 121 at Chester, was elected chef de gare (commander) of the Hancock County 40 & 8 Society at a meeting Saturday night in the home of American Legion Post 10 at Weirton.

Sweeney succeeds W. Clay Allen of Weirton, who was named cheminot.

George LaNeve of Newell Post 114, aumonier; Vito Catenaro of Weirton, avocat; Jesse Wedgewood of Chester, garde de la porte; Everett Brewer of Lawrenceville Post 163, lampiste; Henry Frank of Weirton, commis voyageur, and Dr. J. M. Brand of Chester Post 121, medicin.

The official call was read for the statewide meeting scheduled July 7-8 at Charleston.

The group named three delegates and three alternates for the grand promenade. The delegates are Maki, Sweeney and Allen. The alternates are LaNeve, Robert Warren and John Merriman.

All voyageurs and Legionnaires of the Tri-State District will be invited to the ceremony.

The society made plans to present a diamond - studded pin to Miss May Allison, who is scheduled to be graduated from nurses' training as a recipient of a scholarship sponsored by the 40 & 8.

British Charged With Cheating In Bridge Tourney

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The 13th World Bridge Tournament ended under a cloud of scandal Sunday night as officials of the World Bridge Federation accused two British players of cheating.

The captain of the British team immediately ceded all points it had won, giving the United States second place in the tournament. Italy won the world championship and the "Bermuda Bowl" for the seventh consecutive time. Argentina was third in the four-nation finals.

Federation officials accused Terence Reese and Boris Schapiro of "transmitting information to each other in a prohibited manner" during play. Authoritative sources said they had been using finger signals during bidding.

There was no immediate comment from the two players. But Ralph Swimmer, nonplaying captain of the British team, announced the team would cancel all its wins. At that point the British were slightly ahead of the Americans for second place with one final 20-board series to go.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Atty. Preston Unwinds

Fans in a snit over CBS' canceling of "The Defenders" may be somewhat reconciled to learn that their hero, E. G. Marshall, was leaving his Lawrence Preston role anyway. "Oh, yes, I was quitting. I had signed for just four years, which was long enough. I feel as if I'd stolen a pot of money, served four years in jail, but now the money is mine," says Marshall, smugly. Except for the money, Marshall sees no other legitimate reason for an actor to involve himself in a weekly series.

Hal Humphrey

The only challenge it offers is to one's stamina. Nor does he subscribe to that oft - heard wheeze about an actor "needing the exposure."

-:-

"WHAT GOOD is the exposure? After you've got it, you can't use it because you're stuck in the series," says Marshall.

As the time wore on for Marshall in "The Defenders" he got more and more anxious for the day he would be paroled.

"I even quit flying. If the plane went down, I though to myself, then all of that work would have been for nothing."

Marshall had only a couple of weeks to unwind after filming the last "Defenders" episode in April, then came to Hollywood and Columbia Studios to take a role in the movie, "The Chase," with Marlon Brando and a clutch of other stars.

"ARTHUR PENN, whom I worked with in some of the old TV dramas years ago, is directing 'The Chase.' And it's from a novel and play by Horton Foote, and he also was with us in those 'live' TV days in New York.

"In fact," recalls Marshall, "I was the cotton - chopping tenant farmer in an old TV drama of Foote's called 'The Oil Well,' and I owed the town banker. Foote told me when I signed on for this movie that this time I'd be the banker, and that's what I am."

Marshall had two days of rehearsal before shooting started on "The Chase," and he used it to de-brief himself from four years of being Atty. Lawrence Preston.

"I had the hairdresser give me a more grizzled look. I was tired of that slicked-down hairdress I used in 'The Defenders,' and so was my wife. Reggie Rose, who created 'The Defenders,' had hoped I would wear a mustache, too, but I couldn't grow a decent one of my own and the kind you stick on always worry you."

MARSHALL also has worked up what he calls "a modified East Texas dialect" for his movie part, and that also pleases him since it gets him farther away from Lawrence Preston.

The reader should not get the impression that Marshall hated being Preston. He was tremendously interested in the role and the series, so much so that he took adult education courses in constitutional law and jurisprudence.

"That jurisprudence course I took so that I could make some sense when law groups invited me to speak at their affairs," explains Marshall. "I became a real fan of Justice William O. Douglas and met all of the Supreme Court justices except Warren."

AS A RESULT of his "legal" experiences, Marshall has formed some definite views, one of which is on the subject of whether TV cameras should be allowed in courtrooms.

"Absolutely not! Cameras must be kept out of all courtrooms, unless we are willing to turn justice into some kind of show business.

"We wanted to do a 'Defenders' on that subject," Marshall adds, "but we found there were only two states where judges have allowed TV cameras. This made it too difficult to do."

As far as Marshall is concerned, the most shocking experience he had on the series followed his suggestion that since there are several Negro judges in New York City the series should feature one such in an episode. They did, and hundreds of viewers wrote in to protest.

"What surprised me was that most of the letters came from my part of the country, the Midwest," says Marshall, sadly.

Sheriff Bolsters Force For KKK Meeting In Ohio

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Warren County authorities say they will take no chances with a scheduled Ku Klux Klan rally next weekend.

Sheriff Byron Kennard Sr. said last night his force normally consists of nine men, but he will call in various auxiliaries and reserves—more than a hundred of them—during the three-day rally "to take care of the traffic problem."

"We can't anticipate what these people are going to be doing or what outsiders are going to be involved in it," the sheriff said. "Whether it gets out of the traffic category remains to be seen."

Handbills signed by the Knights of the K.K.K. circulated in the area last weekend announcing that the rally will be held on a farm north of Interstate 71 between Harveysburg and Oregonia.

The handbills say James R. Venable, a Klan leader from Georgia, will speak at 8 p.m. Friday and "cross burnings are scheduled for Saturday and Monday night at 8 p. m."

Columbus Boy Killed

LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NUMBER 6, 1965

AN ORDINANCE FIXING AND REGULATING THE PRICE THAT MAY BE CHARGED BY THE OHIO VALLEY GAS COMPANY, ITS SUCCESSORS OR ASSIGNS, FOR NATURAL GAS TO THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO AND TO ITS INHABITANTS, FOR THE PERIOD OF TWO (2) YEARS FROM AND AFTER THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS ORDINANCE; AND REPEALING SECTION 5 OF ORDINANCE NO. 8, 1963 PASSED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO ON THE 18TH DAY OF MARCH, 1963, ENTITLED: "ORDINANCE NO. 8, 1963 — AND ORDINANCE GRANTING TO THE OHIO VALLEY GAS COMPANY, ITS SUCCESSORS OR ASSIGNS, THE PRIVILEGE TO INSTALL, CONSTRUCT, OPERATE AND MAINTAIN ALL NECESSARY PIPE LINES AND OTHER EQUIPMENT IN AND OUT ON THE STREETS, LANDS, AVENUES, ALLEYS, BRIDGES AND PUBLIC GROUNDS, IN THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO FOR THE PURPOSE OF PRODUCING, STORING, CONVEYING, SELLING AND SUPPLYING NATURAL GAS TO THE CITIZENS THEREOF FOR A PERIOD OF FIFTEEN (15) YEARS FROM AND AFTER THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS ORDINANCE; AND FIXING AND REGULATING THE PRICE THAT MAY BE CHARGED BY THE OHIO VALLEY GAS COMPANY, ITS SUCCESSORS OR ASSIGNS, FOR NATURAL GAS TO THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, AND TO ITS INHABITANTS, FOR THE PERIOD OF FOUR (4) YEARS FROM AND AFTER THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS ORDINANCE.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO:

SECTION 1. That for the period of two (2) years from and after the effective date of this ordinance, the maximum price which The Ohio Valley Gas Company, its successors or assigns, shall be permitted to charge for and the minimum price at which it or they shall be required to furnish natural gas to the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, and to its inhabitants, shall be and the same is hereby fixed for each individual consumer, as follows:

Thirty and one-tenth Cents (30-1-10c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for the first 1,300 cubic feet, used through each meter per month.

Seven and seven hundred twenty-five thousandths Cents (7-725-1000c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for the next 298,700 cubic feet, used through the meter each month;

Seven and one-tenth Cents (7-1-10c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for all in excess of 300,000 cubic feet, used through each meter each month;

LEGAL NOTICES

A Minimum Charge for each customer each month of Two Dollars and Sixty-Five Cents ($2.65) shall be made. If service under this rate schedule is discontinued at the request of customer, The Company shall not be under any obligation to resume service to the same customer on the same premises until the customer has made payment of an amount equal to the minimum monthly charge for each month of the intervening period, but not to exceed twelve (12) months.

FUEL COST CLAUSE

The service rates prescribed above are subject to an adjustment for any change in the rates paid by The Ohio Valley Gas Company (Company) to The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company (Manufacturers) for the purchase of natural gas or for any refund or refunds received from Manufacturers, as hereinafter provided. Manufacturers' rates to the Company are regulated by the Federal Power Commission.

The service rates prescribed above are predicted upon the rate paid by the Company to Manufacturers of $2.70 per month per one thousand (1000) cubic feet of Billing Demand and 35.24c per one thousand (1000) cubic feet for all gas purchased and are hereinafter referred to as the "base rate".

A. Purchased Gas Adjustment

When any change is made in the rate paid by the Company to Manufacturers, the service rates herein shall be increased or decreased in the following manner:

(1) Gas purchased by the Company during the twelve (12) month period ended with the second month preceding the month in which a new rate of Manufacturers is first used in computing the monthly bill to the Company shall be priced:

(a) at the base rate, and

(b) at the new rate.

The difference in the cost of gas purchased computed at the base rate and at the new rate in the manner set forth above, shall be divided by the volume of gas purchased by the Company during the same twelve (12) month period to determine the increase or decrease per one thousand (1000) cubic feet, to the nearest one-hundredth of a cent, which shall be the "purchased gas adjustment".

(2) The service rates shall be increased or decreased by the amount of the purchased gas adjustment as determined in paragraph A (1), effective with bills rendered on and after the 30th day (the effective date) following the date on which a new rate of Manufacturers is first used in computing the monthly bill to the Company; provided that the Company shall have filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and the Clerk of Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, not less than fifteen (15) days prior to the effective date, a computation in support of said purchased gas adjustment, together with a notice that such purchased gas adjustment is to be placed in effect at 12:01 A.M. on the effective date and shall apply to all bills rendered on and after that date.

B. Refund Adjustment

Whenever, during a quarterly period ending each March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31, subsequent to the effective date of this fuel cost clause, the Company received as refund or refunds from Manufacturers, the Company shall decrease the service rates in the following manner:

(1) Dividing such refund or refunds by the actual volumes of gas purchased during the twelve month period ending with the quarter in which the refund or refunds were received. The quotient so determined to the nearest one-hundredth of a cent shall be the "refund adjustment".

(2) The service rates which would otherwise be in effect shall be decreased for a twelve month period commencing on the first day of the third month after the quarterly period in which the refund or refunds were received. The refund adjustment shall terminate at the end of said twelve months.

(3) The Company shall file with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and the Clerk of Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, thirty (30) days prior to the effective date a computation in support of said refund adjustment together with a notice that the refund adjustment will be placed in effect as of 12:01 A.M. on the effective date and shall apply to all bills rendered on and after that date for a twelve month period. Such filing shall also set forth the combined effect of the current purchased gas adjustment and the refund adjustments determined as herein provided for the next four (4) quarterly periods.

(4) When a refund or refunds have been used as a credit to the gas purchased costs under the Company's former fuel cost clause but not for twelve (12) months, the Company shall determine a refund adjustment for such refund or refunds in the same manner as prescribed in paragraph B (1). Said refund adjustment will be applied to the service rates which would otherwise be in effect for the period remaining under the Company's former fuel cost clause. The Company shall file a computation with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and the Clerk of Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, in support of any refund adjustment determined under this paragraph.

SECTION 2. That it is expressly conditioned the service to be rendered by said Company, its successors or assigns, pursuant to this ordinance, shall be primarily for domestic and commercial purposes and that service shall not be extended to other consumers of different classes until after all reasonable requirements for domestic and commercial purposes are full met, and this provision shall be binding upon said Company, its successors or assigns, during each month of each year; but during any month or year, subject to the foregoing limitations and after compliance with the foregoing provisions gas may be delivered to any other consumer and additional classes of consumers at such times and under such conditions and for such rates as may be agreed upon between the Company and such consumer or consumers.

SECTION 3. That Section 5 of Ordinance No. 8, 1963 passed by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio on the 18th day of March, 1963, entitled: "Ordinance No. 8, 1963 — An Ordinance granting to the Ohio Valley Gas Company, its successors or assigns, the privilege to install, construct, operate and maintain all necessary pipe lines and other equipment in and on the streets, lands, avenues, alleys, bridges and public grounds in the City of East Liverpool, Ohio for the purpose of producing, storing, conveying selling and supplying natural gas to the citizens thereof for a period of Fifteen (15) Years from and after the effective date of this ordinance; and fixing and regulating the price that may be charged by The Ohio Valley Gas Company, its successors or assigns, for natural gas to the City of East Liverpool, Ohio and to its inhabitants, for the period of Four (4) Years from and after the effective date of this ordinance;" be and the same is hereby repealed.

SECTION 4. The terms and conditions of the service to be rendered shall conform with and be subject to the Rules and Regulations for furnishing gas service to the Company on file with and approved by The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

SECTION 5. That the natural gas furnished or delivered pursuant to the terms of this ordinance, by the said Company, shall have an average heating value of 1,000 British thermal units per cubic foot for any consecutive twelve (12) month period subject to a variance of not more than five (5) percent upward or downward.

SECTION 6. In the event the State of Ohio or the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, should hereafter impose a tax upon Ohio Valley, that is not now imposed, or should hereafter increase the rate of any tax now imposed upon Ohio Valley above the tax rate now existing, other than the rate on property listed in the real estate tax list and duplicate, then the rates prescribed in Section 1 shall be increased to the extent necessary to compensate Ohio Valley for the increase in cost due to such new tax or higher tax rate. This shall be done in the following manner:

(a) If the new tax or higher tax rate is computed in direct relation to gas sold or revenues received for the sale of gas, the rates set forth herein shall be adjusted to the extent necessary to recompense the Company for the amount thereof.

(b) If the new tax or higher tax rate is not related directly to gas sold or to revenues received for the sale of gas, then the total dollar effect thereof upon the cost of serving gas by Ohio Valley in the City shall be determined, based upon operations of Ohio Valley in the City during the most recently available twelve months period ending on the last day of the December or June, preceding the effective date of the new tax or higher tax rate; the total dollars so computed shall then be divided by the total sales made to the types of customers covered by this Ordinance during the same twelve months period and the rates prescribed herein shall be correspondingly adjusted.

The adjustment of the rates prescribed in this Ordinance, as provided in subparagraphs (a) and (b) above, shall be made by rounding the mathematical result of the computations so prescribed to the nearest one quarter cent (.25c) per one thousand cubic feet.

The adjusted rate shall be placed in effect and shall apply to all meter readings occurring on and after the effective date of the statute, ordinance or resolution, pursuant to which the new tax or increased tax rate is imposed.

Written notification of the adjustment shall be sent to the Clerk of the City as quickly as possible after the effect of the new tax or higher tax rate can be determined.

SECTION 7. That any ordinance or resolution, or part of any ordinance or resolution, inconsistent herewith, is, to the extent of such inconsistency hereby repealed.

SECTION 8. That should any section or a part of a section or provision of a section of this ordinance be declared void, the remainder of this ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

SECTION 9. That this ordinance shall become effective at the earliest date allowed by law, provided, however, that this ordinance shall have no force or effect whatsoever unless written acceptance of this ordinance is filed by The Ohio Valley Gas Company with the Clerk of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, prior to the expiration of thirty (30) days from the date this ordinance is passed.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 7, 1965

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE EXTENSION OF THE MATURITY OF AN ISSUE OF STREET IMPROVEMENT NOTES (ST. CLAIR AVENUE) DATED MAY 28, 1964, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

Whereas, The City of East Liverpool has heretofore issued pursuant to Ordinance No. 52, 1963 and now has outstanding an issue of Street Improvement Notes (St. Clair Avenue) in the aggregate amount of $348,393 dated May 28, 1964, and maturing by their terms on May 28, 1965, with interest being payable thereon at maturity at the rate of three per centum per annum, which notes were issued in anticipation of the issuance of bonds and the levy and collection of special assessments to pay the property owners' portion and the City's portion of the cost of improving St. Clair Avenue between certain termini, in cooperation with the State of Ohio, by grading, paving and otherwise improving the same; and

WHEREAS, by reason of delays in the completion of such improvement and the levy of assessments therefor, it will be impossible to issue the bonds anticipated by said notes in sufficient time to retire the same at their maturity; and

WHEREAS, the holders of said notes have offered to the City an extention of the maturity thereof, and in order to avoid default on said outstanding notes at their maturity and thereby to preserve the credit of the City, this Council deems it essential to accept and agree to the terms of such offer of extension of maturity;

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio:

SECTION 1. That this Council hereby approved the terms of, and hereby accepts, the offer of the holders of the aforementioned outstanding notes to extend the maturity thereof.

SECTION 2. That the City and its officials shall use their best efforts to complete the proceedings for the authorization, sale and delivery of the bonds anticipated by said notes without delay and within the maturity extension period provided in the aforesaid offer of the holders, to the end that the proceeds of said bonds may be made available at the earliest possible time in order to pay off and retire said outstanding notes and that for the period from May 28, 1965, to such retirement of the notes the City shall pay to the holders thereof interest at the rate of three per centum per annum, such interest to be paid at the same time as the principal of said notes is so paid.

SECTION 3. That the Treasurer shall be and he is hereby authorized and directed promptly upon notification that said outstanding notes have been made available at the offices of the holders, to inspect the same, to endorse on each such note the legend "This note is subject to an extension agreement embodied in Ordinance Number 7 1965 of the City of East Liverpool. Interest has been paid on the note to May 28, 1965", and to pay to the holders of said notes in the appropriate respective amounts the interest accrued thereon to May 28, 1965, at the specified note rate of three per centum per annum. The Treasurer is further authorized and directed to furnish certified copies of this ordinance to said consenting note holders.

SECTION 4. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of said City and for the further reason that, in order to preserve the credit of the City, it is essential to enter into an agreement for extension of maturity of the notes hereinabove referred to; therefore, this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and immediately after its passage and approval by the Mayor.

During Weirton Session

Hancock's 40 & 8 Society Names Sweeney As Head

M. J. Sweeney of East Liverpool, a member of American Legion Post 121 at Chester, was elected chef de gare (commander) of the Hancock County 40 & 8 Society at a meeting Saturday night in the home of American Legion Post 10 at Weirton.

Sweeney succeeds W. Clay Allen of Weirton, who was named cheminot.

Other new officers are:

George LaNeve of Newell Post 114, aumonier; Vito Catenaro of Weirton, avocat; Jesse Wedgewood of Chester, garde de la porte; Everett Brewer of Lawrenceville Post 163, lampiste; Henry Frank of Weirton, commis voyageur, and Dr. J. M. Brand of Chester Post 121, medicin.

The official call was read for the statewide meeting scheduled July 7-8 at Charleston.

The group named three delegates and three alternates for the grand promenade. The delegates are Maki, Sweeney and Allen. The alternates are LaNeve, Robert Warren and John Merriman.

Insallation of the new officers is scheduled Sunday, June 20, at 8 p. m. at the Chester post home. C. William Hosey of Moundsville, grand chef de gare of the West Virginia organization, will be installing officer.

All voyageurs and Legionnaires of the Tri-State District will be invited to the ceremony.

The society made plans to present a diamond - studded pin to Miss May Allison, who is scheduled to be graduated from nurses' training as a recipient of a scholarship sponsored by the 40 & 8.

British Charged With Cheating In Bridge Tourney

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The 13th World Bridge Tournament ended under a cloud of scandal Sunday night as officials of the World Bridge Federation accused two British players of cheating.

The captain of the British team immediately ceded all points it had won, giving the United States second place in the tournament. Italy won the world championship and the "Bermuda Bowl" for the seventh consecutive time. Argentina was third in the four-nation finals.

Federation officials accused Terence Reese and Boris Schapiro of "transmitting information to each other in a prohibited manner" during play. Authoritative sources said they had been using finger signals during bidding.

There was no immediate comment from the two players. But Ralph Swimmer, nonplaying captair of the British team, announced the team would cancel all its wins. At that point the British were slightly ahead of the Americans for second place with one final 20-board series to go.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Atty. Preston Unwinds

Fans in a snit over CBS' canceling of "The Defenders" may be somewhat reconciled to learn that their hero, E. G. Marshall, was leaving his Lawrence Preston role anyway. "Oh, yes, I was quitting. I had signed for just four years, which was long enough. I feel as if I'd stolen a pot of money, served four years in jail, but now the money is mine," says Marshall, smugly. Except for the money, Marshall sees no other legitimate reason for an actor to involve himself in a weekly series.

Hal Humphrey

The only challenge it offers is to one's stamina. Nor does he subscribe to that oft - heard wheeze about an actor "needing the exposure."

-:-

"WHAT GOOD is the exposure? After you've got it, you can't use it because you're stuck in the series," says Marshall.

As the time wore on for Marshall in "The Defenders" he got more and more anxious for the day he would be paroled.

"I even quit flying. If the plane went down, I though to myself, then all of that work would have been for nothing."

Marshall had only a couple of weeks to unwind after filming the last "Defenders" episode in April, then came to Hollywood and Columbia Studios to take a role in the movie, "The Chase," with Marlon Brando and a clutch of other stars.

"ARTHUR PENN, whom I worked with in some of the old TV dramas years ago, is directing 'The Chase.' And it's from a novel and play by Horton Foote, and he also was with us in those 'live' TV days in New York.

"In fact," recalls Marshall, "I was the cotton - chopping tenant farmer in an old TV drama of Foote's called 'The Oil Well,' and I owed the town banker. Foote told me when I signed on for this movie that this time I'd be the banker, and that's what I am."

Marshall had two days of rehearsal before shooting started on "The Chase," and he used it to de-brief himself from four years of being Atty. Lawrence Preston.

"I had the hairdresser give me a more grizzled look. I was tired of that slicked-down hairdress I used in 'The Defenders,' and so was my wife. Reggie Rose, who created 'The Defenders,' had hoped I would wear a mustache, too, but I couldn't grow a decent one of my own and the kind you stick on always worry you."

MARSHALL also has worked up what he calls "a modified East Texas dialect" for his movie part, and that also pleases him since it gets him farther away from Lawrence Preston.

The reader should not get the impression that Marshall hated being Preston. He was tremendously interested in the role and the series, so much so that he took adult education courses in constitutional law and jurisprudence.

"That jurisprudence course I took so that I could make some sense when law groups invited me to speak at their affairs," explains Marshall. "I became a real fan of Justice William O. Douglas and met all of the Supreme Court justices except Warren."

AS A RESULT of his "legal" experiences, Marshall has formed some definite views, one of which is on the subject of whether TV cameras should be allowed in courtrooms.

"Absolutely not! Cameras must be kept out of all courtrooms, unless we are willing to turn justice into some kind of show business.

"We wanted to do a 'Defenders' on that subject," Marshall adds, "but we found there were only two states where judges have allowed TV cameras. This made it too difficult to do."

As far as Marshall is concerned, the most shocking experience he had on the series followed his suggestion that since there are several Negro judges in New York City the series should feature one such in an episode. They did, and hundreds of viewers wrote in to protest.

"What surprised me was that most of the letters came from my part of the country, the Midwest," says Marshall, sadly.

Sheriff Bolsters Force For KKK Meeting In Ohio

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Warren County authorities say they will take no chances with a scheduled Ku Klux Klan rally next weekend.

Sheriff Byron Kennard Sr. said last night his force normally consists of nine men, but he will call in various auxiliaries and reserves—more than a hundred of them—during the three-day rally "to take care of the traffic problem."

"We can't anticipate what these people are going to be doing or what outsiders are going to be involved in it," the sheriff said. "Whether it gets out of the traffic category remains to be seen."

Handbills signed by the Knights of the K.K.K. circulated in the area last weekend announcing that the rally will be held on a farm north of Interstate 71 between Harveysburg and Oregonia.

The handbills say James R. Venable, a Klan leader from Georgia, will speak at 8 p.m. Friday and "cross burnings are scheduled for Saturday and Monday night at 8 p. m."

Columbus Boy Killed

MOREHEAD, Ky. (AP)—A 3-year-old Columbus, Ohio, boy was struck and killed Sunday night when he ran in front of a car as his parents were visiting relatives six miles east of here in Rowan County. The boy was Ray Messer son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Messer.

LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NUMBER 6, 1965

AN ORDINANCE FIXING AND REGULATING THE PRICE THAT MAY BE CHARGED BY THE OHIO VALLEY GAS COMPANY, ITS SUCCESSORS OR ASSIGNS, FOR NATURAL GAS TO THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, AND TO ITS INHABITANTS, FOR THE PERIOD OF TWO (2) YEARS FROM AND AFTER THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS ORDINANCE; AND REPEALING SECTION 5 OF ORDINANCE NO. 8, 1963 PASSED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO ON THE 18TH DAY OF MARCH, 1963, ENTITLED "ORDINANCE NO. 8, 1963 — AND ORDINANCE GRANTING TO THE OHIO VALLEY GAS COMPANY, ITS SUCCESSORS OR ASSIGNS, THE PRIVILEGE TO INSTALL, CONSTRUCT, OPERATE AND MAINTAIN ALL NECESSARY PIPE LINES AND OTHER EQUIPMENT IN AND OUT ON THE STREETS, LANDS, AVENUES, ALLEYS, BRIDGES AND PUBLIC GROUNDS IN THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO FOR THE PURPOSE OF PRODUCING, STORING, CONVEYING, SELLING AND SUPPLYING NATURAL GAS TO THE CITIZENS THEREOF FOR A PERIOD OF FIFTEEN (15) YEARS FROM AND AFTER THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS ORDINANCE; AND FIXING AND REGULATING THE PRICE THAT MAY BE CHARGED BY THE OHIO VALLEY GAS COMPANY, ITS SUCCESSORS OR ASSIGNS, FOR NATURAL GAS TO THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, AND TO ITS INHABITANTS, FOR THE PERIOD OF FOUR (4) YEARS FROM AND AFTER THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS ORDINANCE:

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO:

SECTION 1. That for the period of two (2) years from and after the effective date of this ordinance, the maximum price which The Ohio Valley Gas Company, its successors or assigns, shall be permitted to charge for and the minimum price at which it or they shall be required to furnish natural gas to the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, and to its inhabitants, shall be and the same is hereby fixed for each individual consumer, as follows:

Thirty and one-tenth Cents (30-1-10c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for the first 1,300 cubic feet, used through each meter per month.

Seven and seven hundred twenty-five thousandths Cents (7-725-1000c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for the next 298,700 cubic feet, used through the meter each month;

Seven and one-tenth Cents (7-1-10c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for all in excess of 300,000 cubic feet, used through each meter each month;

LEGAL NOTICES

A Minimum Charge for each customer each month of Two Dollars and Sixty-Five Cents ($2.65) shall be made. If service under this rate schedule is discontinued at the request of customer, The Company shall not be under any obligation to resume service to the same customer on the same premises until the customer has made payment of an amount equal to the minimum monthly charge for each month of the intervening period, but not to exceed twelve (12) months.

FUEL COST CLAUSE

The service rates prescribed above are subject to an adjustment for any change in the rates paid by The Ohio Valley Gas Company (Company) to The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company (Manufacturers) for the purchase of natural gas or for any refund or refunds received from Manufacturers, as hereinafter provided. Manufacturers' rates to the Company are regulated by the Federal Power Commission.

The service rates prescribed above are predicted upon the rate paid by the Company to Manufacturers of $2.70 per month per one thousand (1000) cubic feet of Billing Demand and 35.24c per one thousand (1000) cubic feet for all gas purchased and are hereinafter referred to as the "base rate".

A. Purchased Gas Adjustment

When any change is made in the rate paid by the Company to Manufacturers, the service rates herein shall be increased or decreased in the following manner:

(1) Gas purchased by the Company during the twelve (12) month period ended with the second month preceding the month in which a new rate of Manufacturers is first used in computing the monthly bill to the Company shall be priced:

(a) at the base rate, and

(b) at the new rate.

The difference in the cost of gas purchased computed at the base rate and at the new rate in the manner set forth above, shall be divided by the volume of gas purchased by the Company during the same twelve (12) month period to determine the increase or decrease per one thousand (1000) cubic feet, to the nearest one-hundredth of a cent, which shall be the "purchased gas adjustment".

(2) The service rates shall be increased or decreased by the amount of the purchased gas adjustment as determined in paragraph A (1), effective with bills rendered on and after the 30th day (the effective date) following the date on which a new rate of Manufacturers is first used in computing the monthly bill to the Company; provided that the Company shall have filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and the Clerk of Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, not less than fifteen (15) days prior to the effective date, a computation in support of said purchased gas adjustment, together with a notice that such purchased gas adjustment is to be placed in effect at 12:01 A.M. on the effective date and shall apply to all bills rendered on and after that date.

B. Refund Adjustment

Whenever, during a quarterly period ending each March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31, subsequent to the effective date of this fuel cost clause, the Company received as refund or refunds from Manufacturers, the Company shall decrease the service rates in the following manner:

(1) Dividing such refund or refunds by the actual volumes of gas purchased during the twelve month period ending with the quarter in which the refund or refunds were received. The quotient so determined to the nearest one-hundredth of a cent shall be the "refund adjustment".

(2) The service rates which would otherwise be in effect shall be decreased for a twelve month period commencing on the first day of the third month after the quarterly period in which the refund or refunds were received. The refund adjustment shall terminate at the end of said twelve months.

(3) The Company shall file with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and the Clerk of Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, thirty (30) days prior to the effective date a computation in support of said refund adjustment together with a notice that the refund adjustment will be placed in effect as of 12:01 A.M. on the effective date and shall apply to all bills rendered on and after that date for a twelve month period. Such filing shall also set forth the combined effect of the current purchased gas adjustment and the refund adjustments determined as herein provided for the next four (4) quarterly periods.

(4) When a refund or refunds have been used as a credit to the gas purchased costs under the Company's former fuel cost clause but not for twelve (12) months, the Company shall determine a refund adjustment for such refund or refunds in the same manner as prescribed in paragraph B (1). Said refund adjustment will be applied to the service rates which would otherwise be in effect for the period remaining under the Company's former fuel cost clause. The Company shall file a computation with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and the Clerk of Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, in support of any refund adjustment determined under this paragraph.

SECTION 2. That it is expressly conditioned the service to be rendered by said Company, its successors or assigns, pursuant to this ordinance, shall be primarily for domestic and commercial purposes and that service shall not be extended to other consumers of different classes until after all reasonable requirements for domestic and commercial purposes are full met, and this provision shall be binding upon said Company, its successors or assigns, during each month of each year; but during any month or year, subject to the foregoing limitations and after compliance with the foregoing provisions gas may be delivered to any other consumer and additional classes of consumers at such times and under such conditions and for such rates as may be agreed upon between the Company and such consumer or consumers.

SECTION 3. That Section 5 of Ordinance No. 8, 1963 passed by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio on the 18th day of March, 1963, entitled: "Ordinance No. 8, 1963 — An Ordinance granting to the Ohio Valley Gas Company, its successors or assigns, the privilege to install, construct, operate and maintain all necessary pipe lines and other equipment in and on the streets, lands, avenues, alleys, bridges and public grounds in the City of East Liverpool, Ohio for the purpose of producing, storing, conveying selling and supplying natural gas to the citizens thereof for a period of Fifteen (15) Years from and after the effective date of this ordinance, and fixing and regulating the price that may be charged by The Ohio Valley Gas Company, its successors or assigns, for natural gas to the City of East Liverpool, Ohio and to its inhabitants, for the period of Four (4) Years from and after the effective date of this ordinance;" be and the same is hereby repealed.

SECTION 4. The terms and conditions of the service to be rendered shall conform with and be subject to the Rules and Regulations for furnishing gas service to the Company on file with and approved by The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

SECTION 5. That the natural gas furnished or delivered pursuant to the terms of this ordinance, by the said Company, shall have an average heating value of 1,000 British thermal units per cubic foot for any consecutive twelve (12) month period subject to a variance of not more than five (5) percent upward or downward.

SECTION 6. In the event the State of Ohio or the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, should hereafter impose a tax upon Ohio Valley, that is not now imposed, or should hereafter increase the rate of any tax now imposed upon Ohio Valley above the tax rate now existing, other than the rate on property listed in the real estate tax list and duplicate, then the rates prescribed in Section 1 shall be increased to the extent necessary to compensate Ohio Valley for the increase in cost due to such new tax or higher tax rate. This shall be done in the following manner:

(a) If the new tax or higher tax rate is computed in direct relation to gas sold or revenues received for the sale of gas, the rates set forth herein shall be adjusted to the extent necessary to recompense the Company for the amount thereof.

(b) If the new tax or higher tax rate is not related directly to gas sold or to revenues received for the sale of gas, then the total dollar effect thereof upon the cost of serving gas by Ohio Valley in the City shall be determined, based upon operations of Ohio Valley in the City during the most recently available twelve months period ending on the last day of the December or June, preceding the effective date of the new tax or higher tax rate; the total dollars so computed shall then be divided by the total sales made to the types of customers covered by this Ordinance during the same twelve months period and the rates prescribed herein shall be correspondingly adjusted.

The adjustment of the rates prescribed in this Ordinance, as provided in subparagraphs (a) and (b) above, shall be made by rounding the mathematical result of the computations so prescribed to the nearest one quarter cent (.25c) per one thousand cubic feet.

The adjusted rate shall be placed in effect and shall apply to all meter readings occurring on and after the effective date of the statute, ordinance or resolution, pursuant to which the new tax or increased tax rate is imposed.

Written notification of the adjustment shall be sent to the Clerk of the City as quickly as possible after the effect of the new tax or higher tax rate can be determined.

SECTION 7. That any ordinance or resolution, or part of any ordinance or resolution, inconsistent herewith, is, to the extent of such inconsistency hereby repealed.

SECTION 8. That should any section or a part of a section or provision of a section of this ordinance be declared void, the remainder of this ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

SECTION 9. That this ordinance shall become effective at the earliest date allowed by law, provided, however, that this ordinance shall have no force or effect whatsoever unless written acceptance of this ordinance is filed by The Ohio Valley Gas Company with the Clerk of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, prior to the expiration of thirty (30) days from the date this ordinance is passed.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 7, 1965

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE EXTENSION OF THE MATURITY OF AN ISSUE OF STREET IMPROVEMENT NOTES (ST. CLAIR AVENUE) DATED MAY 28, 1964, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

Whereas, The City of East Liverpool has heretofore issued pursuant to Ordinance No. 52, 1963 and now has outstanding an issue of Street Improvement Notes (St. Clair Avenue) in the aggregate amount of $348,393 dated May 28, 1964, and maturing by their terms on May 28, 1965, with interest being payable thereon at maturity at the rate of three per centum per annum, which notes were issued in anticipation of the issuance of bonds and the levy and collection of special assessments to pay the property owners' portion and the City's portion of the cost of improving St. Clair Avenue between certain termini, in cooperation with the State of Ohio, by grading, paving and otherwise improving the same; and

WHEREAS, by reason of delays in the completion of such improvement and the levy of assessments therefor, it will be impossible to issue the bonds anticipated by said notes in sufficient time to retire the same at their maturity; and

WHEREAS, the holders of said notes have offered to the City an extention of the maturity thereof, and in order to avoid default on said outstanding notes at their maturity and thereby to preserve the credit of the City, this Council deems it essential to accept and agree to the terms of such offer of extension of maturity;

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio:

SECTION 1. That this Council hereby approved the terms of, and hereby accepts, the offer of the holders of the aforementioned outstanding notes to extend the maturity thereof.

SECTION 2. That the City and its officials shall use their best efforts to complete the proceedings for the authorization, sale and delivery of the bonds anticipated by said notes without delay and within the maturity extension period provided in the aforesaid offer of the holders, to the end that the proceeds of said bonds may be made available at the earliest possible time in order to pay off and retire said outstanding notes and that for the period from May 28, 1965, to such retirement of the notes the City shall pay to the holders thereof interest at the rate of three per centum per annum, such interest to be paid at the same time as the principal of said notes is so paid.

SECTION 3. That the Treasurer shall be and he is hereby authorized and directed promptly upon notification that said outstanding notes have been made available at the offices of the holders, to inspect the same, to endorse on each such note the legend "This note is subject to an extension agreement embodied in Ordinance Number 7 1965 of the City of East Liverpool. Interest has been paid on the note to May 28, 1965", and to pay to the holders of said notes in the appropriate respective amounts the interest accrued thereon to May 28, 1965, at the specified note rate of three per centum per annum. The Treasurer is further authorized and directed to furnish certified copies of this ordinance to said consenting note holders.

SECTION 4. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of said City and for the further reason that, in order to preserve the credit of the City, it is essential to enter into an agreement for extension of maturity of the notes hereinabove referred to; therefore, this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and immediately after its passage and approval by the Mayor.

OFF THE RECORD

"I'm worried about his progress in school, Bob—you can still answer all his questions."

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1844, the first official message by telegraph was sent by its inventor, Samuel F.B. Morse, at the opening of a line from Washington to Baltimore. The message: "What Hath God Wrought."

On this date

In 1883, New York's Brooklyn Bridge was opened to the public.

In 1893, the Anti-Saloon League was founded in Oberlin, Ohio.

In 1941, the German battleship Bismarck sank the British battle cruiser Hood.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

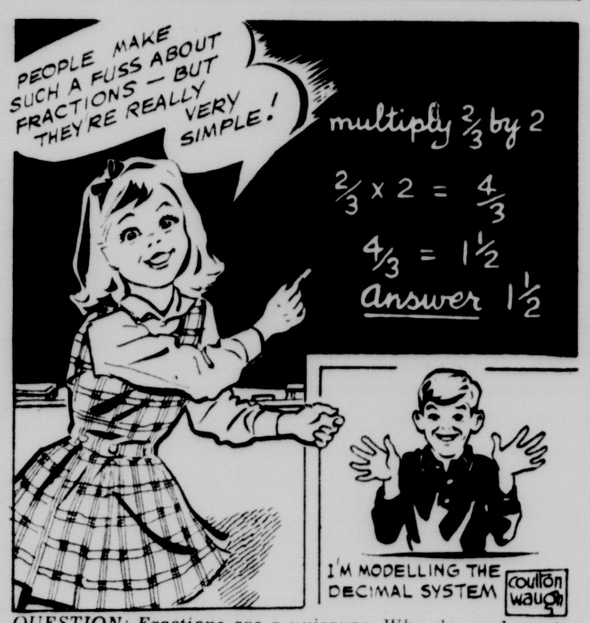

Q.—How can I eliminate "carpenter ants"?

Q.—How can I clean zinc?

Junior Editors Quiz on FRACTIONS

QUESTION: Fractions are a nuisance. Why do we have to use them?

ANSWER: Why get angry at fractions when you use them every day? Think of how useful they are. You stop at the store for ½ a pint of ice cream — ½ is a fraction. You have one candy bar and there are three of you. You want to be fair, so you divide the bar so each gets 1/3, another fraction. You are cutting a cake for six people. You cut the cake in half, divide each half into three so each person gets 1/6 of the cake—fractions again!

A fraction is a part taken from something. Fractions can be written as in ½, where one is the numerator or number of parts being taken and two is the denominator, which shows the number of parts some whole thing has been divided into. Another way of writing certain fractions is to use the decimal system. This system, where numbers are related to units of ten, is very old. It probably developed because ancient man found his ten fingers easy to reckon on. If he wanted to express ½, he could hold up five fingers. Nowadays, we would write such a decimal fraction as .5, the same thing as ½. Fractions may look puzzling, but if you take them step by step, you won't have trouble learning them. As Karen is saying in the picture, they are really very simple.

FOR YOU TO DO: Cut out the picture and show it to your friend without comment. Watch them closely to see their eyes pop when they discover a mistake printed in the newspaper. But don't write to us, telling us that 4/3 equals 1-⅓ instead of 1-½. We know that — we put the mistake in so you could have some fun with your friends.

Carol Weigel of Jersey Shore, Pa., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

New York Man Held As Unlicensed Doctor

NEW YORK (AP) — Daniel Bostick, 24, played the role of an interne at Harlem Hospital for six weeks before he was spotted by a hospital official.

Bostick, a Negro, was arraigned Saturday in criminal court on charges of practicing medicine without a license and impersonating a doctor.

He told Judge Neal P. Bottiglieri: "I wanted to do good for people. I never had a chance to be a doctor, so I just acted the part."

Second Senator 'Dies' Typographical Death

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oops! Another U.S. senator has been erroneously listed as dead.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., reported today that he was described as "the late Senator Mundt" in a volume entitled "The Politics of the Budgetary Process."

Mundt said he complained of the "rather premature announcement of my demise."

Earlier this year, Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., ran up against a similar situation in a different book.

Liver should be cooked within 24 hours after purchase; if it is not prepared within that period, put it in the freezer.
